President, Reagan In Even Split

Church Upsets Carter In Nebraska Vote

By DAVE GOLDBERG
Associated Press Writer

Ronald Reagan has scored another key triumph in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination, but President Ford has come up with a victory of his own. Frank Church, meanwhile, has scored an upset in his Democratic primary debut.

Reagan continued his recent string of successes by capturing Tuesday's Nebraska primary, his second victory outside the Southern and Southwestern states that are supposed to be his strongholds. Ford, however, gained a split on the day by winning decisively in West Virginia.

Church, running in his first primary, upset Jimmy Carter in Nebraska and provided some hope for Democrats who want to stop the former Georgia governor from sweeping to the nomination. Carter won the party-run primary in Connecticut, but by a narrow margin over Rep. Morris K. Udall.

In the day's other Democratic contest, Sen. Robert C. Byrd, a favorite son, won in West Virginia with almost 90 per cent of the vote over Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, the only other candidate on the ballot.

These were the figures in the key races:

In Nebraska, with 87 per cent of the vote counted, Ford had 111,840 votes, or 54 per cent, to 92,833 or 46 per cent, for Ford. In the separate race for the state's 23 nominating delegates, Reagan led for 17 and Ford for eight with 41 per cent of the vote in.

In West Virginia, with 80 per cent of the vote counted, Ford had 67,467, or 56 per cent, to 52,201, or 44 per cent, for Reagan. The race for the 23 delegates was separate and they are by law nominally uncontested.

In the Nebraska Democratic race, with 97 per cent of the vote, Church had 66,683 or 38 per cent of the votes to 84,811 or 38 per cent, for Carter. Church led for 15 delegates to eight for the former Georgia governor with 83 per cent of the count in. Nebraska has 23 Democratic delegates.

In the party-run Connecticut primary, Carter finished with 35,415 votes or 33 per cent to 32,850, or 31 per cent, for Udall. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, of Washington, who was backed by Gov. Ella Grasso and many party leaders, was third with 18,632.

Connecticut's 51 nominating delegates will be chosen later under a complex system of apportionment. Tuesday's results project out to 17 for Carter, 15 for Udall, 5 for Jackson and the rest uncommitted, but that could easily change.

In West Virginia, with 79 per cent of the vote counted, Byrd had 246,001 or 80 per cent to 31,988 or 11 per cent for Wallace. Reagan, who won key primaries in Texas and Indiana with the help of Democratic crossover voters, noted that such switching is not allowed in

Berrien Given '50-50' Chance For Fourth Judge

By JERRY KRIEGER
Farm and Features Editor
LANSING — Berrien county's chances of getting a fourth circuit judgeship approved by the legislature this year are "50-50, or maybe only 40-60," according to State Rep. Ray Mittan, R-Niles.

The House Tuesday refused to go along with a Senate-approved bill that would create new circuit judge seats in five more counties than the House approved earlier. The House in March passed a bill that added judges in six other counties.

The House rejection, 80 to 5, of the Senate's bill sent the matter to a joint conference committee from the House and Senate.

Mittan said today the House yesterday voted down the Senate's increase in the number of new judgeships as a usual courtesy to the chairman of its judiciary committee. House Judiciary Committee Chairman Rep. Paul Rosenbaum of Calhoun county objected to any more than the six new judgeships approved earlier in the House version of the bill, according to Mittan, on the basis of increasing state expenses at a time when the state is strapped.

Mittan said State Reps. Harry Gast and Bela Kennedy and himself were three of the five who voted for the Senate-approved bill.

Mittan said whatever action takes place in the joint committee now must occur quickly. He said Judiciary Chairman Rosenbaum indicated the deadline for the joint committee to act probably might be as early as tomorrow.

The deadline for candidates to file for the position if an extra judgeship is established for Berrien is 4 p.m. on June 1, Mittan said.

The bill approved Monday by the Senate had included new judges for six additional counties, but the one for Macomb county was eliminated after the Macomb county board of commissioners refused to support an added judge there. Other counties in line for another judge, if the Senate's bill prevails in the joint conference committee, in addition to Berrien, are Ionia, Montcalm, Clinton-Gratiot and Midland.

Woman Carried Calcified Fetus For Quarter-Century

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An elderly woman who apparently carried a calcified fetus in her abdomen for a quarter-century without knowing it has died at a hospital here. Dr. Philip Lightfoot said a hardened fetus was removed from the abdomen of 75-year-old Rosa Washington of Montgomery last Friday during surgery for a gunshot wound suffered in a family quarrel earlier in the day. Mrs. Washington died late Tuesday at Jackson Hospital.

Based on information from the patient's family, Lightfoot said she probably had been carrying the undeveloped fetus since the early 1950s. He said the fetus, the result of a rare abdominal pregnancy, appeared to be nearly full-term. A family member said Mrs. Washington complained of severe abdominal pain while lifting a heavy tub 24 years ago. The condition was diagnosed as a tumor, but she declined surgery and sought no further treatment, the family member said.

Relatives say the elderly woman was spry and active in recent years and appeared to be in good health.

Gary Mayor To Speak In BH Tonight

Mayor Richard G. Hatcher of Gary, Ind., will speak on "Benton Harbor Is Worth Saving," at 7 o'clock, tonight, at the Benton Harbor public library, according to Benton Harbor City Commissioner Helen Ford.

Junior Achievement operates at 813 Highland avenue, St. Joseph. Awards were presented at the "Future Unlimited" banquet last night at Lake Michigan College.

Speaker at the banquet at Lake Michigan college was Fred A. Reddel, Jr., president of Dynac Corp., St. Joseph, who commended Junior Achievers for their "spirit of free enterprise."

Reddel defined the spirit of free enterprise as "a willingness to venture — a readiness to risk or try something untried — energy and initiative."

Reddel said it was this spirit and the preservation of freedoms that has kept the free enterprise system "alive and well."

"Keeping the free enterprise system alive requires that we square practices with principles by refusing government subsidies, quotas, handouts, bailouts, or other inducements that offer an illusory, empty promise of security in exchange for sacrifices of freedom," Reddel said. "We must eliminate the abuses from all programs whether they be in the private or public sector."

Among awards presented to Achievers were:

Achiever scholarships of $500 each to Brian McFall, a senior at St. Joseph high school; Kevin Murphy, a senior at Benton Harbor high school, and Roberta Richards, a senior at Lakeshore high school. Judging

Junior Achievement Marks Record Year

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

Nine companies of Junior Achievement of Blossomland, Inc., reviewed new records in "sales, profits and employment" last night at a banquet honoring their success.

The "companies" are run by 225 teenage Junior Achievement members who run the "miniature" companies from capitalization to liquidation from October to May with the aid of volunteer adult advisers from area business and industry.

The nine companies, made up of high school students from Benton Harbor, Lakeshore, Lake Michigan Catholic and St. Joseph, learn the fundamentals of private enterprise by organizing their own companies as part of the Blossomland, Inc., Junior Achievement program.

The companies sold more than $9,602 worth of products this year, the highest in the local Junior Achievement's four-year history. Profits for the nine companies before taxes amounted to $1,014.

The number of teenagers enrolled in the program was also the highest in the program's history with 225 "employed" as workers and officers in the nine companies.

Berrien County Goliath Trumps David

In 1928 the Scripps Howard newspaper chain, as a promotional effort for its publications, created the National Spelling Bee.

The contest gave a lift to an old time instructional aid in English that once was standard practice in the lower and middle school grades.

While participation is by no means universal, the concept of a national spelling champion does parallel the difference between Miss America and the Beauty Queen of Apaloosa Township.

Two years ago several schools in our area entered the competition. The recent entry follows a lapse of several years.

Though yet to place a winner, the local contests have stirred interest among the faculties and students, and given time the scholastic diadem may come to rest at one of the schools.

Mrs. Julia Ostrom, of Berrien Springs, might dispute that prediction.

Since the countywide finals for Berrien county schools held on February 25th, she has been in a running battle with the rules of the game and those officiating it.

Her 11-year-old grandson, David Grau, an eighth grader in the Berrien Springs system, appeared well on his way to surviving the local eliminations until he tripped over a booby trap not of his making.

Coming down to the wire, he was told to spell incompatibility.

This he did as written above.

Wrong, intoned the contest chairman.

According to his check list, one prepared by teachers supervising the contest, the word should be spelled: I-n-c-o-m-p-a-t-i-b-i-l-i-t-y.

David's coach happened to be out of the room at the time.

He did not challenge the chairman's ruling, nor go into detail on the ruling with his coach when she returned to the scene of scholastic combat.

Two days later, a playback of the proceeding's tape recordings showed that David was right and his adult check list was off base.

He received profuse apologies for being called out on a bum play, but as Woody Hayes, Ohio State's voluble and venerable football coach, can speak from experience, there's no replaying the game simply because the referee made an erroneous call. In fact, under Big Ten and NCAA rules, the defrauded coach can be sidelined from his job if he describes the referee's talents in too unflattering terminology.

Grandma Ostrom's opinion of the local contest is somewhat below the lofty standard proclaimed by those masterminding collegiate sports, and we think her point is well taken.

The contest managers make much of David not challenging the ruling.

A college student is not above taking issue with a classroom professor, but is an 11-year-old expected to display the maturity of someone twice his age?

Then what about the check list itself?

Presumably it should be letter perfect inasmuch as the contestant wins or loses by it.

From this distance, it would appear the teachers who made up the list could stand some indoctrination with Webster's Third International.

Better yet for future contests don't make up a check list at all. Just call out the words at random from the dictionary.

There's no guaranty that had David not been sidetracked he would go on to win the $1,000 cash award for first place in the National Spelling Bee next month at Washington, nor even pick up a $50 consolation prize.

Neither does Grandma Ostrom want the local winners disqualified.

She and David and the boy's parents, though, are entitled to something more than a "we goofed" pat on the head.

David should be permitted to go on to the Washington finals as a wild card entrant.

Adults can only appear ridiculous for penalizing a youngster by their managerial errors.

U.S. Voter Turnout Small By Comparison

There is some expectation of a record turnout of voters this year. But the vote will still fall short of the total in many countries.

In Italy, 93 per cent of the citizens customarily vote; in West Germany, 88 per cent; in Britain, 77 per cent and in Japan, 74 per cent. This is regarded by many as uncomplimentary to Americans, who are lucky in some elections to bring 50 per cent to the polls. So get-out-the-vote enthusiasts try harder each election year.

Others figure that massive efforts to get everybody to vote run the risk of diluting the quality of the nation's political processes. Some citizens simply are not interested, do not inform themselves on the issues or the personalities, and it is no boost to the quality of government to urge them to the polls.

In a close race the uninformed vote might decide the outcome.

The voter registration drives by both parties have become a standard fixture, but what effect they have on the eventual outcome has never been clearly defined.

Guess What's Staging Comeback!

Another report is making the rounds that ballroom dancing is staging a comeback. Dance schools also report increasing interest in learning such steps as the fox trot.

Something seems to happen between the instruction and the dance floor, because the more exotic and athletic steps still hold sway in public. Could it be that what pass for dance bands also need instruction in the type of music a dancer can step off to in approximate syncopation with his partner?

Perhaps it is only a matter of time. The latest report indicates it is the late teens and early twenties group which is seriously interested in ballroom dancing. It is something new for that age group, of course, which may be part of the attraction.

But also the word may be getting around that it is kind of nice to hold a partner while moving about the dance floor, and perhaps even coo sweet nothings into his or her ear. And that, very decidedly, cannot be done to the accompaniment of rock music.

I would like to take this opportunity to apologize for the poor behavior that our children showed. I don't know who threw the rocks, but as a parent I feel we are all responsible, because so many of us send our children to the Parade without adult supervision.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF PET RABBIT

Editor,

It seems strange after a complaint of a pet rabbit being in our yard and it disappears. Like Berrien County sheriff department said, "I suppose another animal got it." But what about the cage being taken and not primed?

If the senior citizens would stop complaining about a dog barking, a rabbit, and mind their own business, it would be a better world. It doesn't stop him from poking at our dog even though they have a high fence. I only hope the rabbit is happy and if it ends up in stew, I hope it makes their conscience hurt.

MAKES UP OWN QUESTIONNAIRE

Editor,

What a surprise it was for me to find on the back page of section four of Thursday's paper that Rep. Hutchinson endorsed Lee Boothby for the 4th District Congressional Seat. Come on, now, Editor, this is an election year and it seems to me that you might want to put this item in a more prominent place than page 40 of your paper. If you had put it in a more prominent place perhaps more people could have discovered what the qualifications are for the congressional seat as stated by Rep. Hutchinson. Based upon his statement I've made up a little questionnaire which your readers might use to determine if they might be qualified to run for the 4th district seat. A simple yes or no to each question will suffice.

1. Are you fresh from the people and not a member of the Washington establishment? So far everyone should still be in except Rep. Hutchinson.

2. Do you have experience and maturity? All of you under 40 need not apply. After all, youth breeds ideas.

3. Are you a conservative Republican? Democrats and other assorted pinkies need not apply.

4. Are you a married man with children? Sorry, girls you haven't come as far as you thought in this district. Single men, you're still in the ballgame but you'd better find that divorcee with kids before election day.

5. Are you a lawyer? If you can't say yes to this question then accept the fact that you're a second-class citizen and turn to the funny pages.

6. Do you know what it means to make a living in the private sector of the economy? This may eliminate a lot of you who answered yes to question number 5.

If you answered yes to all six questions above, then you, like Mr. Boothby, rate Rep. Hutchinson's endorsement. I for one don't qualify but would like to throw Richard Nixon's name into the ring for consideration if he can be persuaded to move here from California. He can answer all of the above questions yes or at least he could be persuaded to if it would be politically expedient.

A new church building costing $200,000 is being planned by the Congregationalists of Benton Harbor to take the place of the structure destroyed by fire last winter. The building committee of the church met Tuesday and practically agreed on this cost. This will be exclusive of the furnishings. Including the furnishings and the $25,000 organ which J.N. Mr. Hunter is the architect of the Metropolitan Methodist church of Detroit, a beautiful church edifice that cost a million and a half. No action has yet been taken on the proposal to buy the property immediately adjoining the church site and erect the new building in the center of the block bounded by Bellevue, Pipestone and Broadway. It will probably be a year before the new church is completed and ready for services.

Jimmy Carter's Southern Assets

WASHINGTON — Jimmy Carter is not surprised that his Southern background, which might have been a political handicap only a few years ago, has developed into a definite asset in his presidential campaign.

Worried about that very problem, Carter commissioned a private nationwide poll a year before the primaries to determine the extent and nature of anti-Southern bias in the rest of the country. The survey, conducted by Cambridge Reports, Inc. of Massachusetts, indicated that Southern regional pride is stronger than anti-Southern prejudice elsewhere and predicted that "being from the South may be more of an asset than a liability."

Indeed, Carter has taken the Democratic primaries in Dixie like Grant took Richmond. He will not only have virtually solid Southern support at the convention but may be able to snatch the region in the general election.

Those who said they opposed a Southerner as president picked as adjectives most likely to describe him "bigoted, traditional, changing, intolerant and conservative." The survey concluded that the word "bigoted" was at the bottom of anti-Southern bias and that Carter would be accepted by those voters if he demonstrated his past performance on civil rights.

The survey also asked why voters would object to a Southerner president. Prejudice was the reason for 37 per cent; too conservative for 14 per cent; The Civil War was cited by 5 per cent; 160 years later.

"The Wallace-Maddox stereotypes of the Southern politician come through in most of these responses," the survey noted. "Once Carter becomes better known as a new Southern moderate, these biases should disappear. . . . It will be important for the campaign to emphasize Carter's difference from the stereotypes." As indeed he has, and as indeed it has.

Berrien County Goliath Trumps David

In 1928 the Scripps Howard newspaper chain, as a promotional effort for its publications, created the National Spelling Bee.

The contest gave a lift to an old time instructional aid in English that once was standard practice in the lower and middle school grades.

While participation is by no means universal, the concept of a national spelling champion does parallel the difference between Miss America and the Beauty Queen of Apaloosa Township.

Two years ago several schools in our area entered the competition. The re-entry follows a lapse of several years.

Though yet to place a winner, the local contests have stirred interest among the faculties and students, and given time the scholastic diadem may come to rest at one of the schools.

Mrs. Julia Ostrom, of Berrien Springs, might dispute that prediction.

Since the countywide finals for Berrien county schools held on February 25th, she has been in a running battle with the rules of the game and those officiating it.

Her 11-year-old grandson, David Grau, an eighth grader in the Berrien Springs system, appeared well on his way to surviving the local eliminations until he tripped over a booby trap not of his making.

Coming down to the wire, he was told to spell incompatibility.

This he did as written above.

Wrong, intoned the contest chairman.

According to his check list, one prepared by teachers supervising the contest, the word should be spelled: I-n-c-o-m-p-a-t-i-b-i-l-i-t-y.

David's coach happened to be out of the room at the time.

Two days later, a playback of the proceeding's tape recordings showed that David was right and his adult check list was off base.

He received profuse apologies for being called out on a bum play, but as Woody Hayes, Ohio State's voluble and venerable football coach, can speak from experience, there's no replaying the game simply because the referee made an erroneous call. In fact, under Big Ten and NCAA rules, the defrauded coach can be sidelined from his job if he describes the referee's talents in too unflattering terminology.

Grandma Ostrum's opinion of the local contest is somewhat below the lofty standard proclaimed by those masterminding collegiate sports, and we think her point is well taken.

The contest managers make much of David not challenging the ruling.

A college student is not above taking issue with a classroom professor, but is an 11-year-old expected to display the maturity of someone twice his age?

Then what about the check list itself?

Presumably it should be letter perfect inasmuch as the contestant wins or loses by it.

From this distance, it would appear the teachers who made up the list could stand some indoctrination with Webster's Third International.

Better yet for future contests don't make up a check list at all. Just call out the words at random from the dictionary.

There's no guaranty that had David not been sidetracked he would go on to win the $1,000 cash award for first place in the National Spelling Bee next month at Washington, nor even pick up a $50 consolation prize.

Neither does Grandma Ostrum want the local winners disqualified.

She and David and the boy's parents, though, are entitled to something more than a "we goofed" pat on the head.

David should be permitted to go on to the Washington finals as a wild card entrant.

Adults can only appear ridiculous for penalizing a youngster by their managerial errors.

U.S. Voter Turnout Small By Comparison

There is some expectation of a record turnout of voters this year. But the vote will still fall short of the total in many countries.

In Italy, 93 per cent of the citizens customarily vote; in West Germany, 88 per cent; in Britain, 77 per cent and in Japan, 74 per cent. This is regarded by many as uncomplimentary to Americans, who are lucky in some elections to bring 50 per cent to the polls. So get-out-the-vote enthusiasts try harder each election year.

Others figure that massive efforts to get everybody to vote run the risk of diluting the quality of the nation's political processes. Some citizens simply are not interested, do not inform themselves on the issues or the personalities, and it is no boost to the quality of government to urge them to the polls.

In a close race the uninformed vote might decide the outcome.

The voter registration drives by both parties have become a standard fixture, but what effect they have on the eventual outcome has never been clearly defined.

Guess What's Staging Comeback!

Another report is making the rounds that ballroom dancing is staging a comeback. Dance schools also report increasing interest in learning such steps as the fox trot.

Something seems to happen between the instruction and the dance floor, because the more exotic and athletic steps still hold sway in public. Could it be that what pass for dance bands also need instruction in the type of music a dancer can step off to in approximate syncopation with his partner?

Perhaps it is only a matter of time. The latest report indicates it is the late teens and early twenties group which is seriously interested in ballroom dancing. It is something new for that age group, of course, which may be part of the attraction.

But also the word may be getting around that it is kind of nice to hold a partner while moving about the dance floor, and perhaps even coo sweet nothings into his or her ear. And that, very decidedly, cannot be done to the accompaniment of rock music.

Jimmy Carter's Southern Assets

Indeed, Carter has taken the Democratic primaries in Dixie like Grant took Richmond. He will not only have virtually solid Southern support at the convention but may be able to snatch the region in the general election from the Republicans, who have counted upon it in recent closely fought contests.

Carter is the first Southern-based presidential candidate to get so close to the White House since the Civil War, without having first succeeded to that office from the vice presidency. Lyndon Johnson, the first Southerner to occupy the job in 100 years, always felt that many of his difficulties stemmed from Northern resentment of his origins. Ironically, it was Johnson who was responsible for the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which made it possible for blacks to enter the social mainstream and helped to take the stigma of racial discrimination off the backs of white Southern politicians.

To test for regional bias, the Carter survey asked respondents which area of the country they would not wish to have their president come from. Nearly two-thirds, or 61 per cent, didn't care; 17 per cent said the South. The strongest anti-Southern bias came from residents of the Northeast, Midwest and Pacific states.

Those who said they opposed a Southerner as president picked as adjectives most likely to describe him "bigoted, traditional, changing, intolerant and conservative." The survey concluded that the word "bigoted" was at the bottom of anti-Southern bias and that Carter would be accepted by those voters if he demonstrated his past performance on civil rights.

Ex-Mayor Receptive To City Seat

Former Benton Harbor Mayor Wilbert Smith said today he would accept an interim appointment to any one of three city commission seats in event incumbents are ousted by recall.

Smith said the posts are mayor, commissioner-at-large and Fourth Ward commissioner. Those are among five on the ballot in next Tuesday's Benton Harbor recall election.

Temporary appointments to fill recalled commission seats would be made by either the governor or remaining members of the commission, depending on how many commissioners would be recalled.

An election also would be scheduled to fill the balance of the term of any recalled official. The temporary appointments would serve until after the election.

WGN Weatherman Visits SJ School

STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

A little bit of Lincoln elementary school, St. Joseph, appeared on the weather forecast of WGN-TV, Chicago, last night.

Forecaster Harry Volkman was wearing a boutonniere presented to him by Lincoln students when he made a guest appearance at Lincoln yesterday.

Visiting schools and receiving a boutonniere are a tradition with the WGN meteorologist, but yesterday was the first time he had visited a school in Michigan.

Volkman accepted an invitation from Gerald Stemm's sixth grade class to visit Lincoln, 1102 Orchard avenue. Volkman said he has been appearing at schools for 20 years.

Stemm explained the students decided to invite Volkman after reading two articles Volkman had written on weather in text books. Each student wrote a letter of invitation and the one judged best was sent to Volkman last fall. That letter was by Tom Mikkelsen, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Mikkelsen, 1308 Marion avenue.

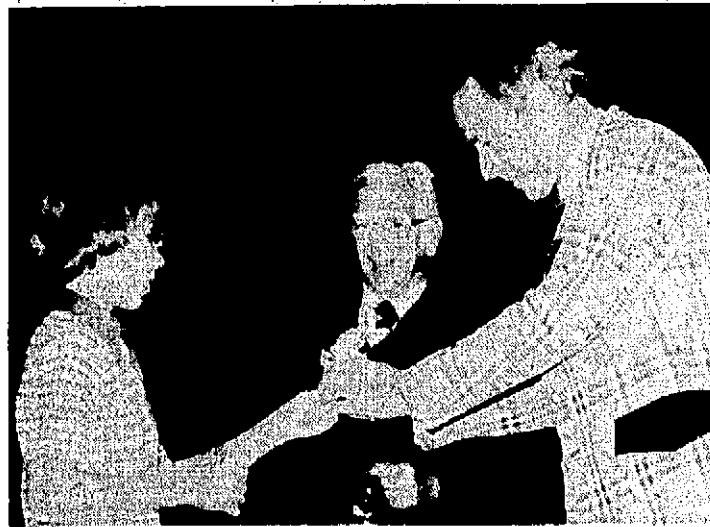

Stemm said they received a reply from Volkman about two weeks ago saying he would be at the school. Much of yesterday was spent by Volkman visiting the various classes at the school. He discussed the different facets of being a weatherman and answered questions ranging from what it was like to be on TV to if he would mention a particular classroom during his telecast.

Volkman is a professional meteorologist, unlike some other television weather personalities.

Volkman explained that he feels badly when he makes a forecast that goes wrong. He said, "I can't be that detached. I do have some feeling about a bad forecast." He added, "I'm my own worst critic. I never feel I've done the best I can do."

Volkman said it takes an hour and a half to prepare for his 2-3 minute stint on two nightly newscasts. However, he voiced concern that the public is being led to believe that "anyone can do it" because of the humorous antics of colleagues on other stations.

WINDY CITY WEATHERMAN: Harry Volkman, weatherman for WGN TV and radio, Chicago, was at Lincoln elementary school, St. Joseph, yesterday. Volkman received boutonniere from Tom Mikkelsen, 12. # Four Now Seek Two Seats On SJ Board

A. Wayne Bentz, 34, is the fourth candidate to file nominating petitions for the St. Joseph board of education which has two expiring seats at stake in the June 14 election.

Bentz, 1380 Wilson road, lives in the southern part of the district and said that is a major reason for his candidacy. He noted only two present board members live outside the city limits south of St. Joseph, and one of the incumbents isn't seeking re-election.

"South St. Joseph is definitely under-represented on the board," he said.

Other announced candidates are Mrs. Caryl DaDan, incumbent Mrs. Freda Sparks, and William Bellman. The deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Monday at the office of School Business Manager Dennis Perry, 2214 South State street.

Bentz is employed by Cities Service Oil Co. real estate division and has been a resident of the St. Joseph school district five years.

He formerly lived in Baltimore county, Md., attended Baltimore Business college and took courses from Johns Hopkins university and University of Michigan.

Bentz has been on the North Lincoln elementary school PTA executive board four years and is president. He and his wife, Patricia, have four children, three of whom are in the St. Joseph school system.

Bentz is a member of St. Joseph Lions club, First United Methodist church and a committee member of Boy Scout Troop 629.

Lincoln Learns 42 Old Trees Must Go

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

The Lincoln township board was informed last night that 42 old maple trees along Cleveland avenue must go when Berrien county road commission crews begin widening the road from Glenford avenue south to Marquette Woods road.

In a letter to Ernest Hauch, township supervisor, Thomas Webb, road commission engineer-manager, stated that 42 trees had to be removed to permit the widening. He said a revision of plans had resulted in a reduction in the number involved from 54 to 42, however.

Webb said that of the number to be removed, 24 must be removed because they are in fill areas and cannot be reserved; 13 are within cut areas which necessitate their removal; 2 are too close to the roadway; 2 are within the ditch line; and 1 has been requested to be removed by the property owner.

At last month's meeting

numerous Cleveland avenue residents were on hand seeking a way to save the trees. Spokesmen for the opponents contended the trees were scheduled for removal because of ditches planned along the road and that the ditches were not needed.

Webb's letter was in response to a board question on the tree issue which resulted because of the opposition.

"Even if there were no ditches on the project, the trees in the cut or fill areas must be removed," Webb said in his letter.

The county official added that changes "...in the road grade were considered but it was found that any major changes in elevation at one location would restrict sight distance along the road or result in making access to abutting property unsafe due to steepened grades or driveways."

He said areas of cut and fill are determined by the grade of the road.

BH Schools To Present Annual Arts Festival

The Benton Harbor school district's Festival of the Arts this week is an umbrella show covering all performing and creative talents from music, dramatics, painting and crafts to homemaking mechanical skills, and physical education

The festival opens tomorrow and continues through Sunday. It represents the combined efforts of some 2,500 students and their teachers throughout the district at all grade levels.

All events will be at Benton Harbor high school and there will be a Bicentennial theme. This is the first year that bands and choirs will be able display their talents in the new performing arts center.

Fatrice Wynn and Robert Catania of the district's faculty head a large committee planning the festival that they intend to be "the best yet." The festival annually draws thousands of district residents to view student projects, many of which have been months in the making.

The festival coincides with National Metric Week as declared by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and a Metric Mall will be open in the lobby starting Friday. The mall will display materials used to teach children the metric system and enable adults to test the X-rated theorem: "If your height in centimeters less your weight in kilograms equals 100 or more, then you are in great shape."

The mall was developed by Mary E. Reed and Arnold F. Fege, co-editors of the Metric News; Kathryn Macklin and Wendell Martin, co-chairmen of the mathematics curriculum, and Jim Klug, president of Mu Alpha Theta, BHHS math club.

WGN Weatherman Visits SJ School

STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

A little bit of Lincoln elementary school, St. Joseph, appeared on the weather forecast of WGN-TV, Chicago, last night.

Forecaster Harry Volkman was wearing a boutonniere presented to him by Lincoln students when he made a guest appearance at Lincoln yesterday.

Visiting schools and receiving a boutonniere are a tradition with the WGN meteorologist, but yesterday was the first time he had visited a school in Michigan.

Volkman accepted an invitation from Gerald Stemm's sixth grade class to visit Lincoln, 1102 Orchard avenue. Volkman said he has been appearing at schools for 20 years.

Stemm explained the students decided to invite Volkman after reading two articles Volkman had written on weather in text books. Each student wrote a letter of invitation and the one judged best was sent to Volkman last fall. That letter was by Tom Mikkelsen, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Mikkelsen, 1308 Marion avenue.

Stemm said they received a reply from Volkman about two weeks ago saying he would be at the school. Much of yesterday was spent by Volkman visiting the various classes at the school. He discussed the different facets of being a weatherman and answered questions ranging from what it was like to be on TV to if he would mention a particular classroom during his telecast.

Volkman is a professional meteorologist, unlike some other television weather personalities.

Volkman explained that he feels badly when he makes a forecast that goes wrong. He said, "I can't be that detached. I do have some feeling about a bad forecast." He added, "I'm my own worst critic. I never feel I've done the best I can do."

Volkman said it takes an hour and a half to prepare for his 2-3 minute stint on two nightly newscasts. However, he voiced concern that the public is being led to believe that "anyone can do it" because of the humorous antics of colleagues on other stations.

Tom wrote letter asking Volkman to visit school. In background is Tom's teacher, Gerald Stemm. (Staff photo)

Four Now Seek Two Seats On SJ Board

A. Wayne Bentz, 34, is the fourth candidate to file nominating petitions for the St. Joseph board of education which has two expiring seats at stake in the June 14 election.

Bentz, 1389 Wilson road, lives in the southern part of the district and said that is a major reason for his candidacy. He noted only two present board members live outside the city limits south of St. Joseph, and one of the incumbents isn't seeking re-election.

"South St. Joseph is definitely under-represented on the board," he said.

Other announced candidates are Mrs. Caryl DaDan, incumbent Mrs. Fredda Sparks, and William Beilman. The deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Monday at the office of School Business Manager Dennis Percy, 2214 South State street.

Bentz is employed by Cities Service Oil Co. real estate division and has been a resident of the St. Joseph school district five years.

He formerly lived in Baltimore county, Md., attended Baltimore Business college and took courses from Johns Hopkins university and University of Michigan.

Bentz has been on the North Lincoln elementary school PTA executive board four years and is president. He and his wife, Patricia, have four children, three of whom are in the St. Joseph school system.

Bentz is a member of St. Joseph Lions club, First United Methodist church and a committee member of Boy Scout Troop 629.

Ex-Mayor Receptive To City Seat

Former Benton Harbor Mayor Wilbert Smith said today he would accept an interim appointment to any one of three city commission seats in event incumbents are ousted by recall.

Smith said the posts are mayor, commissioner-at-large and Fourth Ward commissioner. Those are among five on the ballot in next Tuesday's Benton Harbor recall election.

Temporary appointments to fill recalled commission seats would be made by either the governor or remaining members of the commission, depending on how many commissioners would be recalled.

An election also would be scheduled to fill the balance of the term of any recalled official. The temporary appointees would serve until after the election.

Lincoln Learns 42 Old Trees Must Go

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

The Lincoln township board was informed last night that 42 old maple trees along Cleveland avenue must go when Berrien county road commission crews begin widening the road from Glenford avenue south to Marquette Woods road.

In a letter to Ernest Hauch, township supervisor, Thomas Webb, road commission engineer-manager, stated that 42 trees had to be removed to permit the widening. He said a revision of plans had resulted in a reduction in the number involved from 54 to 42, however.

Webb said that of the number to be removed, 24 must be removed because they are in fill areas and cannot be reserved; 13 are within cut areas which necessitate their removal; 2 are too close to the roadway; 2 are within the ditch line; and 1 has been requested to be removed by the property owner.

At last month's meeting

numerous Cleveland avenue residents were on hand seeking a way to save the trees. Spokesmen for the opponents contended the trees were scheduled for removal because of ditches planned along the road and that the ditches were not needed.

Webb's letter was in response to a board question on the tree issue which resulted because of the opposition.

"Even if there were no ditches on the project, the trees in the cut or fill areas must be removed," Webb said in his letter.

The county official added that changes "...in the road grade were considered but it was found that any major changes in elevation at one location would restrict sight distance along the road or result in making access to abutting property unsafe due to steepened grades of driveways."

He said areas of cut and fill are determined by the grade of the road.

Hauch said he and Webb would contact every property owner involved, at the property owners' request and give the owner an on-site explanation of what is going to happen to his property.

INSPIRING '1776' A Hit

By ARLYS DERRICK
Women's Editor

From the first beat of the drum to the dramatic finale of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Monday night's presentation of "1776" was a stirring and cheering experience.

Performed in Lakeshore high school auditorium under sponsorship of Civic Benefit club, the show is American history set to music, portraying the tense days of debate at the first session of the Continental Congress.

The signers of the Declaration of Independence come to life, each with his own talent — from fiery John Adams (a man of commitment) as portrayed by Don Perkins to wily Ben Franklin (Sam Kressen), from clever Thomas Jefferson (Nick Stanpard) to diplomatic John Hancock (Gill Martin).

Others among the courageous signers include Dr. Josiah Bartlett, New Hampshire, (Jonathan Ball); Stephen Hopkins, Rhode Island, (Robert Molnar); Roger Sherman, Connecticut, (Donald Norris); Robert Livingston, New York, (James Todkill); Rev. John Witherspoon, New Jersey, (Greg Dunley); and John Dickinson (Michael McCarty) and James Wilson (Kevin O'Leary), Pennsylvania.

Also Caesar Rodney (Roland Ireland), Col. Thomas McKean (Graham Pollock), and George Read (Ted Boulton), Delaware; Samuel Chase, Maryland, (Steve Lieberman); Richard Henry Lee, Virginia, (Don Grille); Joseph Hewes, North Carolina, (Ken Waller); Edward Rutledge, South Carolina, (Mark Hopkin), and Dr. Lemman Hull, Georgia, (Dan Enrlken).

Others in the cast were the Congressional secretary, Charles Thomson (Keith Perry), Andrew McNair, Congressional custodian (Ted Houck); the courier, (Thomas Carr), Abigail Adams (Lesley Stewart), and Martha Jefferson, (Peggy Oksner).

Four of the most stirring songs were "For God's Sake, John, Sit Down," "Mamma Look Sharp," "Molasses to Run," and "Is Anybody There?"

Especially amusing were the songs "The Loss of Old Virginia" and "Cool, Cool, Considerate Men."

The musical builds to a climax as the Congress awaits the decision of Edward Rutledge of South Carolina who will only sign if the clause referring to the abolishment of slavery is omitted and the vote of James Wilson of Pennsylvania ("Every man makes in the world waits for your decision") as he sides with Ben Franklin against John Dickinson.

The conclusion is equally dramatic with John Hancock the first to sign — "braving the storm in a skill made of paper."

The prize winning musical was presented by Gingerbread Productions, Ltd., with direction by Don Perkins. Music and lyrics are by Sherman, Edwards with the book by Peter Stone.

Proceeds will benefit Gateway, a non-profit corporation headquartered in Berrien Springs which is designed to provide vocationally related services to physically, mentally, and emotionally handicapped adults.

Also benefiting will be the St. Joseph Art Center, 800 State street, St. Joseph, which is operated by the St. Joseph Art association. Funds will be used toward a ceramic studio and workshop with a kiln and potters wheel for which Civic Benefit raised initial funds in 1975.

In presenting the show, Civic Benefit brought not only witty and well-staged entertainment to the community but a magnificent and inspiring bit of history especially suitable for this year — America's Bicentennial.

Pancake-Sausage Brunch Sunday

Thomas McKean (Graham Pollock), and George Read (Ted Boulton), Delaware; Samuel Chase, Maryland, (Steve Liebman); Richard Henry Lee, Virginia, (Don Griley); Joseph Hewes, North Carolina, (Ken Waller); Edward Rutledge, South Carolina, (Mark Hopkin), and Dr. Lyman Hall, Georgia, (Dan Entriiken).

Others in the cast were the Congressional secretary, Charles Thomson (Keith Perry), Andrew McNair, Congressional custodian (Ted Houck); the courier, (Thomas Carr), Abigail Adams (Lesley Stewart), and Martha Jefferson, (Peggy Oksner).

Four of the most stirring songs were "For God's Sake, John, Sit Down," "Mamma Look Sharp," "Molasses to Rum," and "Is Anybody There?"

Especially amusing were the songs "The Lees of Old Virginia" and "Cool, Cool, Considerate Men."

The musical builds to a climax as the Congress awaits the decision of Edward Rutledge of South Carolina who will only sign if the clause referring to the abolishment of slavery is omitted and the ye vote of James Wilson of Pennsylvania ("Every map maker in the world waits for your decision") as he sides with Ben Franklin against John Dickinson.

The conclusion is equally dramatic with John Hancock the first to sign — "braving the storm in a skiff made of paper."

The prize winning musical was presented by Gingerbread Productions, Ltd., with direction by Don Perkins. Music and lyrics are by Sherman Edwards with the book by Peter Stone.

Proceeds will benefit Gateway, a non-profit corporation headquartered in Berrien Springs which is designed to provide vocationally related services to physically, mentally, and emotionally handicapped adults.

Also benefiting will be the St. Joseph Art Center, 600 State street, St. Joseph, which is operated by the St. Joseph Art association. Funds will be used toward a ceramic studio and workshop with a kiln and potters wheel for which Civic Benefit raised initial funds in 1975.

In presenting the show, Civic Benefit brought not only witty and well-staged entertainment to the community but a magnificent and inspiring bit of history especially suitable for this year — America's Bicentennial.

Early American Dishes With 'Revolutionary' Ideas

Polenta Is Authentic Link

During this historic year, scenes from the past are being reenacted throughout America. Battles are being staged and monumental events re-lived — complete with costumes.

If you want to dramatize what was happening in kitchens in 1776, there's an authentic link to Revolutionary War days in Polenta '76, a delicious main dish.

Polenta is cooked corn meal mush which "sets" and holds together when reheated. Corn meal — the essential ingredient in polenta — is enriched with B-vitamins and iron today, but the taste is much the same as our ancestors enjoyed. Recall that the history of corn meal pre-dates the Declaration of Independence; the American Indians were grinding corn into meal before the colonists arrived.

POLENTA '76

Polenta:
Two cups milk
One cup enriched corn meal
One teaspoon salt
Two cups boiling water
Meat Sauce:
One-half cup chopped onion
One-third cup chopped green pepper
Two tablespoons olive oil
One pound ground beef
One slice onion, one tomato
One eight-ounce can tomato sauce
One four-ounce can whole mushrooms
One teaspoon celery salt
One teaspoon oregano
One-half teaspoon salt
One-fourth teaspoon pepper
For polenta, combine milk, corn meal and salt. Add slowly to boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cover; continue cooking over low heat about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour into ungreased eight-inch square pan. Chill until set.
For meat sauce, lightly brown onion and green pepper in oil in large skillet. Add ground beef; brown. Stir in remaining ingredients; simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cut chilled polenta into six pieces. Spoon small amount of sauce onto bottom of ungreased nine-inch baking dish; top with polenta pieces. Spoon remaining sauce over and around polenta. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven about 25 minutes.

Old-time New England cooking was based on one of this land's native Indian crops — corn. Corn found its way into many colonial dishes, including corn chowders. It had many versions, but ingredients usually included corn, potatoes and onions in a cream or milk broth.

Suppertime Corn Chowder is a delicious version of this classic New England dish.

SUPPERTIME CORN CHOWDER

One medium onion, chopped
Two tablespoons butter or margarine
Two cups diced potatoes (two medium)
One cup water
Two cups milk
Two tablespoons all-purpose flour
One pkg. (10-ounce) frozen sweet whole kernel corn
One tablespoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
One and one-half cups braised flakes
One teaspoon melted butter or margarine
Sauté onion in butter in saucepan until golden. Add potatoes and water. Bring to a boil. Cover, reduce heat and simmer until potatoes are very tender — about 15 minutes.
Gradually stir milk into flour. Add corn, milk mixture, salt and pepper to saucepan. Bring to a full boil, stirring occasionally; simmer about five minutes.

Meanwhile, sauté brain cereal in melted butter, stirring often. Sprinkle over individual servings of soup just before serving. Makes five and three-fourths cups or six servings.

Paul Revere's tavern never served such hamburgers — thick and juicy and rich with the flavor of crushed potato chips. Topped with cheese and catsup, served with pickle slices and more of those crisp potato chips. Make them even more exciting by sprinkling them with garlic or onion powder.

FLAG WAVE CHEESE AND POTATO BURGER

One and one-half pounds ground chuck
One onion, chopped
One and one-half teaspoons salt
One egg
One-half cup finely crushed potato chips
One-third cup catsup
Four slices American cheese
Four hamburger buns, split and toasted
Additional potato chips, catsup, pickle slices
In a bowl, mix chuck, onion, salt, egg, crushed potato chips, catsup. Mix until well blended and shape mixture into four large patties. Fry or grill burgers until desired degree of doneness. Top burgers with cheese slices and broil until cheese melts. Place burgers on buns. Serve with potato chips. Top burgers with catsup and add pickle slices.

This is the year for digging out Granny's favorite cookbook and enjoying some forgotten family recipes.

Good, old-fashioned American-style dishes will recall happy memories for the older generation and bring new delight to the young.

Wholesome fruit desserts are especially pleasing during the cooler weather that is upon us. Traditional favorites such as pies, puddings, cobblers and dumplings, still warm from the oven, make a satisfying end to any meal.

Fruit dumplings are a classic homespun dish — fresh whole fruit wrapped in pastry and baked to a rich, golden brown.

PEAR DUMPLINGS

One cup unbleached flour
One-half teaspoon salt
One-fourth cup (one-half stick) margarine
Three to four tablespoons ice water
Four small pears (about one and one-half pounds)
One-fourth cup finely packed light brown sugar
Two tablespoons margarine, softened
One egg white, slightly beaten
One-half cup seedless black raspberry preserves
Combine flour and salt in a bowl. Cut in one-fourth cup margarine with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse meal. Stir in ice water; mix lightly. Form dough into ball. Cover; refrigerate for 15 minutes.

Pare and core pears. Combine brown sugar and two tablespoons softened margarine. Fill centers of pears with brown sugar mixture.

On lightly floured board, roll out dough to a twelve by twelve-inch square; cut into four six-inch square pieces. Brush squares with beaten egg white. Place a pear in center of each square. Bring points up around pears sealing edges together. Prick top.

Bake at 400 degrees about 35 minutes or until fruit is tender. Melt black raspberry preserves in small saucepan. Spoon melted preserves over hot dumplings. Makes four servings.

When their husbands set out on expeditions, the colonists' wives sent along plenty of "Journey Cakes" — or "Johnny Cakes" as they were called later.

One and one-half cups milk
One seven-ounce can whole kernel corn, drained

For each pancake, pour one-fourth cup batter onto moderately hot, lightly greased griddle (if electric, set at 350 degrees) to make 16 pancakes. Turn pancakes when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked. Turn only once. Serve with butter and syrup.

MARYLAND CRAB PIE

Three cups milk
Salt and pepper
Two cans (seven ounces each) crab meat, drained and flaked

One cup sliced pitted black olives
In a small skillet, heat butter and sauté onion until golden, about five minutes. Mix cheese with flour and sprinkle mixture into a greased nine-inch pie pan. Spoon onion and drippings evenly over cheese.
In a bowl, beat eggs with milk, salt and pepper until smooth. Pour mixture into pie pan. Sprinkle with bacon and potato chips. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 to 45 minutes or until puffed and brown. Cut into wedges to serve.

Harvest The Compliments

Neighborhood Garden Party

If as a hostess you feel like you were nipped in the bud, here's an occasion where you can really bloom! Invite your green-thumbed neighbors to a garden party.

These days everyone has gone "back to the earth." Whether it's a garden, window flower boxes or house plants, everyone is growing something.

Serve a cool Chocolate Almond Pie and harvest the compliments. The crust is chocolate water crumbs and melted margarine pressed against the pie plate. The rich filling is conveniently made with instant pudding, milk, cream and toasted almonds.

Organize into a garden club. You'll find that your community perks up with a touch of yellow daisies, grape hyacinths or red roses. Beautiful yards add a lot to any neighborhood. Urban areas can be enhanced with window boxes and sidewalk trees.

The interior environment can be improved with bright green plants. Spider plants, Swedish Ivy and Wandering Jew are favorite hanging plants.

Your garden party conversations will be varied as you touch on topics ranging from potting soil to pruning, transplanting to flower arranging. But they'll all be talking about your dessert. It's a winner.

One-fourth cup oil
Cut cod into one-inch cubes while frozen. Peel and dice potatoes and place into a saucepan. Cover with water and simmer until potatoes are almost tender. Add cod and continue simmering until cod flakes easily and is cooked. Drain potatoes and cod well to remove all excess water. Mash cod and potatoes together until smooth.

Mash cod and potatoes together until smooth. Beat in egg, cream, salt and pepper to taste. Shape mixture into six patties. Roll patties in potato chip crumbs. In a skillet, heat butter and oil and fry cod cakes until brown and crusty on both sides, allowing about 20 minutes for cooking. Serve hot with tartar sauce.

SUMMER SALAD

Combine canned cling peach slices, strawberries, chopped apple, orange sections and sliced banana. Toss, chill and serve with your favorite fruit salad dressing.

Harvest The Compliments

Neighborhood Garden Party

If as a hostess you feel like you were nipped in the bud, here's an occasion where you can really bloom! Invite your green-thumbed neighbors to a garden party.

These days everyone has gone "back to the earth." Whether it's a garden, window flower boxes or house plants, everyone is growing something.

Serve a cool Chocolate Almond Pie and harvest the compliments. The crust is chocolate wafer crumbs and melted margarine pressed against the pie plate. The rich filling is conveniently made with instant pudding, milk, cream and toasted almonds.

Organize into a garden club. You'll find that your community perks up with a touch of yellow daisies, grape hyacinths or red roses. Beautiful yards add a lot to any neighborhood. Urban areas can be enhanced with window boxes and sidewalk trees.

The interior environment can be improved with bright green plants. Spider plants, Swedish Ivy and Wandering Jew are favorite hanging plants.

Your garden party conversations will be varied as you touch on topics ranging from potting soil to pruning, transplanting to flower arranging. But they'll all be talking about your dessert. It's a winner.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND PIE

One and one-fourth cups chocolate wafer crumbs
One-fourth cup (one-half stick) margarine, melted
One cup light cream
One cup milk
One pkg. (four and one-half ounce) instant dark chocolate pudding
One-third cup chopped slivered almonds, toasted
Whipped cream
Combine crumbs and melted margarine. Press mixture firmly against sides and bottom of eight-inch pie plate. Refrigerate 15 minutes.
Pour light cream and milk into small deep mixing bowl. Add pudding. Using egg beater or mixer, slowly beat two minutes. Fold in almonds. Pour into prepared pie shell. Chill until firm, about one hour. Garnish with whipped cream and sliced almonds, if desired. Makes one eight-inch pie.

(which is approx. 26 1/2 fl. oz.), as does a bottle of fortified wine and a bottle of cognac. The average number of glasses you can expect to get from a bottle of wine is six from 70 cl. bottles, eight from champagne (or other sparkling wine) bottles if a small flute is used, 10 from a litre bottle or a flask, eight to twelve from fortified wines and 10-14 from cognac.

At RITTER'S LIQUOR LOCKER, 3872 Red Arrow Hwy., 429-4921 we carry wines, whiskies and beer in a wide variety of sizes depending on your particular needs. # 'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Accepting Bruises Is 'Sick'

Dear Ann: My husband bruises me during quarrels. Yes, I mean physically. Divorce or separation? No, most of the time he is good to me. Joint counseling? Several years didn't stop the hitting. Karate? It's an invitation to escalation. Besides, he's stronger than I am. Police? NG in a small city where people talk.

Meanwhile, is there some quiet legal device to restrain or penalize him, short of being so badly beaten up that I have to go to the hospital? — Black And Blue

"Dear B & B: If you've had several years of counseling and your husband is still hitting you and you're still living with him, he's kinky, beyond hope and you, my dear, have a deep-seated need for punishment. Obviously you two feed on each other's neurosis.

According to the experts, a man who gets his jollies beating up women can always find someone who will tolerate it, and they are both sick."

Don't Lie

Dear Ann Landers: I have a friend who lies a lot but I overlook this flaw in her character because she is so good-hearted. June would give me the shirt off her back if I needed it.

Yesterday, she asked if I would do her a favor and drive her to the courthouse to straighten out "a little something." It seems when June renewed her driver's license she was a brunette and now she's a blonde. I also noticed she gave her age as 38 when I happen to know she is 43. This, I thought, might create a legal problem so I called the little white lie to her attention. She replied, "My age is nobody's business."

If a woman lies about her age on a driver's license can she get into trouble? — Oak Park, Illinois

Dear Ann Landers: I am only 33, but I happen to be a person who likes to plan ahead. Please don't laugh at me, Ann, but I am worried about what kind of a marriage I will have. Here's the reason:

My parents are both yellers. They argue every night. I'm sure it wasn't always like this because I've seen pictures of them on their wedding day and they were a great-looking couple. It is plain to see that get married at all than be fighting all the time. — Looking Ahead

Dear Looking: It isn't true that children who come from homes where there is constant arguing are doomed to establish such homes themselves.

Often the opposite is true. Particularly if the individual is sensitive and intelligent. So don't be afraid of marriage, dear. A bad example is sometimes as strong an influence as a good one.

Confused about what's right and what's wrong in today's "new morality"? You're not alone. If you want honest, down-to-earth information on your sex questions, read Ann Landers' new booklet, "High School Sex And How To Deal With It—A Guide For Teens And Their Parents." Send 50 cents in coin plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Bag Of Goodies Absolutely Free

My face was once described by a beauty expert as one of the new miracle complexions: Porcelain-wrinkled, wash and wear.

Of course, that's before I took advantage of a beauty offer that came just month with my charge account. The deal was, if I bought $7 worth of cosmetics at the regular price, I got a clutch bag full of goodies absolutely free.

The regular priced cosmetics were all listed at $8.95, so I was in luck for $13.90 at the offset, but what the heck. With the clutch bag thrown in, it was still a bargain.

The bag was a treasure. It contained, among other things, an astringent for removing make-up from ear lobes, a moisturizer for my throat (my throat always looks like it belongs to another body), back-of-the-knee creme, and a tube of navy blue lipstick.

"Are you really going to use all that stuff?" asked my husband.

"Of course I am," I said. "For years, I've let the back of my knees go to pot. It's time I started pampering myself."

"What's this little stick?"

"Oh, this is great," I said excitedly. "It's called, 'Live a Lie.' You just stroke it on your face to erase those little bags and blemishes, see? What's the matter?"

"Your face just disappeared."

I went into the bathroom and slammed the door.

"Oh, c'mon, I was only kidding. The bags are still there."

For the next several hours, I was like a little girl playing

Ask the Jacobys

A Wisconsin reader wants to know the correct response to partner's opening club bid with:

♠ A K ♠ 7 3 ♠ 9 7 4 ♠ 8 7 5 4 2

This is a perfect hand for a nonforcing (but strong) jump to three clubs. Many people use this type of limit jump raise.

Glazed Apple Quarters

Core and quarter three Golden Delicious apples. In skillet combine one-half cup sugar, one-half cup orange juice and two teaspoons grated orange peel.

Bring to boil over medium heat. Reduce heat to low. Place apple quarters skin side up in orange mixture. Cover and simmer 10 to 15 minutes, until apples are tender but still hold their shape. If necessary, turn to cook evenly.

Remove to warm plate. Increase heat and cook orange sauce until thickened. Spoon over apples to glaze. Serve warm with meat. Makes four to six servings.

Clean Kitchen Surfaces

Hazards in the kitchen can often be prevented, if work surfaces are kept clean and dry.

Grease splatters should be wiped up as soon as possible to prevent a fire. Use a sudsy sponge to wash counters, the sink area, range top and oven. Dry table and counter surfaces so that glass and china can not slide off. To avoid a slippery floor, the Soap and Detergent association suggests mopping up any spills right away.

Other safety precautions include washing sharp knives separately; hold them by the handle. Do not place them in a dishpan with other items because you may be cut. Also, turn pot and pan handles toward the center of the range so that they cannot be knocked over.

Give Pears Rosy Hue

To give them a rosy hue, peel them and bake them in a sugar syrup in which grenadine has been added. Baste the pears during the baking and while cooking.

Roger! You're over-selling!

Oh, we realize the HP, like other newspapers, often end up on the floor as a puppy bathroom — and that some folks even wrap their garbage in them — after the whole family has read them, of course.

But the HP is the most popular daily in Southwestern Michigan because of its news, editorials, features, advertising, etc., that are printed on their pages — and they also have other important uses after they've been read:

As for taking an extra subscription for doggie sanitation, forget it! If you have a houseful of pets, perhaps one of your neighbors would be willing to part with one of their past issues for such a worthy cause.

If a woman lies about her age on a driver's license can she get into trouble? — Oak Park, Illinois

Dear Oak: Laws vary according to state, but in Illinois if a person knowingly makes a false statement when applying for any kind of a license he might find the license revoked.

Because more and more states are making it mandatory for drivers over 68 to take an examination before they can get their licenses renewed, it is important that the correct age be given. If June lied she could be in trouble.

Dr. Lester Coleman

I get severe itching and redness of my ears whenever I have my hair dyed. I do this every two months and suffer intensely for several days.

Mrs. L.G.E., III.

Dear Mrs. E.:

The reaction you describe may be due to an allergy to one of the substances in the dye or to a chemical irritant.

An "irritant contact dermatitis" may be caused by the acid, the alkalis and the chemicals in the dyes, even in those people who are not allergic.

"Allergic contact dermatitis," on the other hand, occurs in people who are highly sensitive and would react "allergically" to a great many substances.

People who suffer from "irritant contact dermatitis" are not benefited by allergic desensitization. Those with "allergic dermatitis" may be effective treated in this way.

Sensitivity to cosmetics is a common experience. Every effort must be made to protect your ears during the dyeing process. Sometimes, shifting from one dye to another or using nonallergic products may be helpful.

Dermatologists are able to study these two varieties of contact dermatitis and are often able to pinpoint the exact cause.

I had an operation on my thyroid. My problem is everything I buy in the drug store for sinusitis or sore throat has the caution saying, "Individuals with thyroid disease should use only when directed by their physician." Is it dangerous for me to take these medicines?

Mrs. C.H.T., Tenn.

Dear Mrs. T.:

Following any surgery of the thyroid certain precautions must be taken, especially with drugs that might inadvertently affect the thyroid gland.

Drug manufacturers wisely indicate potential dangers and incompatibility of certain drugs. Even though the caution that they suggest on their labels may sometimes be unnecessary, it is still wise that they continue to do so.

People with thyroid disease, or following thyroid surgery, may not be able to take stimulating drugs.

Patients with hyperthyroidism, or overactivity of the thyroid, react rather markedly to all drugs that are considered to be stimulants. The added protection offered by consulting with your own doctor when any new drug is taken is an investment in safety.

The man who makes today's slam at the table is one player in a thousand. The other 999 go down.

It is so automatic to win the spade opening and lead a low heart to dummy's king. If East holds to all four hearts you will be able to hold him to one trick.

It is almost automatic, but that one man in a thousand stops to think. He remembers that West opened the bidding and that he needed the ace of hearts to have an opening bid. Therefore, West is the only player who can hold four trumps and it is up to South to guard against this possibility.

So, South lays down his queen of hearts at trick two. West can do no better than to take his ace. Later on South leads twice through poor West's 10-8-3; picks up the trumps and takes his slam down to the bank.

Ask the Jacobys

A Wisconsin reader wants to know the correct response to partner's opening club bid with:

♠ A K♥ A 7 3♦ 9 7 4♠ 8 7 5 4 2

This is a perfect hand for a nonforcing (but strong) jump to three clubs. Many people use this type of limit jump raise.

In standard American three clubs (forcing) is a slight overbid but we still would make it.

Glazed Apple Quarters

Core and quarter three Golden Delicious apples. In skillet combine one-half cup sugar, one-half cup orange juice and two teaspoons grated orange peel.

Bring to boil over medium heat. Reduce heat to low. Place apple quarters skin side up in orange mixture. Cover and simmer 10 to 15 minutes, until apples are tender but still hold their shape. If necessary, turn to cook evenly.

Remove to warm plate. Increase heat and cook orange sauce until thickened. Spoon over apples to glaze. Serve warm with meat. Makes four to six servings.

Clean Kitchen Surfaces

Hazards in the kitchen can often be prevented, if work surfaces are kept clean and dry. Grease spatters should be wiped up as soon as possible to prevent a fire. Use a sudsy sponge to wash counters, the sink area, range top and oven. Dry table and counter surfaces so that glass and china can not slide off. To avoid a slippery floor, the Soap and Detergent association suggests mopping up any spills right away.

Other safety precautions include washing sharp knives separately; hold them by the handle. Do not place them in a dishpan with other items because you may be cut. Also, turn pot and pan handles toward the center of the range so that they cannot be knocked over.

Give Pears Rosy Hue

To give them a rosy hue, peel them and bake them in a sugar syrup to which grenadine has been added. Bake the pears during the baking and while cooking.

"ROGER SAYS WE'LL NEED TWO SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM NOW ON."

Roger! You're over-selling!

Oh, we realize the HP, like other newspapers, often end up on the floor as a puppy bathroom — and that some folks even wrap their garbage in them — after the whole family has read them, of course.

But the HP is the most popular daily in Southwestern Michigan because of its news, editorials, features, advertising, etc., that are printed on their pages — and they also have other important uses after they've been read.

As for taking an extra subscription for doggie sanitation, forget it! If you have a houseful of pets, perhaps one of your neighbors would be willing to part with one of their past issues for such a worthy cause.

Michigan Asparagus Crop Reaching Peak

Michigan's "grass" is here, according to Maryann Beckman, District Food Marketing agent. The 1978 asparagus crop of 18,700 acres is now being harvested in full swing and will continue until early June.

The acreage being harvested this year is about 900 acres larger than a year ago and even though some of the first of the crop was killed by recent freezes, there will be abundant supplies available if weather cooperates, according to growers.

Last year, about 88 per cent of Michigan's crop went to processors but more and more growers are becoming interested in selling to the fresh market, through direct on the farm sales, roadside and city markets and in supermarkets.

Two new carton packs will be available in many markets this year for the first time that may revolutionize the fresh asparagus industry. One is a 10-pound box of jumbled asparagus containing different spear lengths and spears not in the same direction, while the other is a 10-pound pyramid pack with spears all standing, heads up.

Both are designed to be sold as a single unit of 10 pounds rather than being divided up into one-pound bunches and at a lower cost per pound. The cartons include canning and freezing instructions as well.

Primary reason for these new packs is to provide consumers with the larger size quantities they say they want for both fresh use and home preservation, as well as to lower fresh handling costs for both producers and retailers. These new cartons will offer tremendous advantages to consumers who wish to eat some fresh and then freeze or can small or large amounts.

The 10-pound cartons are easier to handle as well as offer a quantity of asparagus at a more reasonable price than in single pound units. Those wishing large quantities to preserve can buy several 10-pound units to fit their larger needs.

The packs will be moved quickly at retail to assure a top quality product. Can or freeze asparagus as soon as possible once you get it home, too, for maximum tenderness.

If you don't see these new cartons in your favorite supermarket, contact the manager to have him order supplies. Twenty and 40-pound units will also be available in many markets.

Top quality asparagus is firm, fresh looking, crisp and bright green in color. Tip ends are tightly closed and are bright green to purplish green in color. Medium and thick stalks are the most tender; thin, spindly stalks are likely to be tough and stringy.

Michigan fresh asparagus is "snapped" by hand rather than being mechanically cut, so it has almost no waste. It is all edible and easier to prepare. The only trimming needed is cutting a thin slice off the butt end of the stalk which may have dried, somewhat.

Asparagus from other states is "cut" and contains large amounts of white butt stalk ends that are tough and not edible, which give as much as 47 to 50 per cent waste. This type needs to be snapped between the fingers of both hands before using, to separate the tough woody portion. It snaps just below the most tender portion of the stalk.

When preparing asparagus for fresh eating or preservation, wash stalks thoroughly in cool, salt water to remove any sand or grit from scales and tips. Pat dry and refrigerate immediately in a moisture-proof bag if you can't use it right away or prepare immediately. A pound gives three to four servings cooked. You'll need one and one-half pounds for each pint frozen and two pounds for each pint canned.

Cooking Michigan asparagus is easy, since stalks and tips are equally tender. Cook whole stalks or cut pieces in about an inch of boiling, salted water, uncovered for one to two minutes to keep the bright green color, then covered for six to eight minutes more or until fork tender. A skillet works best for cooking whole stalks flat, while a double boiler or coffee pot is best for steaming tied-together bundles.

Serve fresh asparagus with butter or margarine, Hollandaise or cheese sauces, French fried dipped in egg batter and cooked in hot fat or Chinese stir-fried. Use it raw in tossed salads, too. One two-thirds cup serving has only 20 calories plus vitamins and minerals as well.

When freezing asparagus, blanch stalks or pieces in boiling water for two to three minutes, depending on stalk thickness. This slows enzyme action that causes further aging.

Cool immediately in ice water, drain, pack into freezer bags or containers, leaving no headspace, seal and freeze.

When canning, process pints 25 minutes and quarts 30 minutes in a pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure.

It's easy to sew a double-duty, terrycloth robe for toddlers. Make it to slip on and snap shut, to serve as a bathrobe, beach robe or coverall for eating.

Cut it ankle length and full, to cover baby's entire frame. The most welcome feature of terrycloth is that it's machine washable and dryable. And, after a soak in the tub, baby will enjoy its warmth and moisture-absorbent qualities.

Hughes Spokesmen Deny Knowledge Of New Will

By MIKE GOODKIND
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) —
Spokesmen for Hughes Tool Co. say they know nothing about a second purported will of the late billionaire Howard Hughes that was sealed in an envelope bearing the firm's name.

The three-page handwritten document that surfaced Tuesday was dated June 22, 1969, addressed to the Summa Corp.

in care of the Clark County clerk, and delivered by mail.
The return address read
"Hughes Tool Co., Houston, Tex."

Summa Corp., the umbrella firm which controls the Hughes empire, was named executor of the estate.

But Summa spokesman Arlo
Soderberg said in Los Angeles that the firm was not incorporated until December 1972 and that the name was not even under consideration much before then.

Soderberg said there is no connection between Summa and Hughes Tool Co. He said Hughes
Tool's oil well division was sold to the public in 1973 and the remaining assets incorporated into Summa.

In Houston, Raymond
Holliday, board chairman of Hughes Tool, said he knew nothing about the new document.

The envelope containing the document also held a small, handwritten note which asked that the purported will "be mail (sic) 30 days after my demise."
It was signed Howard R.
Hughes.

Distribution of the estimated $1.5 billion to $2.5 billion estate was earmarked as follows in the new will:

"First: To all my blood relatives I leave one-twelfth of my estate.

"Second: To Hughes Medical Institute of Miami, Fla., I leave one-sixth of all my assets.

"Third: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the University of Nevada and the University of California.

"Fourth: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the Universities of Texas and the University of Mexico City, Mex.

"Fifth: One-twelfth of my estate to be divided among the blind and homeless children of America and to the ones with medical needs.

"Sixth: One-sixth of all my assets to be divided among 10 living American individuals, bearers of the social security account numbers — 009-22-3345, 339-55-6649, 689-88-9951,
999-112254, 119-33-4446,
449-66-7749, 779-99-0052,
229-44-5547 and 559-77-8850."
Although the document said 10
Americans, it listed only nine numbers.

"Seventh: One-sixth of all my estate, I leave to all my blood relatives to put use as they wish.
May this document bring contentment and peace of mind to all."

Sights Set High

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto makers are setting their sights on near-record car production for the third quarter of the year barring a strike by the United Auto Workers union this fall.
Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry trade publication, estimated this week that output for the July-September period would total 1,823,000 cars, a 10 per cent increase over a year ago and just short of the thirdquarter record of 1,896,000 cars assembled in 1973.

Hughes Spokesmen Deny Knowledge Of New Will

By MIKE GOODKIND
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Spokesmen for Hughes Tool Co. say they know nothing about a second purported will of the late billionaire Howard Hughes that was sealed in an envelope bearing the firm's name.

The three-page handwritten document that surfaced Tuesday was dated June 22, 1969, addressed to the Summa Corp. in care of the Clark County clerk, and delivered by mail. The return address read "Hughes Tool Co., Houston, Tex."

Summa Corp., the umbrella firm which controls the Hughes empire, was named executor of the estate.

But Summa spokesman Arelo Sederberg said in Los Angeles that the firm was not incorporated until December 1972 and that the name was not even under consideration much before then.

Sederberg said there is no connection between Summa and Hughes Tool Co. He said Hughes Tool's oil well division was sold to the public in 1972 and the remaining assets incorporated into Summa.

In Houston, Raymond Holliday, board chairman of Hughes Tool, said he knew nothing about the new document.

The envelope containing the document also held a small, handwritten note which asked that the purported will "be mail (sic) 30 days after my demise." It was signed Howard R. Hughes.

Distribution of the estimated $1.5 billion to $2.5 billion estate was earmarked as follows in the new will:

"First: To all my blood relatives I leave one-twelfth of my estate.

"Second: To Hughes Medical Institute of Miami, Fla., I leave one-sixth of all my assets.

"Third: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the University of Nevada and the University of California.

"Fourth: One-sixth of my estate to be divided among the Universities of Texas and the University of Mexico City, Mex.

"Fifth: One-twelfth of my estate to be divided among the blind and homeless children of America and to the ones with medical needs.

"Sixth: One-sixth of all my assets to be divided among 10 living American individuals, bearers of the social security account numbers — 009-22-3345, 339-55-6648, 669-88-9951, 999-112254, 119-33-4446, 449-66-7749, 779-99-0052, 229-44-5547 and 559-77-8850."

Although the document said 10 Americans, it listed only nine numbers.

"Seventh: One-sixth of all my estate, I leave to all my blood relatives to put use as they wish. May this document bring contentment and peace of mind to all."

Sights Set High

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto makers are setting their sights on near-record car production for the third quarter of the year barring a strike by the United Auto Workers union this fall. Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry trade publication, estimated this week that output for the July-September period would total 1,823,000 cars, a 10 per cent increase over a year ago and just short of the thirdquarter record of 1,896,000 cars assembled in 1973.

BACKERS WILL TRY AGAIN 'Lemon' Bill Loses In Senate

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Supporters of a consumer protection bill to help purchasers of defective automobiles say they are optimistic they will be able to reverse the defeat of the bill when it is reconsidered next week.

The bill, which failed Tuesday in the state Senate, would permit an auto buyer to defend himself in court if he stopped payment on a defective car. Owners of "lemons" now risk automatic repossession of the car or loss of other property if they stop payments.

"I think we'll get it Tuesday," said the bill's sponsor, Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor. The bill's floor manager in the Senate, Sen. Anthony Derezinski, D-Muskegon, added: "It isn't lost yet."

The measure, which has passed the House, was turned down, 18-17, three votes short of the 20 needed for passage. The vote will be reconsidered next Tuesday.

The bill was fiercely opposed by automobile dealers through the Michigan Automobile Dealers Association, which lobbied intensely in a last-minute effort to defeat the measure.

The car dealers' lobby succeeded in weakening the bill by inserting a time limit on its protections and Tuesday swung enough votes to defeat the bill altogether.

The measure would repeal the state's holder in due course doctrine. It died in the Senate during the last legislative session amid similar controversy.

The holder in due course doctrine often forces a car buyer to continue payments on a car which was defective when purchased. That is because the financial contract is held by a bank or other financial institution, not the car dealer.

Currently, if a person stops payment on a defective car, the financial institution can repossess the car or take other measures to obtain the money due.

The bill would give the consumer a chance to raise as a defense in court the fact the car was defective. The defense could be used up to one year after the car was purchased. The judge could order a

Atheists Seeking To Bar Prayers In Courtrooms

DETROIT (AP) — Religious ceremonies in government buildings are unconstitutional, says the Detroit chapter of a group of atheists which filed suit Tuesday in Wayne County Circuit Court.

The local chapter of the Society of Separatists (SOS) seeks a halt to the weekly prayer services held for the past 21 years in Wayne County Common Pleas courtrooms.

The Texas-based organization is led by Madelyn O'Hair, who won a 1963 Supreme Court ruling banning prayer in public schools.

Filing the suit brought strong objections from Judge Frederick Byrd, in whose courtroom the religious services are held.

"We need more prayer around here, not less," said Byrd, who plans to "get a lawyer and fight this woman."

Share Bus Plan Costs, State Told

DETROIT (AP) — The state must pay 10 per cent of the cost of educational programs that accompany Detroit's school integration plan, U.S. District Judge Robert E. DeMascio has ruled.

DeMascio also told the Detroit Board of Education Tuesday to continue using the same busing plan that went into effect Jan. 26 for the coming school year.

The order instructed the school board to implement most of the education programs which have been discussed in court over the past year. A school integration busing plan involving more than 29,000 students went into effect in Detroit Jan. 26.

The programs that must be implemented by next September include a new reading program, an improved guidance and counseling program, a new student testing program and a teacher-training program.

DeMascio ordered the state to "equally bear the burdens" of the programs with the city.

The judge said the state and city school board might have to adjust their spending priorities to carry out the programs.

The state Board of Education declined to comment on the order. But state officials have said they do not believe a federal judge has the power to order the state to appropriate and spend money.

Earlier this year, DeMascio got the state Board of Education and the city board to agree to share the cost of building five new vocational centers.

DeMascio said he was unhappy with the way the school board has implemented the new student conduct code. The judge instructed school officials to be certain that the code is in uniform use in September.

Noontime prayer services are held by a handful of Catholic and Protestant city and county employees on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

The judge turned down a challenge by Mrs. O'Hair to debate the question at a public meeting.

Mrs. O'Hair has sued Billy Graham for slander and gone to court seeking to stop astronauts from reading the Bible on space flights.

She has said she wants to purge all government property of religious sentiment, expunge the word "God" from all public property and revoke the tax-exempt status of churches and church property.

Mrs. O'Hair, raised as a Presbyterian, says she was converted to atheism or a refusal to believe in a supreme being, by reading the Bible from cover to cover one weekend during her teen-age years.

"I get invited on talk shows all the time as a freak," said Mrs. O'Hair. "They usually put me on between a dancing dog and an alcoholic."

She claims 75,000 families are members of SOS.

Trying To Save Marsh

FAIRHAVEN, Mich. (AP) — The Lake St. Clair Advisory Committee is collecting money to buy the 3,000-acre St. John Marsh, the last large wetland on the U.S. side of Lake St. Clair. The marsh is in danger of being bulldozed and made into a housing development, according to officials. Committee member Ray Tremblay said last week $15,000 has been collected so far, and other fundraising events are planned. State officials say the marsh is a "nursing factory" for many species of waterfowl and wildlife. It serves as a haven for young fish and acts as a filter for Lake St. Clair. Tremblay said a bill in the state legislature that would bring in about $225,000 a year to buy wetlands is being tied up by lawmakers. The proposal, known as the Michigan Duck Stamp Bill, would assess wildlife hunters a fee of $2.10, and $1.90 of that would go to buy wetlands such as the St. John Marsh.

Gunman Fires Into Street; Three Killed, Two Wounded

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Korean War veteran, described by his mother as suffering from shell shock, was held on $1 million bond today after allegedly firing a high-powered rifle into a downtown crowd, killing three persons and wounding two others.

Police said Robert Daniel Patty, 43, of Knoxville, was charged Tuesday with one count of first-degree murder after the shooting.

Homicide Capt. Bob Lane said Patty pulled a 30-30 lever-action rifle from a box and began firing into the lunchtime crowd along this east Tennessee city's main street.

Police said they had determined no reason for the shooting.

The victims were identified as Bessie V. Rose, 52, Bruce E. Brown, 67, both of Knoxville, and Francesca Holmes, 60, of Louisville, Tenn.

The two women were gunned down as they waited on a bench outside a Kress Variety Store for a bus, Lane said.

He said Bruce E. Brown, 67, a retired Tennessee Valley Authority auditor, stumbled into the Kress store and mumbled, "I've been shot. Call an ambulance." He fell to the floor, fatally wounded in the chest.

Wounded were Mrs. Roscoe Vandergriff, who was shot in the right leg while walking with her husband, and Gloria Dixon, 19, who suffered a superficial wound on the elbow.

Police said Patty had a history of mental illness.

WOMEN SLAIN: Homicide Capt. Bob Lane inspects body of one of two women who were shot and killed Tuesday by a gunman in Knoxville, Tenn. A man, also shot, fell mortally wounded in doorway of the store to the left. (AP Wirephoto)

The suspect's mother, Gladys Patty, 63, said her son was shell-shocked on the front lines in the Korean War.

"He got into the drug scene in California after the war and he'd had several shock treatments," the mother said.

Patrolman James Lewis said he heard the shots as he was walking his downtown beat.

"I ran across the street and the man surrendered to me," the officer said. He said he handcuffed Patty and other officers took him to the city jail.

Louis Russell, manager of the Kress store, said that when he realized the shots were being fired, "I fell to the floor and hollered for people in the store to lie on the floor."

Ford Signs Election Bill, But Fund Spigot Still Off

By EVANS WITT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cash-starved presidential candidates will have to wait at least a few more days before they receive millions of dollars in matching federal campaign funds, despite President Ford's signature on a bill that releases the money.

The Federal Election Commission is now legally back in the business of handing out matching funds to qualifying candidates, but the new FEC has no members yet. Ford signed the bill restructuring the six-member board Tuesday, but he did not name anyone to the new FEC.

White House officials said they expect Ford to make nominations in the next few days, possibly by Thursday.

Ford said in signing the bill that he has some reservations about the constitutionality of some provisions.

But he said he signed it because "further delay would undermine the fair and proper conduct of elections this year."

It could be less than 24 hours between nomination of the new commissioners and $2.1 million in treasury checks being deposited in the campaign war chests of 11 candidates.

But there could be delays. The process includes Senate confirmation of nominees, which could be done in one day, swearing in ceremonies, an FEC meeting and writing of checks by the treasury.

If Ford nominated the new commissioners Thursday and the Senate acted immediately on matching funds that same day, the candidates could be available by late Thursday or Friday.

The candidates have received no federal funds since March 22 as a result of a Supreme Court ruling that the FEC was unconstitutionally structured.

Candidates have had to make economies and some have stopped active campaigning. Ford's GOP opponent, Ronald Reagan, and some Democratic candidates have complained that they have to pay many expenses, especially for travel, in advance, while Ford uses the presidential jet and pays his bills later.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., quit actively campaigning for the Democratic nomination, blaming the lack of federal funds.

Ford is in the best shape financially. His campaign manager, Rogers C.B. Morton, has announced a 25 per cent cut in the staff of the President Ford Committee because the Ford campaign is at the upper end of the legal spending limits and must conserve funds for the primaries yet to come and the GOP Convention in August.

Bill Allows Leniency

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill allowing judges to be more lenient in sentencing people convicted of driving while drunk or drugged is headed for the Senate. The House Tuesday approved the measure sponsored by Rep. Jelt Sietsma, D-Grand Rapids, 102-2. If the Senate passes the bill, it would become law immediately upon signing by the governor. Under the bill, a court would have a new option in sentencing a person convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. It could forward a certificate of conviction to the Secretary of State, indicating limited driving privileges permitting driving only to and from work. Under present law, a person convicted of driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs must have his license suspended for between 90 days and two years.

The two women were gunned down as they waited on a bench outside a Kress Variety Store for a bus, Lane said.

He said Bruce E. Brown, 67, a retired Tennessee Valley Authority auditor, stumbled into the Kress store and numbed, "I've been shot. Call an ambulance." He fell to the floor, fatally wounded in the chest.

Wounded were Mrs. Roscoe Vandergriff, who was shot in the right leg while walking with her husband, and Gloria Dixon, 19, who suffered a superficial wound on the elbow.

Police said Patty had a history of mental illness.

WOMEN SLAIN: Homicide Capt. Bob Lane inspects body of one of two women who were shot and killed Tuesday by a gunman in Knoxville, Tenn. A man, also shot, fell mortally wounded in doorway of the store to the left. (AP Wirephoto)

The suspect's mother, Gladys Patty, 63, said her son was shell-shocked on the front lines in the Korean War.

"He got into the drug scene in California after the war and he'd had several shock treatments," the mother said.

Patrolman James Lewis said he heard the shots as he was walking his downtown beat.

"I ran across the street and the man surrendered to me," the officer said. He said he handcuffed Patty and other officers took him to the city jail.

Louis Russell, manager of the Kress store, said that when he realized the shots were being fired, "I fell to the floor and holled for people in the store to lie on the floor."

Ford Signs Election Bill, But Fund Spigot Still Off

By EVANS WITT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Cash-starved presidential candidates will have to wait at least a few more days before they receive millions of dollars in matching federal campaign funds, despite President Ford's signature on a bill that releases the money.

The Federal Election Commission is now legally back in the business of handing out matching funds to qualifying candidates, but the new FEC has no members yet. Ford signed the bill restructuring the six-member board Tuesday, but he did not name anyone to the new FEC.

White House officials said they expect Ford to make nominations in the next few days, possibly by Thursday.

Ford said in signing the bill that he has some reservations about the constitutionality of some provisions.

It could be less than 24 hours between nomination of the new commissioners and $2.1 million in treasury checks being deposited in the campaign war chests of 11 candidates.

But there could be delays. The process includes Senate confirmation of nominees, which could be done in one day, swearing in ceremonies, an FEC meeting and writing of checks by the treasury.

If Ford nominated the new commissioners Thursday and the Senate acted immediately to confirm them, they could be sworn in and approve the staff recommendations on matching funds that same day.

FEC staff members say that in that case checks to the candidates could be available by late Thursday or Friday.

The candidates have received no federal funds since March 22 as a result of a Supreme Court ruling that the FEC was unconstitutionally structured. Candidates have had to make economies and some have stopped active campaigning.

Ford's GOP opponent, Ronald

Reagan, and some Democratic candidates have complained that they have to pay many expenses, especially for travel, in advance, while Ford uses the presidential jet and pays his bills later.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., quit actively campaigning for the Democratic nomination, blaming the lack of federal funds.

Ford is in the best shape financially. His campaign manager, Rogers C.B. Morton, has announced a 25 per cent cut in the staff of the President Ford Committee because the Ford campaign is at the upper end of the legal spending limits and must conserve funds for the primaries yet to come and the GOP Convention in August.

Bill Allows Leniency

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill allowing judges to be more lenient in sentencing people convicted of driving while drunk or drugged is headed for the Senate. The House Tuesday approved the measure sponsored by Rep. Jelt Sietsema, D-Grand Rapids, 102-2. If the Senate passes the bill, it would become law immediately upon signing by the governor. Under the bill, a court would have a new option in sentencing a person convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. It could forward a certificate of conviction to the Secretary of State, indicating limited driving privileges permitting driving only to and from work. Under present law, a person convicted of driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs must have his license suspended for between 90 days and two years.

Britain Drying Up As Drought Moves Into Second Year

LONDON (AP) — An African prayer mat from Botswana hangs in the offices of the Wessex Water Authority. It bears the word "Puka," meaning "Let there be rain."

Experts say it would take a prolonged monsoon to overcome Britain's worst drought in 249 years.

The weather bureau says it began last summer, one of Britain's warmest in years with temperatures in the high 80s. A mild winter and dry weather in the '80s this month have aggravated the situation.

Some reservoirs are nearly dry, some two-thirds empty, and a great many half empty.

Normally, after winter and spring rains, they would be beginning ready to cope with the demands of even the hottest summer. But the year from May 1975 to April 1976 was the driest since 1727, the weather office in London reported.

There were some thunderstorms and heavy showers last weekend, and some rain fell in scattered areas Monday. But it was not enough to help.

"We have had about half an inch of rain at the most, and that does not go far to make up a deficit of 18 inches," said one expert. "The ground is so dry and thirsty it soaks up any rain immediately."

About half of the country is suffering from the drought. The worst hit areas are Anglia in the east, Wessex and Wales in the west, and southern Yorkshire in the north. Least affected are the Thames River area, which includes London, northernmost England and the Severn-Trent Midlands area.

Just one example of how the housewife is hit: if she lives in south-east Wales, her washing machine and shower no longer work properly because the water pressure has been halved.

If the drought continues, the consequences for industry could be grave. The average man or woman uses 30 to 60 gallons of water a day, but industry consumes a much greater part of the average 5.5 billion gallons pumped daily from rivers, streams, wells and other sources.

Producing a four-seat automobile requires 100,000 gallons of water. To make a ton of steel takes 44,000 gallons of water. British imperial gallons equal 1.2 U.S. gallons.

Water authorities are spending the equivalent of nearly $1 billion a year to increase the water supply. But experts insist that far more money is needed to keep pace with the constant increase in demand. Every 40 years the demand doubles.

Scotland and London have no drought problem.

'Senator Sam' Puts On His Lawyer's Suit

By ROBERT R. CULLEN
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — He put on his pinstriped lawyer's suit, filled his old leather briefcase with notes, and went to Raleigh to argue a case before the North Carolina Supreme Court.

It was a homecoming Tuesday for former Sen. Sam Ervin, appearing as a defense lawyer before the court on which he was an associate justice from 1948-54 prior to a Senate career highlighted by the televised Watergate hearings.

Inside the courtroom every chair was filled. Spectators lined the brown, paneled walls and perched on the marble window ledges as the 79-year-old Ervin advanced to his position before the seven justices to argue his case.

Ervin was seeking a new trial for Harry Hunter of Myrtle Beach, S.C. Hunter was convicted in 1975 of being the mastermind behind an armed robbery that resulted in the death of a man named William Potts. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Ervin was a natural choice when Hunter's lawyers began to look for someone to argue their appeal. They contended that Hunter was convicted on testimony about other crimes he allegedly planned, testimony they felt was inadmissible under a 1954 state Supreme Court decision.

That decision was written by then Associate Justice Sam J. Ervin Jr. A few months later, the title would change to U.S. Senator when Ervin was appointed to a vacant Senate seat. Ervin agreed with the interpretation of the law by Hunter's lawyers, and he wanted to make sure the court had the benefit of his opinion before it ruled. He also said he accepted the case after interviewing Hunter and finding him to be "one of the most gentle human beings I've ever met."

Ervin's voice rose firmly over the muted rumbling of trucks from the street below as he grimaced and gestured his way through a dissertation on the law as he saw it.

When Ervin's 30 minutes were up, Chief Justice Susie Sharp abruptly stopped him.

Asst. State Atty. Gen. John Silverstein argued for the state.

"I'm in the unique position of having to contend that the author of the opinion is in error in his interpretation of that opinion," he said. "But that is the state's position."

The justices then took both arguments under advisement for a later ruling.

Radio-Control Hobbyists Blast CB Plan

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some hobbyists who guide their model boats and airplanes by radio control are up in arms over a proposal that would allow citizens band radio enthusiasts to take over some of the modelers' radio channels.

The FCC says it is receiving letters from modelers protesting such a takeover, proposed as one means of providing the jammed CB airwaves with more channels.

With almost one million Americans a month joining the CB craze, there are an estimated 15 million CB sets on the air sharing the 23 CB bands in each community.

"Why are you penalizing the radio control enthusiasts, who never break FCC regulations, and reward the CB operators, who flagrantly break FCC regulations and brag about it," wrote Dan Amburn, vice president of the Temple Aero Modelers Model Airplane Club of Temple, Tex. We need more frequencies, not less.

Richard Cowan wrote that "In small town areas such as ours, St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, Mich., there is no way we could operate with safety with CBs on the 27 megahertz frequency. To try to do so would make the aircraft an unguided missile. Yes, seven pounds of airplane, traveling 100 miles per hour with no control, is extremely dangerous."

The proposal to let the CBers move into the 27 megahertz band used by the radio control hobbyists is part of a plan to provide as many as 99 channels for CBers. But the plan is stymied now by technicians trying to eliminate the interference that is created by more than 44 channels.

In addition to six frequencies in the 27 megahertz band, the radio control hobbyists use seven channels in the 72 megahertz band, but the normal equipment cannot use both.

Uranium Bill Up For Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to end the 30-year government monopoly over uranium enrichment is being sent to the House and Senate for floor debate by unanimous action of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. The bill, which the committee approved 16-0 Tuesday, would:

—Authorize the Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) to negotiate government guarantees for the establishment of private uranium enrichment facilities.

—Retain Congressional veto power over agreements negotiated by ERDA.

—Direct ERDA to work toward government construction of the next uranium enrichment plant, in case a construction agreement cannot be reached with Uranium Enrichment Associates (UEA), a private venture.

Christians Break Cease-Fire

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Right-wing Christians broke the cease-fire in the mountains east of Beirut and resumed their attack on Moslem villages overlooking Christian territory. Christian leaders demanded that the Syrian army intervene and end the civil war. In Beirut, Moslems and Christians fired heavy barrages of rocket, mortar and 155mm howitzer shells all night across the buffer zone the Palestine Liberation Army established between the city's Moslem and Christian quarters. Leftist Moslem militiamen pounded Christian suburbs of the capital with anti-aircraft batteries. Fighting also continued in Tripoli, in northern Lebanon, between pro-Syrian Palestine guerrillas and pro-Iraq Lebanese Moslems, a spokesman said.

Strip Mine Bill Tough, Soft

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department says its new strip mining regulations are stricter in some areas and softer in others than two strip mining bills that President Ford vetoed last year. Interior Secretary Thomas S. Kleppe, who announced the regulations Tuesday, said they will protect the environment while permitting a limited increase in coal production on western rangelands. Over-all, Kleppe said, the new regulations were at least as stringent as the two bills Ford vetoed last year. They will take effect after being published in the Federal Register within the next few days.

Loses Leg In Bomb Blast

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — A West German soldier lost part of a leg today when a bomb he was carrying exploded near the Munich headquarters of the American Forces Network (AFN), a spokesman at the network's headquarters reported. It was not known whether the soldier had planned to bomb the radio station in retaliation for the death Sunday of anarchist Ulrike Meinhof. Her body was found hanging in a Stuttgart prison cell. She and three others had been on trial for terrorist attacks in the early 1970s, including attacks on U.S. military headquarters in Frankfurt and Heidelberg in which four American soldiers were killed.

Doctor Urges TV Censorship

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — A psychiatrist, claiming a study shows that television violence affects the mental health of adults the same as it does children, has suggested federal censorship of the medium. "Dramatized television programs have substantial impact not only upon the young, but also upon adults," Dr. Ruderic Gorney of the UCLA Department of Psychiatry told the American Psychiatric Association here Tuesday. "People have always said we should be careful of what our kids watch on TV," he said. "But now, we see that television can affect adult behavior, which in turn carries over to the way he treats his child."

Lawmaker Asks Plug Be Pulled

BOSTON (AP) — A Boston newspaper said today that Rep. Thorbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., is near death at Bethesda Naval Hospital outside Washington after ordering that his life support systems be removed.

A hospital spokesman confirmed that Macdonald was in critical condition early today. Macdonald's administrative aide, Peter S. Knight, would not comment on the Boston Herald American report that Macdonald, 68, asked Monday that his life support system be removed.

U.S. Remains Firm On Cyclamate Ban

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has written what may be the final chapter in the bitter-sweet saga of cyclamate, the sugar substitute discovered by accident in 1937, consumed by millions of calorie-conscious Americans and banned as a potential health hazard in 1969.

The Food and Drug Administration announced late Tuesday that it will not lift its cyclamate ban because of "grave questions" about the risk to humans of cancer, genetic damage and reproductive injury.

Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt said he knew many people would be willing to assume a reasonable risk, but concluded that "FDA must base its approval on an assurance that general availability of cyclamate for everyday use by anyone would be safe. I cannot give that assurance, and thus cannot approve its use at this time."

Schmidt asked Abbott Laboratories of North Chicago, Ill., to withdraw its 1973 petition seeking approval of cyclamate. Otherwise, his letter said, the FDA will formally deny the request in 30 days.

Abbott vice president Richard W. Kasperow said no decision had been made on withdrawing the petition. It could be resubmitted if new evidence were presented, or the firm could seek a new administrative hearing, which might be a prelude to a federal court contest.

"If we withdraw the petition," he said, "I would assume that would be the end of it. It's certainly a disappointment."

Cyclamate was discovered in 1937 by Michael Sveda, then a chemistry student at the University of Illinois who noted a sweet taste in a cigarette he accidentally put down in a chemical compound.

Dozens of studies, the first in 1951, have failed to come up with a certain answer on whether cyclamate does pose a cancer risk.

At the FDA's request, the National Cancer Institute assembled a committee of scientists to take a fresh look at the studies, but the panel reported in February that safety questions can't be answered.

Present evidence "does not establish the carcinogenicity (cancer-causing potential) of cyclamate... in experimental animals," the scientists said, but "no conclusion could be reached concerning the question of cyclamate's potential carcinogenicity in humans."

Schmidt said "grave questions remain as to its cancer-causing potential in experimental animal tests and, by inference, in man." He cited studies suggesting that cyclamate may cause genetic damage when used at levels "not far in excess of that possible in ordinary consumption," as well as birth defects and reproductive damage.

While safe levels of cyclamate intake might be possible for humans, they would be so low "that only very restricted use could be envisioned, and the safety margin would be insufficient to allow general use of cyclamate in manufactured foods such as soft drinks."

"It can also be assumed that no matter how the substance might be labeled, significant numbers of people, including children and pregnant women wishing not to gain weight, would exceed the acceptable daily intake," the commissioner said. "Once cyclamate were in the home and freely available, regardless of any labeling to encourage moderate usage, there would be inappropriate or excessive use by some individuals over which there could be no meaningful control."

New Foreign Military Aid Bills Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Committees in both the House and Senate are offering new bills to replace a $4-billion foreign military aid measure vetoed by President Ford, but the new bills retain some of the provisions Ford liked least.

Ford vetoed the military aid bill on Friday, objecting to sections that would have temporarily lifted the U.S. embargo against Vietnam and allowed Congress to veto some of his military aid decisions. Both chambers decided not to try to override the veto.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee and House International Relations Committee approved new bills Tuesday. Both bills drop the Vietnam trade provision, but retain some congressional veto powers.

The Vietnam provision would have lifted the trade embargo for six months, and then permanently if the Vietnamese cooperated in accounting for Americans still listed as missing in the Vietnam war.

Both committees backed the $4 billion authorization for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 only an authorization for next year. The Senate committee produced a $6.7 billion two-year bill, while the House committee offered a $7 billion bill.

The full Senate and House may act on their respective new bills next week. A conference panel will then work out a final compromise bill.

IN COLONIAL days, the first solid ground on the marshy north shore of the Potomac was an outcrop of rocks which jutted into the river. This promontory served as the starting point for surveys establishing property lines for early settlers. Its popular name was Braddock's Rock reportedly. The World Almanac relates, because Gen. Braddock and his red-coated soldiers, among them Lt. Col. George Washington, landed there in 1755 on their way to Ft. Duquesne.

A Highly-Paid Errand Boy

DIX, Neb. (AP) — "Is it too late to order some hamburgers?" a woman called to ask a small cafe in this western Nebraska town. "Good," she said when told it was not too late. "I'd like six. ... I'll have the governor of Nebraska pick them up."

And, indeed, a short time later the cafe waitress reported that Gov. James Exon came in personally and picked up the takeout order for a late night hamburger snack Monday.

NORWEGIAN AUTHOR DIES

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Jens Bjørneboe, Norway's most widely known author since World War II, is dead at 68 after a long illness. His body was found in his house Sunday night.

MESC Now To Speak In 'Non-Sexist' Terms

DETROIT (AP) — If all goes according to plan, language around the Michigan Employment Security Commission is going to be as genderless as a desktop. In a three-page memo, the MESC, which oversees the state's job situation and is responsible for jobless payments to those without work, has told its 5,000 employees how to talk in a "non-sexist" way.

For instance, no longer are there "men in high places." They've been replaced by "high-ranking officials." And they got there not by being "the best man for the job," but by being "the best candidate." Furniture and other trappings of office life are no longer "manmade."

They're "manufactured" or "artificial." The guidelines were written by J.B. Dixon, the MESC communications director. They were approved by the agency's executive board.

The guidelines are part of a U.S. Labor Department plan to curtail sex discrimination by eliminating sexist language. The agency already has taken sexual designations out of job titles, substituting such terms as "lodging quarters cleaners" for housemaids.

The new policy also will be included in salutations on letters. "Dear Employer" will replace "Dear Sir." And when a non-sexist greeting can't be found, the letter will have to do without.

Going Back Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 12, the 133rd day of 1976. There are 231 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1948, the Soviet Union announced the lifting of the Berlin Blockade, which had closed all but air routes to isolated West Berlin for 328 days.

On this date:

In 1774, the Boston Committee of Correspondence proposed that the American Colonies suspend trade with Britain because of British repressive measures. In 1820, the English woman who founded modern nursing, Florence Nightingale, was born in Florence, Italy.

In 1932, the body of the kidnapped baby son of Charles Lindbergh was found in a wooded area in Hopewell, New Jersey.

In 1938, Japanese warships captured the Chinese island of Amoy.

In 1943, the World War II Battle of North Africa ended with the German surrender of Cape Bon in Tunisia.

In 1965, West Germany and Israel established diplomatic relations. Ten years ago, Communist China accused the United States of shooting down a Chinese plane over Chinese territory.

Five years ago, the American Command in Vietnam reported that U.S. planes had knocked out 13 anti-aircraft guns in North Vietnam in less than an hour.

One year ago, the White House announced that a Cambodian naval ship had seized the U.S. merchant ship Mayaguez in international waters 80 miles off the coast of Cambodia.

Today's birthdays: Coach

Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees is 61. Composer Bart Sharaach is 47.

Thought for today: So much to do, so little time — Cecil Rhodes, British administrator and financier in South Africa, 1869-1902.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, Benjamin Franklin, who had been in Canada to check on progress of the American invasion, was on his way back to Saratoga and Albany in New York. Franklin was ill and was pessimistic over American prospects in the Canadian venture.

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — A psychiatrist, claiming a study shows that television violence affects the mental health of adults the same as it does children, has suggested federal censorship of the medium. "Dramatized television programs have substantial impact not only upon the young, but also upon adults," Dr. Roderic Gorney of the UCLA Department of Psychiatry told the American Psychiatric Association here Tuesday. "People have always said we should be careful of what our kids watch on TV," he said. "But now, we see that television can affect adult behavior, which in turn carries over to the way he treats his child."

Lawmaker Asks Plug Be Pulled

BOSTON (AP) — A Boston newspaper said today that Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., is near death at Bethesda Naval Hospital outside Washington after ordering that his life support systems be removed.

A hospital spokesman confirmed that Macdonald was in critical condition early today. Macdonald's administrative aide, Peter S. Knight, would not comment on the Boston Herald American report that Macdonald, 58, asked Monday that his life support system be removed.

U.S. Remains Firm On Cyclamate Ban

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has written what may be the final chapter in the bittersweet saga of cyclamate, the sugar substitute discovered by accident in 1937, consumed by millions of calorie-conscious Americans and banned as a potential health hazard in 1969.

The Food and Drug Administration announced late Tuesday that it will not lift its cyclamate ban because of "grave questions" about the risk to humans of cancer, genetic damage and reproductive injury.

Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt said he knew many people "would be willing to assume a reasonable risk," but concluded that "FDA must base its approval on an assurance that general availability of cyclamate for everyday use by anyone would be safe. I cannot give that assurance, and thus cannot approve its use at this time."

Schmidt asked Abbott Laboratories of North Chicago, Ill., to withdraw its 1973 petition seeking approval of cyclamate. Otherwise, his letter said, the FDA will formally deny the request in 30 days.

Abbott vice president Richard W. Kasperon said no decision had been made on withdrawing the petition. It could be resubmitted if new evidence were presented, or the firm could seek a new administrative hearing, which might be a prelude to a federal court contest.

Cyclamate was discovered in 1937 by Michael Sveda, then a chemistry student at the University of Illinois who noted a sweet taste in a cigarette he accidentally put down in a chemical compound.

Dozens of studies, the first in 1951, have failed to come up with a certain answer on whether cyclamate does pose a cancer risk.

At the FDA's request, the National Cancer Institute assembled a committee of scientists to take a fresh look at the studies, but the panel reported in February that safety questions can't be answered.

Present evidence "does not establish the carcinogenicity (cancer-causing potential) of cyclamate... in experimental animals," the scientists said, but "no conclusion could be reached concerning the question of cyclamate's potential carcinogenicity in humans."

Schmidt said "grave questions remain as to its cancer-causing potential in experimental animal tests and, by inference, in man." He cited studies suggesting that cyclamate may cause genetic damage when used at levels "not far in excess of that possible in ordinary consumption," as well as birth defects and reproductive damage.

While safe levels of cyclamate intake might be possible for humans, they would be so low "that only very restricted use could be envisioned, and the safety margin would be insufficient to allow general use of cyclamate in manufactured foods such as soft drinks."

"It can also be assumed that no matter how the substance might be labeled, significant numbers of people, including children and pregnant women wishing not to gain weight, would exceed the acceptable daily intake," the commissioner said. "Once cyclamate were in the home and freely available, regardless of any labeling to encourage moderate usage, there would be inappropriate or excessive use by some individuals over which there could be no meaningful control."

New Foreign Military Aid Bills Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Committees in both the House and Senate are offering new bills to replace a $4-billion foreign military aid measure vetoed by President Ford, but the new bills retain some of the provisions Ford liked least.

Ford vetoed the military aid bill on Friday, objecting to sections that would have temporarily lifted the U.S. embargo against Vietnam and allowed Congress to veto some of his military aid decisions. Both chambers decided not to try to override the veto.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee and House International Relations Committee approved new bills Tuesday. Both bills drop the Vietnam trade provision, but retain some congressional veto powers.

The Vietnam provision would have lifted the trade embargo for six months, and then permanently if the Vietnamese cooperated in accounting for Americans still listed as missing in the Vietnam war.

Both committees tacked the $4 billion authorization for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 onto an authorization for next year. The Senate committee produced a $6.7 billion two-year bill, while the House committee offered a $7 billion bill.

The full Senate and House may act on their respective new bills next week. A conference panel will then work out a final compromise bill.

IN COLONIAL days, the first solid ground on the marshy north shore of the Potomac was an outcrop of rocks which jutted into the river. This promontory served as the starting point for surveys establishing property lines for early settlers. Its popular name was Braddock's Rock reportedly. The World Almanac relates, because Gen. Braddock and his red-coated soldiers, among them Lt. Col. George Washington, landed there in 1755 on their way to Ft. Duquesne.

DIX, Neb. (AP) — "Is it too late to order some hamburgers?" a woman called to ask a small cafe in this western Nebraska town. "Good," she said when told it was not too late. "I'd like six. ... I'll have the governor of Nebraska pick them up."

And, indeed, a short time later the cafe waitress reported that Gov. James Exon came in personally and picked up the takeout order for a late night hamburger snack Monday.

MESC Now To Speak In 'Non-Sexist' Terms

DETROIT (AP) — If all goes according to plan, language around the Michigan Employment Security Commission is going to be as genderless as a desktop. In a three-page memo, the MESC, which oversees the state's job situation and is responsible for jobless payments to those without work, has told its 5,000 employees how to talk in a "non-sexist" way.

For instance, no longer are there "men in high places." They've been replaced by "high-ranking officials." And they got there not by being "the best man for the job," but by being "the best candidate." Furniture and other trappings of office life are no longer "manmade." They're "manufactured" or "artificial." The guidelines were written by J.B. Dixon, the MESC communications director. They were approved by the agency's executive board.

The guidelines are part of a U.S. Labor Department plan to curtail sex discrimination by eliminating sexist language. The agency already has taken sexual designations out of job titles, substituting such terms as "lodging quarters cleaners" for housemaids.

The new policy also will be included in salutations on letters. "Dear Employer" will replace "Dear Sir." And when a non-sexist greeting can't be found, the letter will have to do without.

State Senate Okays Longer Fiscal Year

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state legislature has ended a seven-month struggle to balance Michigan's budget with grudging Senate approval of a bill to extend the current fiscal year three months.

The extension is estimated by the Milliken administration to pick up an extra $107 million for the current year's books — just enough to overcome a projected deficit.

It extends the current fiscal year until Sept. 30, and a "mini budget" must be provided to maintain spending at roughly the current level. After two years of October-to-September budgets, the state will have a 21-month budget year and return to its July-June format.

The bill, approved 27-9 Tuesday, attracted only one more than the 26 votes needed to put it into effect immediately upon the governor's signature. It had earlier passed both chambers, but needed a two-thirds vote for immediate effect.

That was rejected twice in the Senate, but Tuesday lawmakers squarely faced the alternative of drastic budget cuts or the vetoing of crucial supplemental appropriations for social services.

After a day of closed-door discussions on the fading possibility of other action and intense lobbying by the administration, several hold-out senators reluctantly gave in.

As a result, lawmakers do not have to consider an executive order cutting the money from the budget. The reduction would have been devastating for school aid — $67 million or 38 per cent of the June payments.

Also safe is a $100 million supplemental appropriation for welfare and social services, which Gov. William Milliken threatened to veto rather than end the fiscal year in the red.

Milliken hailed the Senate action as "a sound, responsible decision."

The fiscal year extension is the final part of Milliken's program to avert a $280 million deficit this fiscal year. Other portions, which included an earlier $124 million reduction and borrowing $68 million from two restricted funds, have already been approved.

The extension of three months does not produce any "new" money, but it brings onto the books $107 million more than will be spent during that period. That is due to steadily increasing revenue and the fact the state will make only one bi-monthly school aid payment during the quarter.

Approval of the bill came only after its opponents got in some more licks at Milliken's budgetary track record and his latest gimmick to escape a tax increase. Critics, both Republican and Democrat, have blasted the approach to fiscal problems and many claim three more months of current spending levels is too severe.

"I am not going to vote for a continuation budget that will cut already inadequate services," said Sen. Joseph Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores. "We ought to publicly acknowledge we have a failure to meet the needs of the people, set aside our pride and say we need more money."

But other lawmakers, realizing a tax hike is impossible in an election year without Milliken's support, clearly found the fiscal year extension less distasteful than another cut in services.

Earlier in the day, Milliken delayed his order to trim the budget as Senate leaders proposed a series of delayed payments and juggled bookkeeping which might solve the problem. But after a morning meeting with authors of the proposal, the administration rejected it as too harmful of the upcoming fiscal year.

The proposal came from Sen. Earl Nelson, D-Lansing, chief opponent of the fiscal year extension. It would have delayed several revenue sharing and other payments until July, and reduced funding of the teacher retirement system as is proposed for the upcoming fiscal year.

But Milliken's budget experts said that would put too much a burden on the already austere 1976-77 budget, and said a budget cut or veto of the supplemental appropriations bills were the only alternatives.

Crime Victim Bill Near Final Approval

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — As it considers various bills designed to crack down on crime, the Michigan Legislature is also nearing final approval of a measure to provide help for crime victims.

The attention of lawmakers, and the public, largely has been directed toward such legislation as imposing mandatory sentences on criminals who use guns, or on drug dealers.

But the state House is to begin debate soon on a bill helping the needy victims of those crimes. Renewed action on the measure comes more than a year after it first passed the Senate.

Critics of the bill have limited their opposition mainly to claims the state cannot afford the added cost of awards and expenses — probably more than $1 million a year. But the bill has obvious political appeal, especially in an election year, and such programs are underway in other states.

The proposed law would not replace lost goods or money from burglaries or muggings. But it partially would make up the expense of medical payments or lost wages by helping injured persons or their relatives who face serious financial difficulties because they were victims of a crime.

The theory behind the measure is that government is responsible for preventing crime, and when it fails it should be responsible for helping the victim.

The bill would: —Set up a crime victim compensation board to consider and investigate claims and to grant awards.

—Define who is eligible for an award — generally a victim, surviving relative or a person dependent on the victim for support — and who is not — the criminal, an accomplice or someone living with the criminal.

—Set standards for eligibility — the loss of at least $100 in medical costs or treatment, or at least two weeks' wages.

—Set limits on the award — generally the cost of medical expenses and loss of earnings, but not more than $100 a week or $15,000 per crime to any applicant.

—Reduce awards by the amount of any insurance payment or emergency award which the board can grant immediately in cases of extreme hardship.

The victim would have the duty of reporting the crime within 48 hours and filing for the award within 30 days — 90 days for relatives if a death results. The victim would have to incur actual physical injury and suffer serious financial hardship to qualify.

A pregnancy due to a rape would qualify as an injury and entitle a victim who received medical care to an award.

The board would have to delay consideration of an application if the local prosecutor took action in the case and requested the board's delay. But the bill does not link awards to the conviction of the criminal in any way.

Decatur Township Giving $200 For Golden Agers

DECATUR — The Decatur township board last night approved donating $200 to the Van Buren County Commission on Aging to be used for programs provided for senior citizens.

The commission, headquartered in Hartford, has requested aid from all local governmental units in Van Buren county. Decatur township's representative on the commission's governing board is Mrs. Harriet Clemens.

In other areas, Supervisor Joseph Miller said he had learned from the county road commission that CR-352 is scheduled to be blacktopped this summer if enough money is available. He said the blacktopping would begin at the east village limit and extend east 1½ miles.

Miller noted that 22 miles of township roads were cleaned of litter by volunteers during the township's ecology day May 1. He said the litter filled nine truckloads.

Trustee May Kaplan, who is also the general chairman of the Decatur Bicentennial committee, reported that television station WKZO in Kalamazoo will feature Decatur on its Accent program June 11.

The board also voted to raise pay of election workers from $30 to $35 a day.

Half Guess Correctly On State 'Red Squad' File

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan State Police kept Red Squad files on more than half of the 279 people and organizations who suspected they were on file and put their names on a list to find out.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Patrick Aseltine said Tuesday that a State Police review of the list showed 159 of the names were in the Red Squad files, compiled since the 1950s under an anti-subversive statute.

Neither Aseltine nor Ingham County Circuit Court Judge Thomas Brown would disclose the names of those on whom files were kept.

He said he did not know when they would be notified.

The list was compiled from phone calls and letters to Brown after he ruled the 1950 statute unconstitutional and ordered the files destroyed. Those on the list wanted to see their files before they were destroyed, but court action since then has indefinitely postponed that destruction.

Hearings are currently set before Brown for July 7 and July 28 for those who wish to see their files.

Earlier, Judge Brown said he suspected many of the 279 who asked to see their files were "just paranoid," and said he didn't think the Red Squad had files on many of them.

Aseltine said he would not reveal the names of those with Red Squad files because a gag order issued April 14 by the state Court of Appeals prohibited the disclosure of any information on the files without the express consent of the judges in the case.

Those who suspected they might be on file include Detroit Recorder's Court Judge James Del Rio; state Sen. Basil Brown and state Rep. Jackie Vaughn of Detroit; state Rep. Perry Bullard of Ann Arbor and his staff; former U. S. Congressman Raymond Clevenger of Ann Arbor; and radical John Sinclair.

Both Brown and Wayne County Circuit Court Judges James Montante have suits pending before them.

They also include the United Auto Workers, the U. S. Labor Party, a woman who subscribes to "Ms" Magazine, students, professors, former state bureaucrats, newspaper reporters, newspaper letter writers and others.

Michael Oesterle, one of Brown's court officers, said none of the 279 have yet been told if a file was kept on them.

Two Erosion Control Jobs Are Planned

Marine Land Construction company of Muskegon has made two applications to the Army Corps of Engineers, Detroit office, to construct shoreline protection devices in Lake Michigan off Notre Dame avenue, Stevensville.

The company in making the applications was acting as agent for David B. Topping, 5294 Notre Dame avenue, and Roger Cayo, 5280 Notre Dame avenue.

The proposed bulkheads will be about 100 feet in total length. The two proposed groins will extend about 62 feet into the lake from the face of the bulkhead. All structures will be constructed of dura bags, filled with approximately 100 cubic yards of sand dredged from the waterway.

Comments concerning either application must be submitted in writing to the Detroit office by June 2.

Patty, Harrises To Meet

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst prepared to confront William and Emily Harris in court today as co-defendants; not comrades, in their first meeting since arrest ended their underground voyage last year.

The three, once joined on FBI posters as America's most wanted fugitives, were due in court for a hearing on Miss Hearst's request to sever her legal ties to the Harrises.

The 22-year-old newspaper heiress, now a convicted bank robber, wants to be tried separately on charges involving a day and night of violence in Los Angeles two years ago.

She was to be driven to court by U.S. marshals from the Metropolitan Correctional Center in San Diego, about 150 miles south of here, where she is undergoing diagnostic tests.

IRS Wants To Give Back Some Money

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — First the bad news: the IRS is looking for a couple of million Americans. Now the good news: the IRS wants to give them some money.

The Internal Revenue Service says more than two million Americans might be eligible for a cash windfall from the government, but haven't applied for the money under a special tax credit available to some taxpayers who earned less than $8,000 in 1975.

The IRS had expected up to three million people to qualify for payments of up to $400 but the service said its figures show that only about one-tenth of that number, or 300,000 individuals, have filed a tax form to receive the money.

A total of $1.5 billion was set aside to pay to those claiming the credit.

The windfall is called the earned income credit and under the provisions of this new tax break individuals could receive income tax refund checks from IRS even if they paid no 1975 federal taxes. Or the credit could be used to reduce any taxes owed.

To receive the credit, an individual must file an income tax return.

It does surprise us how few people are taking advantage of the credit," an IRS spokesman said.

The IRS is trying to find potentially qualified taxpayers who haven't claimed the credit.

The tax collectors said that by this year's filing deadline the agency had sent form notices to 1.8 million people advising them they might have been eligible to reduce their tax bill by using the credit.

The reasons for the low response rate aren't clear yet, but analysts in the Treasury Department and on Capitol Hill suspect the newness of the credit, a unique wrinkle in the U.S. tax law, is one factor.

To be eligible for the credit, a taxpayer must have earned $8,000 or less in 1975 and have at least one dependent child. If married, a joint return must be filed.

The credit amounts to 10 percent of earned income up to $4,000 minus 10 percent of earned income between $4,000 and $8,000.

It would work this way. A married person supporting a family of three on $3,500 wouldn't have to pay any taxes, probably wouldn't have had any withheld from his or her paycheck and normally would not have to file a return.

With the earned income credit, the person would receive a government check for $350, but would have to file a return to apply for it.

Eligible taxpayers who haven't filed a return can still do so even though the filing deadline is past. Those who filed but neglected to claim the credit can file an amended tax return.

Senate Confirms Guy Nomination As U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate on Tuesday confirmed the nomination of Ralph B. Guy, Jr., to be a federal judge for the eastern district of Michigan. Guy has been the U.S. attorney for the district since 1970.

AGNEW: Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew gestures as he makes his first network television appearance on the NBC-TV "Today" Show Tuesday in New York since he resigned 2½ years ago. Agnew said he would "probably not" choose politics as a career if he had it to do over and said the reasons lie with the news media. (AP Wirephoto)

State Tax Refunds Are Bigger, Faster

Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's average taxpayer $411 receive a state income tax refund slightly bigger and a few days earlier than last year, according to state treasury officials.

Between 900,000 and one million returns are still waiting to be processed, including many last-minute filings mailed on the April 15 deadline. Another 50,000 returns have not even been filed, though only 4,000 to 8,000 of those delinquents owe the state money.

So far the state has paid $126 million in refunds to some 2.2 million taxpayers, compared to $261 million paid out at this point last year to about 1.9 million people.

The average refund so far this year is $147, $12 more than last year's average $135 refund, said Karl Gemalsky, who has run the income tax division of the State Treasury Department since 1967. Payments are running a few days earlier this year because temporary employees who work from February to June were called in a few days earlier and put the process slightly ahead of schedule, he said.

The slight boost in the size of the average refund is due, in part, to higher property taxes in 1975 and more unemployment, Gemalsky said. Higher property taxes means more property tax credit and higher unemployment typically leads to employees' overpaying through withholding tax, he said.

Returns of those who filed by the April 15 deadline may still be in mailbags, Gemalsky said, but refunds should be out by the end of June.

Of the total 50,000 delinquent taxpayers, 80 to 90 per cent, probably have small refunds coming, but "don't want to pay the tax practitioner for preparing their returns, or don't want to bother," he said. Late filers who owe money will be socked with a 5 per cent a month penalty fee, up to a maximum 25 per cent, plus a 3/4 per cent interest charge per month.

The penalties can be waived, he said, for good cause, like serious illness, a flood or fire, or the fact that the tax consultant needed more time to prepare the returns.

"We do get some real extenuating circumstances," Gemalsky said, but excuses must be backed up by evidence, and most delinquents don't get off the hook.

He acknowledged the Treasury Department makes little effort to find those who don't owe the state any money, though Gemalsky says "we like everybody to file and get the refunds they're entitled to."

Those who owe money and choose not to file at all have at least until November before state collection agents get on

Two Sawyer Teens Heading For Trial

Two teens charged with vandalism at Bridgman high school were bound over to circuit court yesterday, while charges against a third teenager were dismissed.

Waiving preliminary examinations in Berrien Fifth District court were Raymond Freyer Jr., 17, and Byron L. Davis, 18, of different addresses on Sand Ridge road, Sawyer. They are charged with breaking and entering the school April 29 and with malicious destruction to property valued over $100.

A charge of malicious destruction to property valued over $100 was dismissed against William Howard Boyd, Jr., 18, the son of William H. Boyd, the chief of the Bridgman Fire department.

Asst. Prosecutor Pat Murphy said that Boyd has been accepted for the county deferred prosecution program.

The three were arrested following an alleged vandalism spree that caused $4,000 to $5,000 damage at the school, according to an estimate by Dr. David Lechner, superintendent of Bridgman schools. Davis and Freyer were released on $3,500 bonds.

WMU Summer Courses Planned

Thirteen summer session courses will be offered by Western Michigan university through its Benton Harbor Regional center, 777 Riverview drive, starting Monday, June 28, according to Stephen R. Nisbet, director. Some of the courses will be conducted at Lake Michigan college and some at the regional office, Nisbet said. Deadline for registering for summer session off-campus courses is June 18. The session ends Aug. 20. Information on courses and tuition can be obtained by calling the Benton Harbor center, 925-7050.

Kazoo Man Demands Hearing In Berrien

A Kalamazoo man, charged with obstructing justice by altering evidence of a property damage auto accident demand preliminary examination Tuesday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Mike Morrison, 24, allegedly tried to "bump out a fender" of a car which had been involved in a hit and run accident May 8 in Stevensville, according to the felony warrant. He was released on $250 bond.

Darrell R. Allen, 23, of 777 East Main street, Benton Harbor, demanded examination on a charge of assault with intent to murder Dennis Shepherd May 8 in Benton township. He failed to post $10,000 bond and was jailed.

Bound over to circuit court after waiving examinations were:

Leonard Slocum (also known as Bernard Slowpoke), 21, of Townline road, Benton township, on charges of breaking and entering a Benton township house April 16 and unarmed robbery of Minnie Patterson April 23 in Benton township. Bonds totaling $5,000 were not posted.

Rodney H. Sanders, 26, of Kalamazoo, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, a pistol, against Herm Kent April 7 in Benton township. He continued free on $500 bond.

James R. Denton, 19, of 3502 Niles road, Royalton township, accused of delivery of hashish Feb. 2 in Royalton township and delivery of marijuana March 8 in Benton Harbor. He was jailed under two $2,000 bonds.

Timothy L. Baggett, 17, of Gallen, on a charge of breaking and entering the Max Nitz residence, Baroda township, Oct. 20, 1975. Baggett was a 16-year-old juvenile at the time of the alleged crime, but juvenile court waived jurisdiction and sent him to adult court. He is free on $5,000 bail.

Sentenced were: Naamon Sloan, 36, of Detroit, 15 days in jail for contempt of court — failure to appear for a trial in November of 1974 on a charge of driving while license suspended. The traffic charge is still pending.

Ralph D. Grady, 52, of Justice, Ill., fine and costs of $200 for possession of an unregistered pistol April 14 in Coloma township.

IRS Wants To Give Back Some Money

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — First the bad news: the IRS is looking for a couple of million Americans. Now the good news: the IRS wants to give them some money.

The Internal Revenue Service says more than two million Americans might be eligible for a cash windfall from the government, but haven't applied for the money under a special tax credit available to some taxpayers who earned less than $8,000 in 1975.

The IRS had expected up to three million people to qualify for payments of up to $400 but the service said its figures show that only about one-tenth of that number, or 300,000 individuals, have filed a tax form to receive the money.

A total of $1.5 billion was set aside to pay to those claiming the credit.

The windfall is called the earned income credit and under the provisions of this new tax break individuals could receive income tax refund checks from IRS even if they paid no 1975 federal taxes. Or the credit could be used to reduce any taxes owed.

To receive the credit, an individual must file an income tax return.

"It does surprise us how few people are taking advantage of the credit," an IRS spokesman said.

The IRS is trying to find potentially qualified taxpayers who haven't claimed the credit.

The tax collectors said that by this year's filing deadline the agency had sent form notices to 1.8 million people advising them they might have been eligible to reduce their tax bill by using the credit.

The reasons for the low response rate aren't clear yet, but analysts in the Treasury Department and on Capitol Hill suspect the newness of the credit, a unique wrinkle in the U.S. tax law, is one factor.

To be eligible for the credit, a taxpayer must have earned $8,000 or less in 1975 and have at least one dependent child. If married, a joint return must be filed.

The credit amounts to 10 per cent of earned income up to $4,000 minus 10 per cent of earned income between $4,000 and $8,000.

It would work this way. A married person supporting a family of three on $3,300 wouldn't have to pay any taxes, probably wouldn't have had any withheld from his or her paycheck and normally would not have to file a return.

With the earned income credit, the person would receive a government check for $330, but would have to file a return to apply for it.

Eligible taxpayers who haven't filed a return can still do so even though the filing deadline is past. Those who filed but neglected to claim the credit can file an amended tax return.

Senate Confirms Guy Nomination As U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate on Tuesday confirmed the nomination of Ralph B. Guy, Jr., to be a federal judge for the eastern district of Michigan.

Guy has been the U.S. attorney for the district since 1970.

State Tax Refunds Are Bigger, Faster

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's average taxpayer will receive a state income tax refund slightly bigger and a few days earlier than last year, according to state treasury officials.

But between 900,000 and one million returns are still waiting to be processed, including many last-minute filings mailed on the April 15 deadline. Another 50,000 returns have not even been filed, though only 4,000 to 8,000 of those delinquents owe the state money.

So far the state has paid $326 million in refunds to some 2.2 million taxpayers, compared to $261 million paid out at this point last year to about 1.9 million people.

The average refund so far this year is $147, $12 more than last year's average $135 refund, said Kurt Gemalsky, who has run the income tax division of the State Treasury Department since 1967. Payments are running a few days earlier this year because temporary employees who work from February to June were called in a few days earlier and put the process slightly ahead of schedule, he said.

The slight boost in the size of the average refund is due, in part, to higher property taxes in 1975 and more unemployment, Gemalsky said. Higher property taxes means more property tax credit and higher unemployment typically leads to employees' overpaying through withholding tax, he said.

Returns of those who filed by the April 15 deadline may still be in mailbags, Gemalsky said, but refunds should be out by the end of June.

Of the total 50,000 delinquent tax-payers, 80 to 90 per cent probably have small refunds coming, but "don't want to pay the tax practitioner for preparing their returns, or don't want to bother," he said. Late filers who owe money will be socked with a 5 per cent a month penalty fee, up to a maximum 25 per cent, plus a ¼ per cent interest charge per month.

The penalties can be waived, he said, for good cause, like serious illness, a flood or fire, or the fact that the tax consultant needed more time to prepare the returns.

"We do get some real extenuating circumstances," Gemalsky said, but excuses must be backed up by evidence, and most delinquents don't get off the hook.

He acknowledged the Treasury Department makes little effort to find those who don't owe the state any money, though Gemalsky says "we like everybody to file and get the refunds they're entitled to."

Those who owe money and choose not to file at all have at least until November before state collection agents get on

Two Sawyer Teens Heading For Trial

Two teens charged with vandalism at Bridgman high school were bound over to circuit court yesterday, while charges against a third teenager were dismissed.

Waiving preliminary examinations in Berrien Fifth District court were Raymond Freyer Jr., 17, and Byron L. Davis, 18, of different addresses on Sand Ridge road, Sawyer. They are charged with breaking and entering the school April 25 and with malicious destruction to property valued over $100.

A charge of malicious destruction to property valued over $100 was dismissed against William Howard Boyd, Jr., 18, the son of William H. Boyd, the chief of the Bridgman Fire department.

Asst. Prosecutor Pat Murphy said that Boyd has been accepted for the county deferred prosecution program.

The three were arrested following an alleged vandalism spree that caused $4,000 to $5,000 damage at the school, according to an estimate by Dr. David Lechner, superintendent of Bridgman schools. Davis and Freyer were released on $3,500 bonds.

WMU Summer Courses Planned

Thirteen summer session courses will be offered by Western Michigan university through its Benton Harbor Regional center, 777 Riverview drive, starting Monday, June 28, according to Stephen R. Deadline for registering for summer session off-campus courses is June 18. The session ends Aug. 20. Information on courses and tuition can be obtained by calling the Benton Harbor center, 925-7059.

Kazoo Man Demands Hearing In Berrien

A Kalamazoo man charged with obstructing justice by altering evidence of a property damage auto accident demanded preliminary examination Tuesday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Mike Morrison, 24, allegedly tried to "bump out a fender" of a car which had been involved in a hit and run accident May 9 in Stevensville, according to the felony warrant. He was released on $250 bond.

Darrell R. Allen, 23, of 777 East Main street, Benton Harbor, demanded examination on a charge of assault with intent to murder Dennis Shepherd May 8 in Benton township. He failed to post $10,000 bond and was jailed.

Bound over to Circuit court after waiving examinations were:

Leonard Slocum (also known as Bernard Slowpoke), 21, of Townline road, Benton township, on charges of breaking and entering a Benton township house April 16 and unarmed robbery of Minnie Patterson April 23 in Benton township. Bonds totaling $5,000 were not posted.

Rodney H. Sanders, 26, of Kalamazoo, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, a pistol, against Herm Kent April 7 in Benton township. He continued free on $500 bond.

James R. Denton, 19, of 3502 Niles road, Royalton township, accused of delivery of hashish Feb. 2 in Royalton township and delivery of marijuana March 8 in Benton Harbor. He was jailed under two $2,000 bonds.

Timothy L. Baggett, 17, of Galien, on a charge of breaking and entering the Max Nitz residence, Baroda township, Oct. 20, 1975. Baggett was a 16-year-old juvenile at the time of the alleged crime, but Juvenile court waived jurisdiction and sent him to adult court. He is free on $5,000 bail.

Sentenced were: Naamon Sloan, 36, of Detroit, 15 days in jail for contempt of court — failure to appear for a trial in November of 1974 on a charge of driving while license suspended. The traffic charge is still pending.

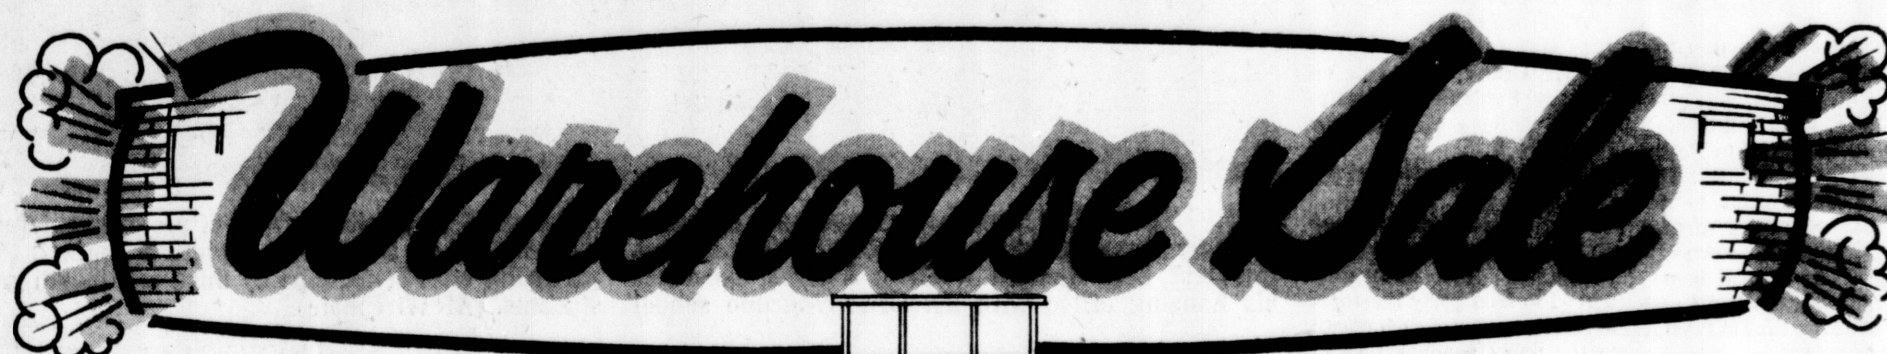

Ralph D. Grady, 52, of Justice, Ill., fine and costs of $200 for possession of an unregistered pistol April 14 in Coloma township.

Ford, Carter Most Popular In State

DETROIT (AP) — President Ford and Jimmy Carter ranked as the most popular presidential candidates in Michigan in a poll taken before the Texas primary, a Detroit newspaper reported today. A copyrighted story in the Detroit News said the poll was conducted April 21-May 1, prior to primaries in Texas and other states in which Republican Ronald Reagan registered his greatest gains to date. Market Opinion Research said the poll, based on 500 telephone interviews, showed Ford was popular with all voting groups except for those likely to be called "very liberal." It said Carter, showing the strength that made him the frontrunner in most Democratic primaries, cuts across voting groups "very conservative to very liberal" as the second most popular vote-getter in Michigan. It said the bulk of Reagan supporters were bunched in the conservative wing of the electorate. It estimated 26 per cent of the voters called themselves conservative while 20 per cent listed themselves as liberal.

Nebraska Voters Go For Reagan

Nebraska. "This confirms my support is not a Wallace vote," he said. "Nebraska is a legitimate test in the Republican party."

Reagan's campaign manager, John Sears, said the Nebraska triumph had given the challenger's campaign a boost. Sears had no comment on West Virginia.

Presidential Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford was happy with the results in West Virginia, but had no comment on Nebraska.

The President's campaign manager, Rogers C.B. Morton, blamed the President's Nebraska defeat on what he called the "domino" effect of Reagan's victories in the past two weeks in Texas, Indiana, Georgia and Alabama. Morton said losses were "always disappointing" and said the President must win in his home state of Michigan next week to "prove he's viable."

Asked what he would do to change Ford as a candidate, Morton replied: "I'm not going to rearrange the furniture on the deck of the Titanic." He did not elaborate.

On Tuesday, a dozen congressional Republicans authored a statement supporting Ford for the nomination, acknowledging that they did so because of his string of primary losses.

The statement praised Ford's record of Democratic spending legislation and said Ford has worked effectively "for a strong national defense and a viable and sustainable economy."

Church, meanwhile, called his victory a miracle and predicted it would carry him to victories in upcoming primaries in the northwest and eventually at the Democratic National Convention. "I'm stunned," he said in Omaha.

"I started four weeks ago and came from nowhere," he said. "Nobody thought we had a chance."

Udall said his showing in Connecticut and Church's in Nebraska marked "the end of a wholesale stampede to the Carter bandwagon." The Arizona congressman said it would give him a real chance to upset Carter in Michigan next week.

Carter summed up his night by saying: "Well, I can't win 'em all."

He said Church "has done a good job," and added: "When I come in even with as good a candidate as Sen. Church or as fine a campaigner as Congressman Udall, that's still a good showing."

Earlier Tuesday, Carter visited the Capitol and picked up the endorsement of 18 freshmen Democratic congressmen. He told a news conference that "I'm not anti-Washington." But he said if he's elected president it would signal in Washington that "the time for change has come."

In state contests, John D. Rockefeller IV won the Democratic nomination for governor of West Virginia and will face former Gov. Cecil Underwood, who won the Republican contest.

In Nebraska, Rep. John W. McCullister won the GOP nomination to run for the seat of retiring Republican Sen. Roman C. Hruska. Mayor Edward Zorinsky of Omaha led for the Democratic nomination.

Shepard Set For Reunion With Ford

President Ford's campaign visit to Michigan this week will serve as the occasion for a reunion with L. Montgomery Shepard, one of the state's top GOP fund-raisers. Shepard, president of Berrien County Abstract and Title Co., St. Joseph, will be present for Ford's speech this afternoon to the Detroit Economic Club in Bloomfield Hills and also may be aboard the President's campaign train Saturday. Shepard has a long association with Ford, beginning when Shepard was an undergraduate at Yale and Ford was his junior varsity football coach.

Originally used for naval captives, prison ships were probably more horrible than land prisons and were crowded with soldiers. The British started using ships as prisons after the fire of New York City in September, 1776. Improper administration of the prison ships — overcrowding, poor sanitation, and inadequate food — turned them into death traps. It is estimated that as many as 11,500 imprisoned Americans died aboard the New York ships. The World Almanac notes.

'It's My Fault . . .'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Insufficient staff is the reason the Department of Social Services has failed to enforce a law requiring it to inspect state-operated facilities for juvenile delinquents, a state official says. "It's my fault, my responsibility," said the agency's director, John T. Dempsey, who contended the department does not have enough personnel or money to enforce the law. The agency's failure to enforce the law came to light as officials Tuesday closed one state-run home for delinquents in Detroit which was found to be in violation of city health laws.

Closet Yields Body

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (A) — An autopsy was scheduled today to determine the cause of death of a 41-year-old man whose decomposed body was found in the closet of an adult foster care facility where he was a patient. Michael Leavitt had been missing since April 26, said Huron County Asst. Prosecutor Douglas Lee. Leavitt's body was found Tuesday. Lee said an employee of the foster care facility found the body in a closet under a stairwell while the worker was cleaning.

Exclusive Sales Territory

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill limiting the sales territory of beer wholesalers has passed the House and is in the Senate. Supporters say the measure protects small businessmen but at least one opponent says it restrains trade. The House Tuesday approved 65-41 a bill requiring manufacturers and sellers of beer or malt beverages to grant each of their wholesalers an exclusive sales territory. Within that territory, the wholesaler would be the only distributor of the specific brands. However, a manufacturer would be able to grant different wholesalers the right to sell different brands within the same territory.

President To Chug Across Michigan

tuesday and Jack heads for the Detroit area on Friday.

Ford originally planned only one pre-primary Michigan visit, but campaign aides persuaded him to return for the train ride.

In addition to the train tour, Ford's weekend visit were said to include other events, but details were not immediately available.

President Ford will put in a crowded day of campaigning in the Detroit area on Wednesday. At 11:30 a.m., he arrives at Detroit Metro Airport. Following sessions with the Detroit area media, he will speak to the Economic Club of Detroit at 4:30 p.m. at Rona Hall in Bloomfield Hills.

The president plans to tour the Ford VanDyke chassis plant in Sterling Heights about 7 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. he is scheduled to address a public rally at Macomb Mall. He is to depart Detroit Metro at 9:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, Morris Udall continued his frantic Michigan campaign today, predicting he could upset frontrunner Jimmy Carter in the Michigan Democratic presidential primary.

Udall said he was heartened by his close second place showing to Carter in Tuesday's Connecticut primary election.

And Sen. Frank Church's victory over Carter in Nebraska proves Carter more vulnerable than many people thought,

Udall said. The Connecticut and Nebraska elections mark "the end of the wholesale stampede to the Carter bandwagon," said Udall.

The Democratic party in Michigan added to the dispute regarding cross-over voting by urging its members not to vote for Republicans in next Tuesday's presidential primary election.

In a statement issued Tuesday, Democratic party officers condemned cross-over voting as "a mockery of the American political system" and chided Republicans for "political shenanigans" for trying to woo Democratic defectors.

Republicans in the Ford and Reagan camps have urged independents and Democrats to vote with the GOP. Both Republican camps are particularly anxious to attract voters who cast ballots four years ago for Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

The Alabama governor won the 1972 Michigan Democratic presidential primary with 51 per cent of the vote.

Conservative Reagan is seen as the biggest potential benefactor from cross-over voting.

Bangor Township To Seek Bids For 66th Street Repair Project

BANGOR — Supervisor Glenn Hessey told the Bangor township board last night he has been informed that the county road commission will ask for bids on repaving and resurfacing 2½ miles of 66th street.

The repairs, to be made this summer, will begin at the 34th avenue intersection and run north to the township line.

In other areas, the board postponed a decision on whether to join in a county solid waste disposal program for trash and garbage.

Board members said they needed more information on the plan which involves trucking waste from 10 transfer points in the county to a central landfill proposed for Arlington township.

If adopted, Bangor township would have to provide about $11,000 a year, or $6.45 per resident, for operating the system. The money could be billed or raised from property taxes, according to Paul Kaiser, county highway engineer-manager.

It was announced there will be a public hearing Wednesday, May 26, at 1:30 p.m. at the township hall to hear comments from Van Auken lake residents on boating problems. Some residents have requested that rules be adopted regulating hours for use of the lake and imposing boat speed limits.

Ford, Carter Most Popular In State

DETROIT (AP) — President Ford and Jimmy Carter ranked as the most popular presidential candidates in Michigan in a poll taken before the Texas primary, a Detroit newspaper reported today. A copyrighted story in the Detroit News said the poll was conducted April 21-May 1, prior to primaries in Texas and other states in which Republican Ronald Reagan registered his greatest gains to date. Market Opinion Research said the poll, based on 500 telephone interviews, showed Ford was popular with all voting groups except for those likely to be called "very liberal." It said Carter, showing the strength that made him the frontrunner in most Democratic primaries, cuts across voting groups "very conservative to very liberal" as the second most popular vote-getter in Michigan. It said the bulk of Reagan supporters were bunched in the conservative wing of the electorate. It estimated 28 per cent of the voters called themselves conservative while 20 per cent listed themselves as liberal.

Nebraska Voters Go For Reagan

Nebraska. "This confirms my support is not a Wallace vote," he said. "Nebraska is a legitimate test in the Republican party."

Reagan's campaign manager, John Sears, said the Nebraska triumph had given the challenger's campaign a boost. Sears had no comment on West Virginia.

Presidential Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford was happy with the results in West Virginia, but had no comment on Nebraska.

The President's campaign manager, Rogers C.B. Morton, blamed the President's Nebraska defeat on what he called the "domino" effect of Reagan's victories in the past two weeks in Texas, Indiana, Georgia and Alabama. Morton said losses were "always disappointing" and said the President must win in his home state of Michigan next week to "prove he's viable."

Asked what he would do to change Ford as a candidate, Morton replied: "I'm not going to rearrange the furniture on the deck of the Titanic." He did not elaborate.

On Tuesday, a dozen congressional Republicans authored a statement supporting Ford for the nomination, acknowledging that they did so because of his string of primary losses.

The statement praised Ford's vetoes of Democratic spending legislation and said Ford has worked effectively "for a strong national defense and a viable and sustainable economy."

Church, meanwhile, called his victory a miracle and predicted it would carry him to victories in upcoming primaries in the northwest and eventually at the Democratic National Convention. "I'm stumped," he said in Omaha.

"I started four weeks ago and came from nowhere," he said. "Nobody thought we had a chance."

Udall said his showing in Connecticut and Church's in Nebraska marked "the end of a wholesale stampede to the Carter bandwagon." The Arizona congressman said it would give him a real chance to upset Carter in Michigan next week.

Carter summed up his night by saying: "Well, I can't win 'em all."

He said Church "has done a good job," and added: "When I come in even with as good a candidate as Sen. Church or as fine a campaigner as Congressman Udall, that's still a good showing."

Earlier Tuesday, Carter visited the Capitol and picked up the endorsement of 18 freshmen Democratic congressmen. He told a news conference that "I'm not anti-Washington." But he said if he's elected president it would signal in Washington that "the time for change has come."

In state contests, John D. Rockefeller IV won the Democratic nomination for governor of West Virginia and will face former Gov. Cecil Underwood, who won the Republican contest.

In Nebraska, Rep. John W. McColister won the GOP nomination to run for the seat of retiring Republican Sen. Roman C. Hruska. Mayor Edward Zorinsky of Omaha led for the Democratic nomination.

Shepard Set For Reunion With Ford

President Ford's campaign visit to Michigan this week will serve as the occasion for a reunion with L. Montgomery Shepard, one of the state's top GOP fund-raisers. Shepard, president of Berrien County Abstract and Title Co., St. Joseph, will be present for Ford's speech this afternoon to the Detroit Economic Club in Bloomfield Hills and also may be aboard the President's campaign train Saturday.

Shepard has a long association with Ford, beginning when Shepard was an undergraduate at Yale and Ford was his junior varsity football coach.

'It's My Fault . . .'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Insufficient staff is the reason the Department of Social Services has failed to enforce a law requiring it to inspect state-operated facilities for juvenile delinquents, a state official says. "It's my fault, my responsibility," said the agency's director, John T. Dempsey, who contended the department does not have enough personnel or money to enforce the law. The agency's failure to enforce the law came to light as officials Tuesday closed one state-run home for delinquents in Detroit which was found to be in violation of city health laws.

Closet Yields Body

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (A) — An autopsy was scheduled today to determine the cause of death of a 41-year-old man whose decomposed body was found in the closet of an adult foster care facility where he was a patient. Michael Leavitt had been missing since April 26, said Huron County Asst. Prosecutor Douglas Lee. Leavitt's body was found Tuesday. Lee said an employee of the foster care facility found the body in a closet under a stairwell while the worker was cleaning.

Exclusive Sales Territory

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill limiting the sales territory of beer wholesalers has passed the House and is in the Senate. Supporters say the measure protects small businesses but at least one opponent says it restrains trade. The House Tuesday approved 65-41 a bill requiring manufacturers and sellers of beer or malt beverages to grant each of their wholesalers an exclusive sales territory. Within that territory, the wholesaler would be the only distributor of the specific brands. However, a manufacturer would be able to grant different wholesalers the right to sell different brands within the same territory.

President To Chug Across Michigan

tuesday and Jack heads for the Detroit area on Friday.

Ford originally planned only one pre-primary Michigan visit, but campaign aides persuaded him to return for the train ride.

In addition to the train tour, Ford's weekend visit were said to include other events, but details were not immediately available.

President Ford will put in a crowded day of campaigning in the Detroit area on Wednesday. At 11:30 a.m., he arrives at Detroit Metro Airport. Following sessions with the Detroit area media, he will speak to the Economic Club of Detroit at 4:30 p.m. at Roma Hall in Bloomfield Hills.

The president plans to tour the Ford VanDyke chassis plant in Sterling Heights about 7 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. he is scheduled to address a public rally at Macomb Mall. He is to depart Detroit Metro at 9:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, Morris Udall continued his frantic Michigan campaign today, predicting he could upset frontrunner Jimmy Carter in the Michigan Democratic presidential primary.

Udall said he was heartened by his close second place showing to Carter in Tuesday's Connecticut primary election.

And Sen. Frank Church's victory over Carter in Nebraska proves Carter more vulnerable than many people thought,

Udall said. The Connecticut and Nebraska elections mark "the end of the wholesale stampede to the Carter bandwagon," said Udall.

The Democratic party in Michigan added to the dispute regarding cross-over voting by urging its members not to vote for Republicans in next Tuesday's presidential primary election.

In a statement issued Tuesday, Democratic party officers condemned cross-over voting as "a mockery of the American political system" and chided Republicans for "political shenanigans" for trying to woo Democratic defectors.

Republicans in the Ford and Reagan camps have urged independents and Democrats to vote with the GOP. Both Republican camps are particularly anxious to attract voters who cast ballots four years ago for Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

The Alabama governor won the 1972 Michigan Democratic presidential primary with 51 per cent of the vote.

Conservative Reagan is seen as the biggest potential benefactor from cross-over voting.

Bangor Township To Seek Bids For 66th Street Repair Project

BANGOR — Supervisor Glenn Hessey told the Bangor township board last night he has been informed that the county road commission will ask for bids on repairing and resurfacing 2 1/2 miles of 66th street.

The repairs, to be made this summer, will begin at the 34th avenue intersection and run north to the township line.

In other areas, the board postponed a decision on whether to join in a county solid waste disposal program for trash and garbage.

Board members said they needed more information on the plan which involves trucking

HIGH COURT PERFORMANCE HIT

Defendant Rights Overemphasized,
Newest Justice DeclaresBy JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

The Michigan Supreme Court has gone overboard in the protection of individuals accused of crimes, but has done little to relieve a growing backlog of civil cases in the courts, Justice James L. Ryan declared Tuesday.

The newest member of the high state court also attacked the widespread use of plea bargaining in the court system, and as a partial alternative suggested what he termed "sentence bargaining". Speaking to an audience of judges and attorneys at the Berrien County Bar association's Law Day luncheon, Ryan said supreme court decisions in the past five years have pushed Michigan to the "outer rim" of states granting criminally accused protection not mandated by either the U.S. Constitution or the U.S. Supreme Court.

At the same time, he said, the supreme court's decisions have placed an increasingly heavier burden on the people, creating an imbalance in the criminal justice system.

In an interview before his speech, Ryan said that the supreme court had not done enough to find new ways of disposing of civil disagreements between citizens that have created a tremendous backlog on court dockets throughout the state.

He said the circuit court in Michigan has not tried a civil case in the past 15 months and that new methods must be found of resolving civil cases outside the accepted trial procedure. At the present time, he said, the supreme court is considering a rule that the losing party in civil suits be made to pay costs and attorney fees spent by the winning party in hope of encouraging out-of-court settlements.

Ryan, 43, was appointed last December to fill the seat vacated by former Gov. John Swainson, who resigned from the Supreme Court after his conviction for perjury in U.S. District Court.

Before his appointment, Ryan served almost 10 years as circuit court judge in Wayne county.

During his interview, Ryan stated that he was opposed to legal abortions and to plea-bargaining, but refused to discuss his views on forced busing of students to achieve racial balance in the schools because "it's not conceivable that our court may have to rule on this matter in the future."

Ryan, a former president of the anti-abortion group Michigan Citizens for Life, said he viewed abortion as a civil rights issue and said he supported efforts toward a constitutional amendment banning abortions "as a private citizen."

Until such an amendment is adopted, however, he said that he was "obligated and willing" to follow the U.S. Supreme Court decision that any woman has a right to an abortion because "that is the law of the land."

Ryan suggested that much criticism of courts for being soft on hardened criminals stems from widespread use of plea-bargaining — reducing charges in exchange for guilty pleas by the accused.

He said that 85 to 90 percent of all criminal cases in Michigan excluding traffic violations now are disposed of by plea-bargaining, which drastically reduces the maximum length of sentences judges can hand down.

"I think that it's very discouraging to a public citizen, who's been a victim of a crime that the chances of the accused being convicted of the crime he committed are almost nil," Ryan said.

"I don't think plea-bargaining is in the public interest," he said, "but advocates of plea-bargaining make an excellent point that the whole system would come to a grinding halt if all these cases went to trial."

As a partial solution to the dilemma, Ryan suggested "sentence-bargaining," which he said would restore accuracy to court records as well as return a semblance of honesty to the entire proceedings.

He also would discourage plea-bargaining in offenses the accused hasn't committed and which "don't even exist in logic," such as "attempted possession of marijuana" or "attempted assault," which he said are legal doublets.

In regard to student busing, Ryan said that although lasting cases now are being pursued through the federal courts, the state courts have concurrent jurisdiction and well may be called on to hear busing cases in the future.

Ryan said that he feels the "so-called conflict" between freedom of the press and the rights of privacy and a fair trial are often blown "way out of proportion" and that he never had any problems with the press in almost 10 years as a trial judge.

He did say that "I'm not so sure that the public's right to know is justification for printing anything interesting in a trial."

In the recent Patty Hearst trial, he said, publication of testimony given while the jury was out of the courtroom resulted in "turning jurors into prisoners" so they would not be exposed to information that might be the basis for declaring a mistrial.

"It may be the public's right to know that information," he said, "but I'm not sure it couldn't wait until the determination of the trial."

Michigan Is Key To Stop Udall,
Jack Carter SaysBy MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

Flashing a familiar smile, Jack Carter, son of Democratic presidential front-runner Jimmy Carter, explained "dad's approach" to the issues yesterday at Lake Michigan College.

Carter, 28, spoke to some 40 people yesterday at LMC — his first stop in Michigan in preparation for the state's presidential primary next Tuesday.

The Junior Carter said he viewed Michigan's primary as important in stopping

Carter, an attorney in Calhoun, Ga., said his father's campaign has become largely a "family campaign" with 11 members of the Carter family "going their separate ways campaigning across the country and seldom getting together." Jack said he has been campaigning for his father since September and has been in 30 states on his behalf.

Carter's appearance at LMC yesterday was part of activities marking Senate Activities week at LMC. Former Benton Harbor City Atty. Yvonne Hughes is scheduled to speak today on the recall effort against Mayor Charles Joseph and four city commissioners and Mayor Joseph is scheduled to speak at noon, Friday.

Carter answered questions from the audience and outlined his father's position on several campaign issues:

— On the Panama Canal issue, a heated topic between Republicans Reagan and Ford, Jack said his father does not support giving up actual control of the canal zone, but will negotiate the treaty with the Panamanians to iron out any difficulties.

— On foreign policy, Jack said his father feels the "Ford - Nixon - Kissinger" philosophy "seemed to be more interested in getting a document than in what is in the document." His father does not want to go back to cold war foreign policy of the 1950's, Jack said, but would negotiate with the Soviet Union to try to return as close as possible to "zero weapons" on both sides.

— On the economy, Jack said his father favors a shift away from attempts to stop inflation at the stimulating more jobs. His father will use government to employ people as a last resort, Jack said.

— On gun control, Carter favors registration of all handguns and the elimination of "Saturday night specials," the younger Carter said. Asked about opposition from the American Legion and the National Rifle Association, Jack said if the two organizations are looking for a Democratic candidate, "They are going to have a rough time finding a candidate who supports their views."

— On marijuana law reform, Jack said his father favors decriminalization of laws relating to marijuana, but does not support legalization.

JACK CARTER

a "last, big push" by Democratic contender Morris Udall. He didn't mention George Wallace, also on the Democratic ballot.

Carter said the Michigan primary promises "an interesting match" between President Ford and Republican contender Ronald Reagan. Later, Jack said he thought Ford will win the Republican nomination but said "I'm not as sure now as I used to be."

Mrs. Foust Seeks
Cass Post Again

CASSOPOLIS — Mrs. Sally Foust, Cass county's register of deeds, announced yesterday she will seek re-election to a third four-year term in the office.

Mrs. Foust, 46, said she filed petitions with County Clerk Kenneth Poe to be slated as a Republican candidate. She is so far opposed by one Democrat, Mrs. Gilbert (Leah) Beaz, 55, of rural Niles.

Mrs. Foust noted that income in the register of deeds office has increased from $29,000 in 1968 when she assumed office to more than $60,000 last year. Each year the office earns more than is paid in expenses, she said.

A graduate of Western Michigan university, Mrs. Foust worked as a school teacher five years and with area newspapers 19 years before her election in 1968.

She and her husband, Donald,

MRS. SALLY FOUST

Berrien GOP Picks Date

The Berrien county Republican convention will be held May 27 to elect delegates and alternates to the state convention, according to Lee Aulse, Berrien GOP chairman. Forty delegates and 40 alternates will be elected at the county convention starting at 8 p.m. in the Berrien Springs middle school, south of the high school. Delegates to the county convention will be those elected in the presidential primary next Tuesday. The state convention is June 12.

Lawrence Bills 4th Vote
On Liquor By Glass In June

LAWRENCE — Lawrence village residents will go to the polls Monday, June 7, to cast ballots for the fourth time in recent years on whether to allow taverns to serve liquor by the glass.

The election date was announced by Eugene Carr, village president, at the village council meeting last night. He said it had been approved by the county election scheduling committee.

At present, only wine and beer may be sold by the glass in Lawrence. Last March the proposition was defeated for the third time after residents voted to a tie, 103 to 103, on the question in the regular village election.

In April, tavern owner Arthur Haney Jr. submitted petitions signed by about 100 residents asking that the proposal again be scheduled for election.

Ballots in the special election will be cast at the fire station on North Paw Paw street from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Only registered voters living within the village limits may cast ballots.

In other areas, the council approved a policy which allows private parties to hire village-owned equipment, such as the backhoe, for a rate of $15 an hour. The rate includes pay for the operator, and the policy stipulates that only village employees may operate the equipment.

Another policy approved last night establishes 8 1/2 paid holidays a year for the village's six full-time employees. The policy calls for employees to receive one week of vacation after one year's employment, two weeks of vacation after two years, three weeks after 10 years, and four weeks after 15 years.

The board tabled a request from the Van Buren county transportation task force which sought a donation of 10 cents per village resident, or $81 for the 810 residents.

The donation was to be used to help pay for proposed bus service in the county for senior citizens and the handicapped.

Three residents, Robert Beam, Robert Carrp and Melvin Wharton, were appointed to the planning commission.

Mrs. Donald Blake, an art teacher at Lawrence high school was given permission for her students to paint fire hydrants in a Bicentennial theme. The village will supply the paint.

The board agreed to contact the state department of natural resources and ask if it would be possible to get a grant to help pay for building a park down by the mill pond.

Such a grant, if approved, would help pay for relocating the mill stream and landscaping the proposed park. Council members said the state has already informed the village it would be willing to install a boat landing, a parking lot and rest rooms at the mill pond.

The board scheduled a special meeting for Wednesday, May 19, to hear a report from the village's engineering firm, Gove and Associates, Kalamazoo. The report is to cover sewer infiltration and flow analysis.

The board voted to purchase a copy machine from the 3M company for $1,795.

Sunday, May 16, was proclaimed Louise Nicholas day to honor her for 40 years of teaching. Mrs. Nicholas, now the Lawrence elementary principal, is retiring in June.

The board granted the American Legion auxiliary permission to sell poppies in the village May 22.

NILES OFFICERS WAIVE SUSPENSION HEARINGSBy JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — Four Niles police officers, suspended from duty after they were indicted April 8 by the Berrien county grand jury, have waived a public hearing on the suspensions before the city's safety board.

The hearing was to have been held last night but was cancelled after a letter from an attorney for the four was read waiving the proceedings.

Malcolm House, chairman of the board, said the board, which oversees the police department, would review the charges leading to the suspensions by the board and make a decision on the employment status of the four.

The board ordered the suspensions on grounds of conduct unbecoming an officer. It ordered the suspensions without pay following the indictments.

House said he had no idea when the board would make a final decision on the departmental charges the men face.

None of the four officers, Patrolmen Gary Koller, 23, William Mason, 38, Allan Deloe, 29, and Michael Lewandowski, 33, all of Niles, attended the brief meeting held in the Niles city hall.

In the April 8 indictments, Koller was charged with 10 counts of perjury before the grand jury; Mason, with two counts of perjury; DeLoe, with one count of perjury; and Lewandowski, with nine counts of perjury, one count of breaking and entering, inducing a former officer to perjure himself, larceny from an unoccupied dwelling, and larceny in a building.

A former officer, Thomas Dupert, 29, of Niles, was indicted on a charge of larceny in a building. He resigned from the force last summer.

House said the board will also be considering a total of eight grievances filed by the four suspended officers. Each man filed a grievance when initially suspended, and a second grievance when the board continued the suspensions indefinitely.

All four men were suspended without pay the same day of the indictments by Police Chief Raymond Rudman. The safety board has subsequently continued the suspensions without pay indefinitely.

A total of seven present or former Niles policemen have now been indicted by the grand jury.

Last Thursday, May 6, two other officers, Det. Capt. Paul Winkquist and Patrolman William Raabe, both of Niles, were indicted. Winkquist, 48, is charged with receiving and concealing stolen property over $100, and with committing perjury before the grand jury. Raabe, 40, is charged with breaking and entering and three counts of perjury.

All seven men are currently free on bonds.

New South Haven
Chief Takes Over

SOUTH HAVEN — Charles T. Roby, South Haven's new police chief, assumed fulltime duties yesterday afternoon after being sworn in by City Clerk Rita Verduin.

Roby, 47, was selected by city council on May 3 to replace Otto Buehler who retired as chief on May 1. Roby is a recently retired veteran of the Detroit police department.

Acting City Manager Howard McDougall said Roby's salary would be $16,000 annually.

The newest member of the high state court also attacked the widespread use of plea bargaining in the court system, and as a partial alternative suggested what he termed "sentence bargaining". Speaking to an audience of judges and attorneys at the Berrien County Bar association's Law Day luncheon, Ryan said supreme court decisions in the past five years have pushed Michigan to the "outer rim" of states granting criminally accused protection not mandated by either the U.S. Constitution or the U.S. Supreme Court.

At the same time, he said, the supreme court's decisions have placed an increasingly heavier burden on the people, creating an imbalance in the criminal justice system.

In an interview before his speech, Ryan said that the supreme court had not done enough to find new ways of disposing of civil disagreements between citizens that have created a tremendous backlog on court dockets throughout the state.

He said one circuit court in Michigan has not tried a civil case in the past 15 months and that new methods must be found of resolving civil cases outside the accepted trial procedure.

At the present time, he said, the supreme court is considering a rule that the losing party in civil suits be made to pay costs and attorney fees spent by the winning party in hope of encouraging out-of-court settlements.

Ryan, 43, was appointed last December to fill the seat vacated by former Gov. John Swainson, who resigned from the Supreme Court after his conviction for perjury in U.S. District Court.

Before his appointment, Ryan served almost 10 years as circuit court judge in Wayne county.

During his interview, Ryan stated that he was opposed to legal abortions and to plea-bargaining, but refused to discuss his views on forced busing of students to achieve racial balance in the schools because "it's not inconceivable that our court may have to rule on this matter in the future."

Ryan, a former president of the anti-abortion group Michigan Citizens for Life, said he viewed abortion as a civil rights issue and said he supported efforts toward a constitutional amendment banning abortions "as a private citizen."

Until such an amendment is adopted, however, he said that he was "obligated and willing" to follow the U.S. Supreme Court decision that any woman has a right to an abortion because "that is the law of the land."

Ryan suggested that much criticism of courts for being soft on hardened criminals stems from widespread use of plea-bargaining — reducing charges in exchange for guilty pleas by the accused.

He said that 85 to 90 per cent of all criminal cases in Michigan excluding traffic violations now are disposed of by plea-bargaining, which drastically reduces the maximum length of sentences judges can hand down.

"I think that it's very discouraging to a public citizen who's been a victim of a crime that the chances of the accused being convicted of the crime he committed are almost nil," Ryan said.

"I don't think plea-bargaining is in the public interest," he said, "but advocates of plea-bargaining make an excellent point that the whole system would come to a grinding halt if all these cases went to trial."

As a partial solution to the dilemma, Ryan suggested "sentence-bargaining," which he said would restore accuracy to court records as well as return a semblance of honesty to the entire proceedings.

He also would discourage plea-taking to offenses the accused hasn't committed and which "don't even exist in logic," such as "attempted possession of marijuana" or "attempted assault," which he said are legal double-talk.

In regard to student busing, Ryan said that although busing cases now are being pursued through the federal courts, the state courts have concurrent jurisdiction and will be called on to hear busing cases in the future.

Ryan said that he feels the "so-called conflict" between freedom of the press and the rights of privacy and a fair trial are often blown "way out of proportion" and that he never had any problems with the press in almost 10 years as a trial judge.

In the recent Patty Hearst trial, he said, publication of testimony given while the jury was out of the courtroom resulted in "turning jurors into prisoners" so they would not be exposed to information that might be the basis for declaring a mistrial.

Michigan Is Key To Stop Udall, Jack Carter Says

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

Flashing a familiar smile, Jack Carter, son of Democratic presidential front-runner Jimmy Carter, explained "dad's approach" to the issues yesterday at Lake Michigan College.

Carter, 28, spoke to some 40 people yesterday at LMC — his first stop in Michigan in preparation for the state's presidential primary next Tuesday.

The junior Carter said he viewed Michigan's primary as important in stopping

Carter, an attorney in Calhoun, Ga., said his father's campaign has become largely a "family campaign" with 11 members of the Carter family "going their separate ways campaigning across the country and seldom getting together." Jack said he has been campaigning for his father since September and has been in 30 states on his behalf.

Carter's appearance at LMC yesterday was part of activities marking Senate Activities week at LMC. Former Benton Harbor City Atty. Yvonne Hughes is scheduled to speak today on the recall effort against Mayor Charles Joseph and four city commissioners and Mayor Joseph is scheduled to speak at noon, Friday.

Carter answered questions from the audience and outlined his father's position on several campaign issues:

— On the Panama Canal issue, a heated topic between Republicans Reagan and Ford, Jack said his father does not support giving up actual control of the canal zone, but will negotiate the treaty with the Panamanians to iron out any difficulties.

— On foreign policy, Jack said his father feels the "Ford - Nixon - Kissinger" philosophy "seemed to be more interested in getting a document than in what is in the document." His father does not want to go back to cold war foreign policy of the 1950's, Jack said, but would negotiate with the Soviet Union to try to return as close as possible to "zero weapons" on both sides.

— On the economy, Jack said his father favors a shift away from attempts to stop inflation at the stimulating more jobs. His father will use government to employ people as a last resort, Jack said.

— On gun control, Carter favors registration of all handguns and the elimination of "Saturday night specials," the younger Carter said. Asked about opposition from the American Legion and the National Rifle Association, Jack said if the two organizations are looking for a Democratic candidate, "They are going to have a rough time finding a candidate who supports their views."

— On marijuana law reform, Jack said his father favors decriminalization of laws relating to marijuana, but does not support legalization.

JACK CARTER

a "last, big push" by Democratic contender Morris Udall. He didn't mention George Wallace, also on the Democratic ballot.

Carter said the Michigan primary promises "an interesting match" between President Ford and Republican contender Ronald Reagan. Later, Jack said he thought Ford will win the Republican nomination but said "I'm not as sure now as I used to be."

Mrs. Foust Seeks Cass Post Again

CASSOPOLIS — Mrs. Sally Foust, Cass county's register of deeds, announced yesterday she will seek re-election to a third four-year term in the office.

Mrs. Foust, 46, said she filed petitions with County Clerk Kenneth Poe to be slated as a Republican candidate. She is so far opposed by one Democrat, Mrs. Gilbert (Leah) Brazo, 55, of rural Niles.

Mrs. Foust noted that income in the register of deeds office has increased from $29,000 in 1969 when she assumed office to more than $60,000 last year. Each year the office earns more than is paid in expenses, she said.

A graduate of Western Michigan university, Mrs. Foust worked as a school teacher five years and with area newspapers 10 years before her election in 1969.

She and her husband, Donald,

MRS. SALLY FOUST
Cass candidate

live at route 3, Eagle lake, Edwardsburg. They are parents of two married daughters.

Berrien GOP Picks Date

The Berrien county Republican convention will be held May 27 to elect delegates and alternates to the state convention, according to Lee Auble, Berrien GOP chairman. Forty delegates and 40 alternates will be elected at the county convention starting at 8 p.m. in the Berrien Springs middle school, south of the high school. Delegates to the county convention will be those elected in the presidential primary next Tuesday. The state convention is June 12

Lawrence Bills 4th Vote On Liquor By Glass In June

LAWRENCE — Lawrence village residents will go to the polls Monday, June 7, to cast ballots for the fourth time in recent years on whether to allow taverns to serve liquor by the glass.

The election date was announced by Eugene Carr, village president, at the village council meeting last night. He said it had been approved by the county election scheduling committee.

At present, only wine and beer may be sold by the glass in Lawrence. Last March the proposition was declared defeated for the third time after residents voted to a tie, 105 to 105, on the question in the regular village election.

In April, tavern owner Arthur Haney Jr. submitted petitions signed by about 100 residents asking that the proposal again be scheduled for election.

Ballots in the special election will be cast at the fire station on North Paw Paw street from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Only registered voters living within the village limits may cast ballots.

In other areas, the council approved a policy which allows private parties to hire village-owned equipment, such as the back-hoe, for a rate of $15 an hour. The rate includes pay for the operator, and the policy stipulates that only village employees may operate the equipment.

Another policy approved last night establishes 6½ paid holidays a year for the village's six full-time employees. The policy calls for employees to receive one week of vacation after one year's employment, two weeks of vacation after two years, three weeks after 10 years, and four weeks after 15 years.

The board tabled a request from the Van Buren county transportation task force which sought a donation of 10 cents per village resident, or $81 for the 810 residents.

Three residents, Robert Beam, Robert Carpp and Melvin Wharton, were appointed to the planning commission.

Mrs. Donald Blake, an art teacher at Lawrence high school was given permission for her students to paint fire hydrants in a Bicentennial theme. The village will supply the paint.

The board agreed to contact the state department of natural resources and ask if it would be possible to get a grant to help pay for building a park down by the mill pond.

Such a grant, if approved, would help pay for relocating the mill stream and landscaping the proposed park. Council members said the state has already informed the village it would be willing to install a boat landing, a parking lot and rest rooms at the mill pond.

The board scheduled a special meeting for Wednesday, May 19, to hear a report from the village's engineering firm, Gove and Associates, Kalamazoo. The report is to cover sewer infiltration and flow analysis.

The board voted to purchase a copy machine from the 3M company for $1,795.

Sunday, May 16, was proclaimed Louise Nicholas day to honor her for her 40 years of teaching. Mrs. Nicholas, now the Lawrence elementary principal, is retiring in June.

NILES OFFICERS WAIVE SUSPENSION HEARINGS

South Berrien Bureau

NILES — Four Niles police officers, suspended from duty after they were indicted April 8 by the Berrien county grand jury, have waived a public hearing on the suspensions before the city's safety board.

The hearing was to have been held last night but was cancelled after a letter from an attorney for the four was read waiving the proceedings.

Malcolm House, chairman of the board, said the board, which oversees the police department, would review the charges leading to the suspensions by the board and make a decision on the employment status of the four.

The board ordered the suspensions on grounds of conduct unbecoming an officer. It ordered the suspensions without pay following the indictments.

House said he had no idea when the board would make a final decision on the departmental charges the men face.

None of the four officers, Patrolmen Gary Koller, 23, William Mason, 38, Allan DeLee, 29, and Michael Lewandowski, 33, all of Niles, attended the brief meeting held in the Niles city hall.

In the April 8 indictments, Koller was charged with 10 counts of perjury before the grand jury; Mason, with two counts of perjury; DeLee, with one count of perjury; and Lewandowski, with nine counts of perjury, one count of breaking and entering, inducing a former officer to perjure himself, larceny from an unoccupied dwelling, and larceny in a building.

A former officer, Thomas Dipert, 29, of Niles, was indicted on a charge of larceny in a building. He resigned from the force last summer.

House said the board will also be considering a total of eight grievances filed by the four suspended officers. Each man filed a grievance when initially suspended, and a second grievance when the board continued the suspensions indefinitely.

All four men were suspended without pay the same day of the indictments by Police Chief Raymond Rudman. The safety board has subsequently continued the suspensions without pay indefinitely.

A total of seven present or former Niles policemen have now been indicted by the grand jury.

Last Thursday, May 6, two other officers, Det. Capt. Paul Winquist and Patrolman William Raabe, both of Niles, were indicted. Winquist, 48, is charged with receiving and concealing stolen property over $100, and with committing perjury before the grand jury. Raabe, 40, is charged with breaking and entering and three counts of perjury.

All seven men are currently free on bonds.

New South Haven Chief Takes Over

SOUTH HAVEN — Charles T. Roby, South Haven's new police chief, assumed fulltime duties yesterday afternoon after being sworn in by City Clerk Rita Verdonk.

Roby, 47, was selected by city council on May 3 to replace Otto Baelow who retired as chief on May 1. Roby is a recently retired veteran of the Detroit police department.

Acting City Manager Howard McDougall said Roby's salary would be $16,000 annually.

The new chief said his wife and two daughters would remain in Detroit until the end of the school year.

Fewer Mistakes, Defense Key Cav Upset Of Celtics

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's young Cavaliers, back on their game of sparse mistakes, are confident they can pull even with Boston's veteran Celtics Friday night in the National Basketball Association semifinals.

"We're known for a team that doesn't turn the ball over. When we do, we're in trouble," reflected Bill Fitch after his Cavaliers committed only seven mistakes in an 83-78 verdict over the Celtics Tuesday night.

It had been an entirely different story in Cleveland's opening two losses to Boston in the best-of-7 Eastern Conference finals. The Cavaliers erred 17 times in Game One, 24 in Game Two.

Fitch also lauded his team's fluid defense that contained Boston on a 34 per cent shooting night. "We stopped their break just as good as anybody has," he said.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn wasn't that impressed, grumbling, "We played high school offense. We didn't make them play."

Cleveland has rattled the Celtics' famed offense to an average of 38 points in the last two playoff games, a fact disturbing to Heinsohn.

"We've got to rectify a lot of things before Friday. We're going to have to talk about it," he said.

Meanwhile, Fitch was confident the Cavaliers could reach the finals in their first try at the NBA playoffs.

"This is the only team I've coached that can get down 3-1 and still win it. I'm hopeful we can get out of here with a 2-2 split. I think we can," said Fitch.

Jim Clemons, whose 18 points led the victory, said the Cavaliers are becoming accustomed to playing with Nate Thurmond. The 34-year-old center has been pressed into duty because of injured regular Jim Clemons, out with a broken toe.

"Thurmond, the darling of an NBA playoff record-tying Coliseum throng of 21,564, steadies Cleveland's defense, handling Dave Cowens in the middle.

"Thurmond, who has limited Cowens to 48 points in three games, knows he's on the spot.

"If we can keep Cowens from dominating the series, I think we can win it. If anyone can hold him down, I think I can," said Thurmond.

Heinsohn and Cowens appear ruffled over all the fuss of the matchup at center.

"Thurmond is not a factor," said a scowling Heinsohn. "I'm tired of hearing he's a factor."

Cowens, who scored 19 against the 6-foot-11 veteran Tuesday night, said of his rival's defense: "It was okay. He blocked a couple of shots. He should, as big as he is."

Boston's hopes have been damaged with a foot injury in John Havlicek. The 35-year-old forward managed just nine points in the third game.

Jo Jo White's 22 points paced Boston. Cleveland put four players in double figures, headed by Clemons' 18 and 17 by reserve guard Austin Carr.

Phoenix plays at Golden State tonight in the fifth game of their best-of-seven Western Conference final with the series tied 2-2.

Short-Handed Canadian Goal Crucial Montreal Nips Flyers

MONTREAL (AP) — With Guy Lapointe in the penalty box for holding late in the second period of a scoreless Stanley Cup playoff hockey game, the Montreal Canadiens hardly expected to score a goal against the Philadelphia Flyers.

Philadelphia netminder Wayne Stephenson had frustrated Montreal all night with some dazzling stops, and after all, the Canadiens were a man down.

"That's when Flyers defenseman Larry Goodenough got the puck in the neutral zone. Canadiens center Jacques Lemaire, helping kill the penalty at the time, tells the rest.

"He was coming up the ice and he lost the puck in his skates," recalled Lemaire. "He put his head down to find it, and as soon as he did that, I went for it."

The puck was Lemaire's and the path to Stephenson was clear. With teammate Jim Roberts to his left and no Philadelphia player — except Stephenson — in sight, it took only a few skating strides and a flick of the wrists before the Canadiens had a short-handed goal, a 1-0 lead and a solid grip on the game they won 2-1 Tuesday night.

Goodenough had committed the cardinal sin. "When you're the last man back with the puck, you should never try to beat anybody," said Flyers assistant coach Barry Ashbee. "It's a hard way to learn, but he'll probably never do it again."

Philadelphia defenseman Tom Bladen could have learned from Goodenough's error, but made a similar one in the third period when his pass toward Bill Barber found the stick of Montreal's Guy Lafleur instead. This time defenseman Joe Watson was back, but his retreat screened Stephenson from the 30-foot shot Lafleur unleashed.

So for the first time since May 1, 1973, the Canadiens have a 2-0 lead in a National Hockey League playoff final. For the fifth time in a row the Flyers have left this city without a victory, a winless string that began during the 1974-75 season.

The reason was a team effort lauded by Montreal Coach Scotty Bowman and most of the Canadiens players.

"We played 58 perfect minutes," said Bowman, subtracting the one minute in which Dave Schultz sent a 20-foot wrist shot past goalie Ken Dryden. But the goal came with just 2:35 remaining, and Philadelphia just couldn't get away from the fierce Canadiens checking to tie the contest.

Tiger Rally Edges Yankees Sutherland Hero With Two-Run Hit In Ninth

NEW YORK (AP) — First, fans, the weather report: It rained here Tuesday night.

And now the sports news, in the form of a little quiz. From the following remarks by the rival managers, see if you can guess who won the baseball game.

Ralph Houk, Detroit: "I never thought we'd play it, but I'm glad we did now."

Billy Martin, New York: "I don't like to play in the rain. It kills our running game. If it was up to me we wouldn't have played."

Unfortunately for Martin, it wasn't up to him. First it was up to the Yankee management, who decided to get things underway 53 minutes late. Then it was up to the umpires, who chose to resume after a 37-minute rain delay in the second inning.

Ultimately, it was up to New York pitcher Ed Figueroa and Detroit batter Gary Sutherland with two out and runners on second and third in the ninth inning. Sutherland bounced a 3-2 pitch up the middle for the final two runs of a three-run rally that lifted the Tigers to a 4-3 triumph over the Yankees.

It was Houk's first trip to Yankee Stadium since he resigned as manager of the Yankees on the final day of the 1973 season.

New York's Graig Nettles tied the score with a seventh-inning homer off John Hiller and the Yankees jumped on the Detroit relief ace for two runs in the eighth, one coming on a single by Chris Chambliss that extended his hitting streak to 18 games, longest by a Yankee in 15 years.

Rusty Staub opened the Detroit ninth with a double, only the fifth hit off Ed Figueroa, and came around on an infield out and a sacrifice fly by Aurelio Rodriguez. Then, with the Tigers down to their final out, pinch hitter Dan Meyer grounded a single to right field and Tom Verzer singled to deep short.

That left Martin and Houk with a decision to make. The Tigers had veteran Bill Freehan to pinch hit; the Yankees had reliever Sparky Lyle and Dick Tidrow warming up.

Sutherland can't hit a curve ball and he's a curve ball pitcher," Martin said.

Sutherland got enough of his bat on a high fast ball for the game-winning hit. And you can bet that at least one-half of the Yankee battery heard a few choice words about a curve ball pitcher throwing a fast ball to a hitter who supposedly can't hit a curve ball.

Miller In Spectacular Accident Rookie Injured At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Heck, the rookie test isn't anything terrific in the way of speed," said a confident Janet Guthrie.

But another rookie, Eddie Miller, proved the speed could be terrifying.

Miller started the final half of his rookie test Tuesday after Miss Guthrie had finished the first half of her test, mandatory for all rookies entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Gliding smoothly around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at about 187 miles per hour on the seventh of 20 laps, Miller's Offenhauser-powered Eagle started to slide sideways coming out of the first turn.

It careened into a drainage ditch, launching the car over a five-foot photographer's fence. It bounced once, flew high in the air over an eight-foot spectator's fence, and landed upside down less than five feet from a crowded spectator grandstand. The car wedged into another fence which prevented the auto from plunging down a 20-foot tunnel.

"I can't remember a car getting that far out of the ballpark since 1951," said one veteran U.S. Auto Club official.

Brown Appointed New Hawk Coach

ATLANTA (AP) — Hubie Brown, who relies on teaching, organization and discipline to produce a winner, signed a multi-year contract Tuesday to guide the Atlanta Hawks out of the National Basketball Association doldrums.

"I'm taking a positive attitude from day one," said Brown, who resigned earlier in the day as coach of the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association.

"I feel I'm entitled to take an optimistic approach because I feel I can get the job done," he said. "If I didn't, I wouldn't be here."

The 42-year-old Brown cited the challenge of rebuilding the Hawks, who staggered through a dismal 28-50 campaign that left them in the division cellar, as one of the reasons he accepted the job among other offers he received in pro basketball.

"I also like the business opportunities in Atlanta," he said.

Neither Brown nor Bud Serfaty, the Hawks' president and general manager, would divulge details of the contract, but Bruce Miller, attorney for a group attempting to purchase the Kentucky Colonels, said it "was absolutely out of this world. If I'm gonna recommend spending that kind of money, I would want it to go to the guys who put the ball in the basket."

There was speculation that Brown will receive between $75,000 and $100,000 for the next three or five years.

He succeeds Cotton Fitzsimmons, who was fired with seven games remaining after the club had lost 12 in a row, a streak that reached 18 before it ended under interim Coach Gene Tortolich. Fitzsimmons had one year left on his contract.

Brown guided the Colonels to the ABA championship a year ago and had his club in the playoff semifinals this season before dropping a 4-3 series to Denver. His coaching background includes two seasons as an assistant at Milwaukee of the NBA, assistant coaching stints at Duke and William and Mary and a successful high school coaching career in New Jersey.

Thurmond, the darling of an NBA playoff record-tying Coliseum throng of 21,564, steadied Cleveland's defense, handling Dave Cowens in the middle.

Thurmond, who has limited Cowens to 48 points in three games, knows he's on the spot.

"If we can keep Cowens from dominating the series, I think we can win it. If anyone can hold him down, I think I can," said Thurmond.

Heinsohn and Cowens appear ruffled over all the fuss of the matchup at center.

"Thurmond is not a factor," said a scowling Heinsohn. "I'm tired of hearing he's a factor."

Boston's hopes have been damaged with a foot injury to John Havlicek. The 35-year-old forward managed just nine points in the third game.

Jo Jo White's 22 points paced Boston. Cleveland put four players in double figures, headed by Clemons' 18 and 17 by reserve guard Austin Carr.

Phoenix plays at Golden State tonight in the fifth game of their best-of-seven Western Conference final with the series tied 2-2.

Short-Handed Canadian Goal Crucial Montreal Nips Flyers

MONTREAL (AP) — With Guy Lapointe in the penalty box for holding late in the second period of a scoreless Stanley Cup playoff hockey game, the Montreal Canadiens hardly expected to score a goal against the Philadelphia Flyers.

Philadelphia netminder Wayne Goodenough had frustrated Montreal all night with some dazzling stops, and after all, the Canadiens were a man down.

That's when Flyers defenseman Larry Goodenough got the puck in the neutral zone. Canadiens center Jacques Lemaire, helping kill the penalty at the time, tells the rest.

"He was coming up the ice and he lost the puck in his skates," recalled Lemaire. "He put his head down to find it, and as soon as he did that, I went for it."

The puck was Lemaire's and the path to Stephenson was clear. With teammate Jim Roberts to his left and no Philadelphia player — except Stephenson — in sight, it took only a few skating strides and a flick of the wrists before the Canadiens had a short-handed goal, a 1-0 lead and a solid grip on the game they won 2-1 Tuesday night.

Goodenough had committed the cardinal sin. "When you're the last man back with the puck, you should never try to beat anybody," said Flyers assistant coach Barry Ashbee. "It's a hard way to learn, but he'll probably never do it again."

Philadelphia defenseman Tom Bladen could have learned from Goodenough's error, but made a similar one in the third period when his pass toward Bill Barber found the stick of

HECTIC ENDING: Montreal Canadian goalie Ken Dryden sprawls to make a save in dying seconds of Stanley Cup game in Montreal Tuesday night. Waiting for a possible rebound is Philadelphia's Mel Bridgman. Montreal won 2-1 to take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series. (AP Wirephoto)

Tiger Rally Edges Yankees Sutherland Hero With Two-Run Hit In Ninth

NEW YORK (AP) — First, fans, the weather report: it rained here Tuesday night.

And now the sports news, in the form of a little quiz. From the following remarks by the rival managers, see if you can guess who won the baseball game:

Ralph Houk, Detroit—"I never thought we'd play it, but I'm glad we did now."

Unfortunately for Martin, it wasn't up to him. First it was up to the Yankee management, who decided to get things underway 53 minutes late. Then it was up to the umpires, who chose to resume after a 37-minute rain delay in the second inning.

Ultimately, it was up to New York pitcher Ed Figueroa and Detroit batter Gary Sutherland with two out and runners on second and third in the ninth inning. Sutherland bounced a 3-2 pitch up the middle for the final two runs of a three-run rally that lifted the Tigers to a 4-3 triumph over the Yankees.

It was Houk's first trip to Yankee Stadium since he resigned as manager of the Yankees on the final day of the 1973 season.

New York's Graig Nettles tied the score with a seventh-inning homer off John Hiller and the Yankees jumped on the Detroit relief ace for two runs in the eighth, one coming on a single by Chris Chambliss that extended his hitting streak to 19 games, longest by a Yankee in 15 years.

Rusty Staub opened the Detroit ninth with a double, only the fifth hit off Ed Figueroa, and came around on an infield out and a sacrifice fly by Aurelio Rodriguez. Then, with the Tigers down to their final out, pinch hitter Dan Meyer grounded a single to right field and Tom Veryzer singled to deep short.

That left Martin and Houk with a decision to make. The Tigers had veteran Bill Freehan to pinch hit; the Yankees had relievers Sparky Lyle and Dick Tidrow warming up.

ROOKIE CRASHES: Race driver Eddie Miller crashes between turns one and two at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Tuesday. Miller's car spun into a drainage ditch, then vaulted through the air, just missing a spectators' grandstand. Miller, a rookie from Lakewood, Colo., suffered a fractured neck and other injuries. (AP Wirephoto)

Miller In Spectacular Accident Rookie Injured At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Heck, the rookie test isn't anything terrific in the way of speed," said a confident Janet Guthrie.

But another rookie, Eddie Miller, proved the speed could be terrifying.

Miller started the final half of his rookie test Tuesday after Miss Guthrie had finished the first half of her test, mandatory for all rookies entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Gliding smoothly around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at about 167 miles per hour on the seventh of 20 laps, Miller's Offenhauser-powered Eagle started to slide sideways coming out of the first turn.

It careened into a drainage ditch, launching the car over a five-foot photographer's fence. It bounced once, flew high in the air over an eight-foot spectator's fence, and landed upside down less than five feet from a crowded spectator grandstand. The car wedged into another fence which prevented the auto from plunging down a 20-foot tunnel.

"I can't remember a car getting that far out of the ballpark since 1951," said one veteran U.S. Auto Club official.

The spectacular accident demolished the car and trapped Miller, 31, from Lakewood, Colo., inside the battered cockpit for nearly 20 minutes.

Miller suffered a broken neck, but his condition was given as "excellent ... considering" by his doctor.

It will take a speed of probably at least 180 m.p.h. to make the May 30, $1 million race, and the rookie test speeds are considered safely slow. But Miss Guthrie said she could see how something might go wrong.

"When you're trying not to go as fast as you can, you lose your concentration — and you're not going all that slow that you can afford to lose it," she said. "I don't know if that's what happened to Eddie, but I know I was bored to tears" during the test.

Lancers Hurt Valley Hopes With Upset Win

Walt Vanderbush Fans 19 Rangers

Buchanan pitcher Walt Vanderbush seems to get better with every game.

Vanderbush struck out 19 batters and allowed just two hits Tuesday as the Bucks blanked Cassopolis 4-1 to take a giant step toward a second straight Blossomland baseball title.

The Buchanan victory coupled with River Valley's 3-2 loss to Lakeshore gives the Bucks a two-game lead in the loss column with just five games to play. Buchanan is now 8-1, while River Valley fell to 7-3.

Brandywine, Columa and Dowagiac also still entertain slim title hopes. All three stand at 6-4. Brandywine blasted Dowagiac 14-5 and Columa ripped Edwardsburg 16-5 in Tuesday's other games.

Vanderbush's strikeman total is believed to be a league record. He brought Vanderbush's Blossomland total to 90 in only 42 innings.

"He was just overpowering," Buchanan coach Don Hecklinski said. "He had excellent control and mixed up his pitches very well."

Walt also helped himself at the plate, slapping a double and two singles to bring his batting average to .310. Barry Manley added a pair of singles for the winners.

Lakeshore, loser of seven games this season by one run, finally captured one of those narrow decisions itself Tuesday.

The Lakers broke a 2-2 tie with a run in the bottom of the seventh. Dave Gundwin, a freshman playing in just his second varsity game, singled, went to second on a balk and scored the winning run on Jim Porter's single.

"I've been very surprised we've kept the good attitude while losing all those close games," Lakeshore coach Jim Sanford said. "It's finally good to win one."

Porter picked up the win for the Lakers, now 2-7 in the league. He fanned eight and did not walk a batter. Jeff Jackson took the loss.

Brandywine took advantage of 10 Dowagiac errors to bombard Chiefman ace Larry McLaughlin. The Dowagiac lefty, who lost for only the second time in nine decisions, was tagged for 10 of the runs in less than four innings. Only three of the 10 were earned.

A seven-run fourth inning broke the game open for Brandywine.

Bill Mann paced the Bobcat attack with a home run and two singles. Winning pitcher Jim Burrow added two doubles and a single.

Dave Sprague and Brian Reist each slugged a pair of hits for Dowagiac.

Columa used an eight-run third inning to blast the Eddies. Bill Genovese blasted a three-run homer and a single and Jerry Gagliardo added a double and a single for the Comets.

SMITH SAFE: Lakeshore's Mandy Smith is safe at third as ball scoots away from River Valley's Marge Harfert in Blossomland softball action Tuesday on the Lakeshore Diamond. Smith got two singles in the game, but River Valley won 11-8 to lift its league record to 9-1. Lakeshore is 7-2 in the Blossomland. (Staff photo)

But some credit for the track must go to coach Joe Lang, who

"Needless to say, I'm kind of excited about it," says Long. "It will be good to have track meets at home instead of being on the road all the time. And I hope it will make our kids more

There is also talk of having a fund-raising project in getting cinders for the track. And there's a possibility the hurdles will be built in the school as a shop project.

Long's background wouldn't indicate that he would become a coach of champions. He ran the mile while in high school at Benton Harbor St. John's and made the state finals in the event, but his connection with the sport ended until he took over the Bloomington squad three years ago.

"I guess I always wanted to find out if I could be a track coach," declares Long. "I coached freshman basketball and hit it off pretty good with the kids, so the confidence was there to go ahead and try a varsity sport. Whatever, I know about track is what I get from books and pick up from other coaches."

Long, who once taught at Benton Harbor after graduating from Western Michigan, is an elementary teacher at Bloomingsdale.

There is a track connection in Long's family, though. His sister, Tresa, is the wife of Bridgman track coach Dick Fogler.

Success Generates Community Project

Bloomingtondale Is Building Track

By JOHN VANDEN HEDEE
Sports Editor
BLOOMINGTONDALE — Success has meant more than instant recognition for Bloomingtondale track and field athletes... it has also generated long run community interest in the program.

The Cardinals won their first conference track championship in history last spring, and now the community is building them a track.

It won't be anything fancy at this time, with no rubberized all-weather surface... not even cinders. Just dirt. But for thinclads who now dodge cars while training on a parking lot, it will be something undreamed of a couple of years ago.

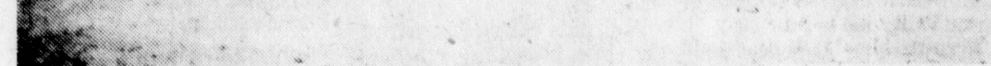

It should also be something special to the community. It's being built with volunteer help and without taxpayers' money.

The six-lane, quarter mile facility, located southeast of the high school, is being constructed on weekends from a blueprint obtained from Western Michigan University. Preliminary work should be completed in a couple of weeks, but Bloomingtondale won't have its first home track meet until next spring.

The track is a project of the Cardinals Booster Club, with member Horace Martin, a local contractor, in charge.

But some credit for the track must go to coach Joe Long, who started with a 14-man squad three years ago and now had 38 thinclads. They are 5-0 in dual meets this year and will be going after their second straight SAC crown Friday night at the Kalamazoo Valley Community College track.

TRACK BUILDER: Volunteer Jerry Grover runs a bulldozer as construction of six-lane, quarter-mile track south of the Bloomingtondale high school gets underway. The new facility is expected to be ready for use for next spring's track and field season. (Mildred Alfred photo)

'Red Faces' Defeated Again

Ninth Inning Sacrifice Fly Nips Sox

From Associated Press
The Boston Red Sox are fast becoming the Boston Red Faces.

"We're certainly not hitting the way we can as a team," bemoans Manager Darrell Johnson. "The consistency is not as it should be."

The Red Sox continue to play the worst baseball in the American League — Tuesday night losing a 4-3 decision to the Cleveland Indians for their 10th straight setback.

That hasn't happened in Boston since 1960 and obviously not in the talent-rich reign of Johnson, who led the Red Sox to the American League pennant last season.

"We're leaving our best players out there and giving it everything just trying to play our game," said Johnson.

From Associated Press
Cleveland got back one run off Boston starter Ferguson Jenkins, 1-5, in the first inning. Buddy Bell walked with two out and Rico Carty doubled him home. Jenkins nursed the 3-1 lead until the seventh when Carty doubled. George Hendrick beat out an infield hit and with two out Ashby lined a drive into the right field stands.

Ken Singleton doubled home two first-inning runs and Lee May slapped a two-run single in the third, sparking Baltimore over Milwaukee. Mike Cuellar, 1-2, who entered the game with an 11.20 ERA, checked the Brewers on two runs and five hits through the first six innings. Wayne Garland finished up for Baltimore with three hitless innings as the Brewers lost their third game in a row and fifth in six starts.

Nuggets' Win Brings Hope

DENVER (AP) — When they needed it most, the Denver Nuggets rediscovered the formula that had produced such successful results during the regular season.

With balanced scoring, a fastbreak offense, pressing defense and a patented third-quarter blitz, the Nuggets fought back into contention in the American Basketball Association championship series, beating the New York Nets 118-110 Tuesday night.

The victory trimmed the Nets' advantage in the best-of-seven series to 3-2. Game Six is scheduled for Thursday night at Uniondale, N.Y. A seventh game, if necessary, would be played in Denver Sunday.

A number of Denver players, including rookie David Thompson, were convinced that a seventh game would, indeed, be required.

"I think we have a great chance of winning the next game," said Thompson, who scored nine of Denver's 42 points in the big third quarter. "If we play as well as we did tonight, especially in the third quarter, we'll beat them for sure."

The Nuggets appeared on the brink of extinction when, beset by turnovers and poor shooting, they dropped 16 points behind the Nets in the second period. Brian Taylor scored on three straight layups to highlight a 12-point spurt by the Nets.

But Denver was revived by a brilliant performance from Gus Gerard, who came off the bench to score eight straight Denver points and help the Nuggets reduce the deficit to six points at the half.

Its feared fast break in high gear, Denver hit eight of its first 11 shots in the third period and pulled out to a 16-point lead by the end of the stanza. Guard Chuck Williams had 10 points and the Nuggets shot 68 per cent during the period.

Play The Red Late Entry In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — In the week before the Kentucky Derby, Johnny Campo was touting anyone within earshot — and it's not easy to miss the talkative trainer — to watch out for his Play The Red.

But after Bold Forbes upset Honest Pleasure in the Derby, the colorful Campo uttered some profanity when someone asked if eighth-place Play The Red would be headed for the Preakness.

Now, a little over a week later, Campo has done yet another about-face, and Play The Red is scheduled to be one of six entries in Saturday's $150,000-added Preakness.

Campo changed his mind and decided to give his colt the unenviable task of chasing Bold Forbes and Honest Pleasure over the 1 3/16 miles of the Preakness after Play The Red worked a mile at Belmont in 1:40.

Despite the renewed confidence of Campo, Pimlico oddsmaker Earl Hart has installed Play The Red as the longshot 15-1 choice in the early betting line.

Bold Forbes and Life's Hope, a Laz Barrera-trained entry in the Preakness, was made the even-money favorite with Honest Pleasure just behind at 6-5. Elucutionist, third in the Derby, was listed at 8-1 and Cojak, sixth at Louisville, at 12-1.

With six starters, the 101st Preakness would gross $182,200, the smallest purse since 1969 when Majestic Prince earned $129,500 of the $182,000 purse.

The Preakness has had six-horse fields four times since Triple Crown winners Count Fleet in 1943 and Citation in 1948 scared off most of the opposition and faced only three rivals each.

Office Ends 13-Game Brave Skid

Reds' Nolan Streaking; Cubs Snap Losing String

From Associated Press
How long is a 13-game losing streak?

"About two heart attacks and several sleepless nights," says Dave Bristol, manager of the Atlanta Braves.

Bristol finally was able to get a good night's sleep Tuesday after his Braves posted an 8-7 decision over the New York Mets, ending the longest losing streak in major league baseball this season.

But it didn't come easy. The Braves blew a 7-5 lead in the late innings and had to come back to win on Rowland Office's RBI single with two out in the ninth.

"No human being knows the joy that goes on inside you after breaking a streak like that," Bristol said. "It's a big burden off 30 guys."

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 4-0, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the San Diego Padres 9-1, the Cincinnati Reds shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 and the Houston Astros beat the Montreal Expos 5-3.

After Office drove home Marly Perez with his ninth-inning single, the Atlanta dugout emptied and the young outfielder was mobbed cuning off first base.

"I looked up and thought we had won the World Series," he said.

Gary Nolan, who hasn't allowed a run in his last 18 innings, scattered six hits and Tony Perez drove in four runs with a homer and a single as the Reds beat the Pirates in the first meeting of the two defending division champions since last fall's National League playoff.

Steve Carlton stopped San Diego on six hits to help the first-place Phils to their ninth victory in the last 10 games. Philadelphia scored six runs in the first two innings, then major league home run leader Mike Schmidt belted his 13th of the season, a two-run shot, in the eighth.

Homers by Jose Cruz and Cliff Johnson highlighted a five-run first inning that carried Houston over Montreal.

Expos starter Clay Kirby, 0-2, failed to retire a batter. Larry Milbourne and Enos Cabell walked. Cruz belted a three-run homer, Bob Watson walked and Johnson smacked a two-run homer, knocking out Kirby.

Reliever Tom Griffin got the victory, allowing just one hit in 4-1/3 innings.

Ron Cey hit two home runs and Joe Ferguson one to back the five-hit pitching of Don Sutton, who posted his 42nd career shutout. The three homers gave the Dodgers 16 in their last seven games.

Doubles by Jose Cardenal and Manny Trillo highlighted a four-run uprising in the sixth inning that carried Chicago over the San Francisco Giants, snapping a five-game Cubs losing streak.

Cardenal doubled with one out in the sixth and went to third on Mike Keliher's bunt single. Jerry Morales singled home Cardenal with the first run before Trillo doubled in two more, later scoring on a single by Steve Swisher.

The victory went to reliever Oscar Zamora, 2-0.

Zamora took over from Ken Frailing at the start of the fourth when Frailing developed a sore shoulder.

Also leaving the game early was Cubs third baseman Bill Madlock, the National League's defending batting champion. Madlock suffered a rib cage injury trying to break up a double play in the first.

The Cubs pulled off four double plays to repeatedly blunt San Francisco threats. Ed Ialicki, 2-5, suffered the loss although he became the first San Francisco pitcher this season to hurl a complete game.

Kent fanned just three but did not walk a batter in pitching Marcellus to an 8-0 victory in the first game of the twin bill. Gobles came back to capture the nightcap 15-6.

"It's the type of effort that Kent is capable of coming through with," Marcellus coach Jim Stevenson said. "He kept the ball down and worked the hitters real well. He didn't strike out very many but he got them to beat the ball into the ground."

The only batter to reach base

WINNING PITCHER: Kathy Smith pitched River Valley to an 11-8 victory over Lakeshore Tuesday and kept the Mustangs atop the Blossomland softball league at 9-1. Smith got hitting support from Wendy Schwark, two doubles, a triple and two RBIs; Linda Mitchell, a single and a double, and Janice Zabel, three RBIs. The game was played on Lakeshore's diamond. ## Free Agent Question Slowing Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — When is a free agent not a free agent?

When his new team is forced to, compensate his old team, says Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Miller's union, currently bargaining with the owners' negotiating committee on a new labor contract, says there should be no compensation in the club losing the free agent player.

The owners' current position is that the free agent's new club must pay the old club a figure that could reach $270,000. That figure breaks down to double the player's salary, stopping at a maximum base of $75,000, plus $5,000 times the old club's rank in attendance.

An eight-year player, for example, making $75,000 or more for a team with the lowest attendance in the league, would have the compensation price tag of $270,000 — $150,000 plus $120,000. Veterans of more than eight years would have the $270,000 figure reduced each succeeding year by adjustments of one-third.

A similar policy of compensation in pro football, the Rozelle Rule, was struck down as illegal because it effectively replaced the chains on free agents.

In the National Basketball Association's landmark settlement of its labor disputes, the league has agreed to drop any compensation claim for signing free agents after the 1981 season.

Reached in Chicago, John Gaherin, chief bargainer for the owners, said, "We think this proposal is a fair and equitable one. Otherwise, we wouldn't be making it."

The compensation issue is just one of the things bothering Miller in management's current proposal, which the owners are analyzing in meetings today in Chicago. Miller, meanwhile, has scheduled a series of 24 meetings beginning Thursday and spaced over the next six weeks for the purpose "of bringing players up to date and to learn from them how they want to proceed."

Houston Holds Off New England

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The New England Whalers put the pressure on Houston in the final period of their World Hockey Association playoff game Tuesday night, but the Aeros kept their cool.

"We almost blew it, but our guys hung in there when it counted," said Houston Coach Bill Dineen after watching his team almost blow a three-goal third-period lead before outlasting the Whalers 4-3.

"We became too defense-minded in the final period and it almost cost us the game. Instead of skating aggressively and trying to score more goals, we tried to sit on the lead and sometimes that can hurt you."

Houston's victory tied the best-of-seven U.S. Division final series at two games apiece. The teams meet in Game Four Thursday night in Houston and return to Hartford for Game Six on Saturday.

The Popiel brothers, defenseman Paul and winger Jan, staked the Aeros to a 3-0 first-period lead. Paul connecting on two power play slap shots from the left point and Jan hitting on a wrist shot from the right circle.

New England trimmed one goal off that lead on Brad Selwood's second power play tally from the right point, but Terry Ruskowski made it 4-1 with his fourth playoff goal at 14:21 of the second stanza.

"I told our guys to go out and get them in the third period," said New England Coach Harry Neale, "and they responded just like I thought they would. We dominated the period and with a little luck could have tied the score."

Tom Webster's power play goal, his seventh of the playoffs, cut the Houston lead to 4-2 at 2:31 of the third period and then Gordie Roberts connected at 10:41 to cut the deficit to one goal.

At the time of Roberts' goal, the Whalers had outshot the Aeros by a 9-1 margin and were putting all kinds of pressure on Houston goalie Ron Grahame.

Dowagiac Triumphs

DOWAGIAC — Jeff Mullen pitched a two-hitter Tuesday as Dowagiac's junior varsity baseball team edged Brantwylne 2-0.

Jim Wialkes and Jeff Nate drove in the Chieftain runs.

Lakers Swamp

Bridgman, 25-1

BRIDGMAN — The Lake Michigan Catholic girls softball team blasted Bridgman 25-1 here Tuesday in game halted after five frames.

Shelly Schindler was the winning hurler with six fans in three innings. She also belted a triple. Carolyn Klemm had five RBIs, Carol Lomax a homer and Sonya Bentley a double for the Lakers, now 3-4.

Office Ends 13-Game Brave Skid

Reds' Nolan Streaking; Cubs Snap Losing String

From Associated Press
How long is a 13-game losing streak?
"About two heart attacks and several sleepless nights," says Dave Bristol, manager of the Atlanta Braves.

Bristol finally was able to get a good night's sleep Tuesday after his Braves posted an 8-7 decision over the New York Mets, ending the longest losing streak in major league baseball this season.

But it didn't come easy. The Braves blew a 7-5 lead in the late innings and had to come back to win on Rowland Office's RBI single with two out in the ninth.

"No human being knows the joy that goes on inside you after breaking a streak like that," Bristol said. "It's a big burden off 30 guys."

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 4-0, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the San Diego Padres 9-1, the Cincinnati Reds shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 and the Houston Astros beat the Montreal Expos 5-3.

After Office drove home Marty Perez with his ninth-inning single, the Atlanta dugout emptied and the young outfielder was mobbed coming off first base.

"I looked up and thought we had won the World Series," he said.

Gary Nolan, who hasn't allowed a run in his last 18 innings, scattered six hits and Tony Perez drove in four runs with a homer and a single as the Reds beat the Pirates in the first meeting of the two defending division champions since last fall's National League playoff.

Steve Carlton stopped San Diego on six hits to help the first-place Phils to their ninth victory in the last 10 games. Philadelphia scored six runs in the first two innings, then major league home run leader Mike Schmidt belted his 13th of the season, a two-run shot, in the eighth.

Homers by Jose Cruz and Cliff Johnson highlighted a five-run first inning that carried Houston over Montreal.

Expos starter Clay Kirby, 0-2, failed to retire a batter. Larry Milbourne and Enos Cabell walked, Cruz belted a three-run homer, Bob Watson walked and Johnson smacked a two-run homer, knocking out Kirby.

Reliever Tom Griffin got the victory, allowing just one hit in 4 1/3 innings.

Ron Cey hit two home runs and Joe Ferguson one to back the five-hit pitching of Don Sutton, who posted his 42nd career shutout. The three homers give the Dodgers 16 in their last seven games.

Doubles by Jose Cardenal and Manny Trillo highlighted a four-run uprising in the sixth inning that carried Chicago over the San Francisco Giants, snapping a five-game Cubs losing streak.

Cardenal doubled with one out in the sixth and went to third on Mike Kelleher's bunt single. Jerry Morales singled home Cardenal with the first run before Trillo doubled in two more, later scoring on a single by Steve Swisher.

The victory went to reliever Oscar Zamora, 2-0.

Zamora took over from Ken Frailing at the start of the fourth when Frailing developed a sore shoulder.

Quake Zone Jolted By New Tremors

By MICHAEL J. DUFFY
Associated Press Writer
UDINE, Italy (AP) — New earth tremors shook quake-ravaged northeastern Italy before and after midnight, frightening survivors of last week's disaster, injuring several people and bringing down more small buildings.

Earlier in the evening a severe quake centered in the Ionian sea jolted Zakynthos and other Greek islands and parts of southern Italy. Thousands on Zakynthos spent the night in the open, but no casualties or damage was reported.

Nine more tremors were recorded in the Friuli region of northeast Italy that was devastated by the killer quake last Thursday. A woman was injured in Braulio di Trassaghis when a house fell, and injuries were reported in several other persons. Many one-story and two-story buildings weakened by the big quake and more than 50 aftershocks collapsed in Maiano, Venzone, Osoppo, Moggi Udinese and Peonis di Trassaghis.

The tremors were also felt in Venice, Trieste and Padua, but no damage or casualties were reported in those cities.

In Vicenza, 75 miles southwest of the destruction area, many of the 100 prisoners in the local jail climbed to the roof and demanded to be freed to insure their safety. Despite warning shots from guards, the convicts refused to return to their cells, and police surrounded the jail.

Many of Udine's 80,000 residents were spending the night at home for the first time in six nights. When they felt a particularly strong tremor just before midnight, they rushed back to cars, tents and other makeshift shelters.

The toll from Thursday's quake remained at 914 dead, more than 3,000 injured and about 80,000 homeless. About 400 persons are not accounted for.

A fireman was hospitalized.

'Free' Phone Service Legislation Advances

By MARY STEVENSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ratepayers would foot the bill for the free or discount phone service some telephone company employees get under legislation headed for the Senate.

The House Tuesday approval

100-7 a bill allowing phone companies to provide free service or discounted service for pensioners and employees.

Officers and directors are not included in the bill.

Among those voting against the bill was its sponsor, Rep. Harold Scott, D-Flint, who said the bill is no longer needed because of a recent Public Service Commission decision.

The PSC said Michigan Bell Telephone Co., the largest phone company in the state, may continue its decades-old practice of giving most employees phone service at half-price and passing the cost onto ratepayers.

The PSC decision does not allow Bell to pass onto customers the cost of free service now provided to 12,700 employees.

Scott and a Public Service Commission spokesman said the bill means the cost of these fringe benefits, however high they are, can be passed onto ratepayers.

They said this negates a recent PSC ruling which said discounts above 50 per cent could not be passed onto ratepayers in the form of rate hikes but would be taken out of company profits.

Michigan Bell now provides free service on up to three phones to about 7,200 management employees, 4,400 pensioners, and 1,100 non-management employees with at least 30 years of service, along with directors and officers. These workers also receive up to $23 a month in free long-distance service.

Bell's other 19,700 employees with at least one year's seniority receive a 50 per cent discount on monthly service charges for up to three phones, but pay all long-distance charges.

The attorney general's office last year released figures showing that if employees paid the full rates for the service, Bell would receive about $4 million in revenue annually.

High Army Brass Slated To Testify In Meat Probe

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel will take testimony from high-ranking Army officers as it continues to investigate a military purchasing scandal in which Army inspectors took bribes and allowed meat packers to ship inferior food to military mess halls.

Six Army Health Services Command and Veterinary Corps officers were to testify today before the Senate Government Operations subcommittee.

Military meat inspectors testified Monday that they were paid bribes and supplied with the services of prostitutes by two New England meat packing firms to keep them from causing a "bustle" over meat quality requirements in Army contracts.

Witnesses also told the Senate panel that the G&G Packing Co. of Boston and Blue Ribbon

Frozen Foods of Haverhill, Mass., were using ungraded and inferior cuts of beef to fill Army orders for choice steaks and roasts for the military forces. The Army was then billed for higher priced cuts, witnesses said.

Subcommittee chairman Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., said the substitution of low quality knuckle for top sirloin sometimes netted the meat packers $192,000 a day in illegal profits during 1974 and 1975.

The two New England packing firms, now closed, were at one time supplying about 20 per cent of the 100 million pounds of beef — costing $250 million — purchased for the military each year.

Chiles said irregularities uncovered by his panel have been costing the taxpayers millions of dollars each year.

Chiles said the Army inspection system "works like a Rube Goldberg invention" and that the Pentagon probably could do better by hiring family shoppers living near military installations and giving them a shopping list to use at the corner supermarket.

Part of the problem, Chiles said, is that Pentagon specifications for steaks, roasts and hamburger are so rigid that only about 32 of the nation's 2,500 meat processors bother to bid for Army contracts.

"As the specifications are drawn tighter and tighter," he said, "the small circle of meat packers who will bid on military contracts is also drawn tighter and tighter."

"When only a handful of companies bid on contracts, and one of those companies cheats the government, the cheating company can underbid its competitors, either forcing honest meatpackers out of the military meat business, or forcing ing them to cheat as well," he said.

Chiles said the subcommittee focused its nine-month inquiry on the Boston branch of the Veterinary Inspection Service of the Army's Health Services Command.

Permit To Build River Dock At South Haven Requested

SOUTH HAVEN — Fred M. Peru, 22 Lake Shore drive, South Haven, has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers, Detroit, to construct a crib retaining wall and piers at the foot of Brockway avenue here.

Purpose of the work is to afford shore protection and to provide dockage for private pleasure craft.

The proposed wood pile and timber retaining wall with wood deck will be about 430 feet in total length. The crib will be filled with approximately 48 cubic yards of broken concrete. The applicant also proposes to dredge a 17 by 190 foot area to a depth of three feet below low water datum elevation. In order to provide adequate water depths along the retaining wall. The dredged material, approximately 2,500 cubic yards will be deposited shoreward of the retaining wall.

Seventeen proposed wood pile and timber piers will extend about 24 feet riverward from the face of the proposed retaining wall.

The Detroit office has also received application for an extension of time to complete work from Donald W. Olson.

Apache court, South Haven, to replace riprap shore protection in Lake Michigan offshore lot 13 of Southside Lake Shore subdivision.

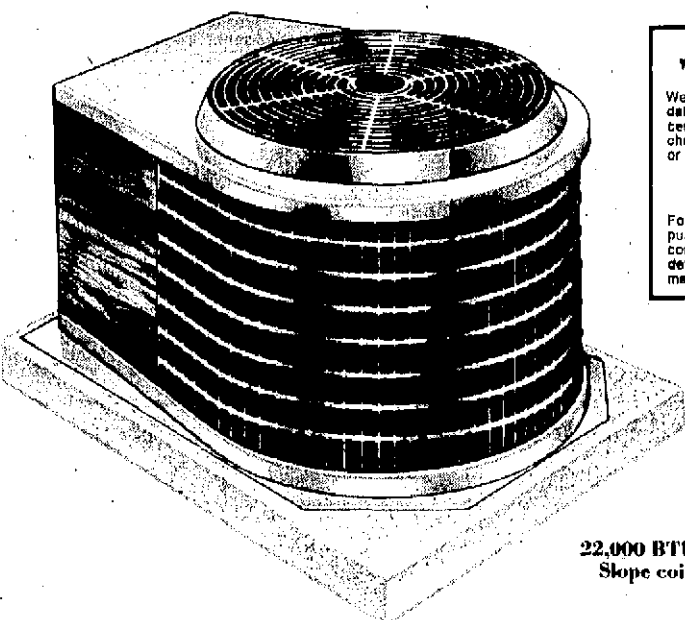

That part of the proposed work previously approved, which remains to be completed is the placement of about 74 linear feet of riprap shore protection, constructed of concrete blocks weighing 3,800 pounds each and about 200 cubic yards of concrete rubble.

Comments opposing either application must be filed with the Detroit office by the end of May.

Quake Zone Jolted By New Tremors

By MICHAEL J. DUFFY
Associated Press Writer
UDINE, Italy (AP) — New earth tremors shook quake-ravaged northeastern Italy before and after midnight, frightening survivors of last week's disaster, injuring several people and bringing down more small buildings.

Earlier in the evening a severe quake centered in the Ionian sea jolted Zakynthos and other Greek islands and parts of southern Italy. Thousands on Zakynthos spent the night in the open, but no casualties or damage was reported.

Nine more tremors were recorded in the Friuli region of northeast Italy that was devastated by the killer quake last Thursday. A woman was injured in Braulinz di Trasaghis when a house fell, and injuries were reported to several other persons. Many one-story and two-story buildings weakened by the big quake and more than 50 aftershocks collapsed in Maiano, Venzona, Osoppo, Moggi Udinese and Penos di Trasaghis.

The tremors were also felt in Venice, Trieste and Padua, but no damage or casualties were reported in those cities.

In Vicenza, 75 miles southwest of the destruction area, many of the 100 prisoners in the local jail climbed to the roof and demanded to be freed to insure their safety. Despite warning shots from guards, the convicts refused to return to their cells, and police surrounded the jail.

Many of Udine's 90,000 residents were spending the night at home for the first time in six nights. When they felt a particularly strong tremor just before midnight, they rushed back to cars, tents and other makeshift shelters.

The toll from Thursday's quake remained at 914 dead, more than 3,000 injured and about 80,000 homeless. About 400 persons are not accounted for.

A fireman was hospitalized with symptoms of typhoid in Udine, touching off fears of an epidemic. But health officials said most persons in the area have been inoculated.

Ford Hopes Michigan Will Brake Reagan Drive

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gerald Ford's name has been synonymous with Michigan politics for more than two decades, but for the first time next week his name will be on the ballot across the entire state.

Ford is hoping his home state will provide a brake for the advancing bandwagon of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who has sent the Ford camp reeling with four consecutive primary defeats. The recent Reagan surge also has left the President trailing in the delegate race.

Political observers initially considered Michigan a sure victory for Ford. But Reagan's spurt in Texas and Indiana, along with his courtship of Democrats favoring Alabama Gov. George Wallace, has prompted Ford campaign officials to schedule at least three days of appearances in Michigan in an attempt to lure an impressive Ford turnout for the May 18 election.

Anything less than a wide victory, observers say, could prove an embarrassment to the President.

The choices on the Republican side of the ballot for next Tuesday are clear: Ford or Reagan.

Here's how Ford defends his record and how he stands on the Issues:

ECONOMY

Ford says the nation's high unemployment rate is a result of inflation and an unstable economy and will take several years to resolve. His approach to lower the jobless rate has been to stimulate industry with tax incentives on the assumption that a healthier industry will hire more workers.

Ford opposes government hiring programs. "But the federal government can create conditions and incentives for private industry to make more and more jobs," he says.

Inflation is the result of excessive government spending in the past, the President contends. "More money must remain in private hands where it will do the most good," he says.

In general, Ford contends his policies are working. "Everything that is supposed to be going up, like the number of jobs in America, real earnings for the American workers, sales, investment, industrial production, all of these are on the increase. And everything that is supposed to be going down, like the rate of unemployment, the rate of inflation, the rate of growth in federal spending, even some prices, are going down."

TAXES

Ford has signed legislation extending the 1975 tax cut for the first six months of 1976. He is also proposing an additional $10 billion cut effective July 1. The action would mean $227 in additional take-home pay for the average family of four making $15,000 a year, Ford says.

His 1977 budget message calls for the personal tax exemption to be lifted to $1,000.

FOREIGN POLICY

Ford is continuing the Nixon policy of détente toward the Soviet Union and China, although he recently changed the title of the policy from "détente" to "peace through strength."

His Middle East policy is to promote negotiations among parties there, saying "the key elements for peace among the nations of the Middle East now exist."

The President also has rebuffed criticism of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, saying "not under any circumstance" would he want Kissinger to leave.

As for the Panama Canal, Ford has said the U.S. "will never give up its defense rights to the Panama Canal and will never give up its operational rights as far as Panama is concerned."

However, secret congressional testimony by Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker indicated a negotiating directive by Ford calls for a draft treaty which would result in the U.S. relinquishing control of the waterway.

ENERGY

The President's basic energy policy rests on encouraging discovery, development of domestic sources of fossil fuel and conservation.

BUSING

Although Ford is firmly opposed to busing to achieve racial balance in schools, he says, "Without any hesitation or qualification... if the court says something has to be done, it will be done, as far as this adminis-

INTELLIGENCE

"United States' intelligence capabilities must be the best in the world," Ford says. He has been critical of attacks on the FBI and the CIA, saying the "crippling of our foreign intelligence services increases the danger of American involvement in direct armed conflict."

But he has promised "no illegal tapings, eavesdropping, buggings, or break-ins by my administration."

ABORTION

The President favors giving each state the power to adopt its own regulations through legislation or public vote.

On other matters, Ford opposes all-inclusive national health insurance but has proposed catastrophic illness insurance to cover everyone now covered by Medicare.

He proposes a three-tenths of one per cent increase in the payroll tax to finance mounting Social Security costs.

He has defended his pardon of Richard Nixon and says he would do it again.

On crime, Ford is opposed to across-the-board gun control but wants some restriction on small, inexpensive hand guns.

"The way to cut down on the criminal use of guns is not to take guns away from the law-abiding citizen, but to impose mandatory sentences for crimes in which a gun is used, make it harder to obtain cheap guns for criminal purposes, and concentrate gun control enforcement in high-crime areas."

Ford Backer Fears Crossover Vote

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Some of the folks back home are starting to worry about President Ford's chances in Michigan's presidential primary next Tuesday.

"Jerry would do fine in a Republican primary. But from what we've been hearing, I don't know if we are going to get a Republican primary," said Clark Beiriger, a retired furniture manufacturer and consistent supporter of Ford.

His comment capsuled the reason for the fears. Michigan's primary is wide open. The state has no registration of voters by party.

Leaders of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan's campaign have appealed for Michigan supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace to cross from the Democratic primary into the Republican race.

Wallace captured the 1972 Michigan Democratic primary with more than 51 per cent of the vote. That margin of victory has been credited to GOP voters who had no primary contest of their own that year.

But George TerHorst, staff director for the Kent County GOP Committee, said, "90 per cent" of the Republican precinct delegates in Ford's home county back the President.

Although the county regularly gave Ford more than 80 per cent of its votes in his 13 congressional races, TerHorst predicted a slimmer margin in Tuesday's primary if any significant crossover vote develops.

Still, the President has plenty of friends and supporters in Grand Rapids.

Farrier School Tuition Is $800

MACOMB, Ill. (AP) — Under the spreading classroom roof, 14 smithies work for diplomas at Horseshoe U.

In what could be the noisiest school classroom in the country, there is a steady clang of hammers on anvils, the whoosh of hand-powered blowers and the red glow of forges at the Midwest School of Horseshoeing run by Roy Evans.

Evans has students from all over — California, Pennsylvania, Florida, and New York as well as Illinois. Tuition is $800 and he says it is going to be increased to $900.

"Horseshoeing is not a dying profession. There are more horses than ever," says Evans. "There are a lot of big stables, a lot of race horses, a lot of pleasure horses. Shoeing a pleasure horse costs about $10 and this has to be done several times a year. Hooves grow like fingernails and need lots of attention. Ride on concrete a lot and the shoes may wear out in a month or two."

"The hardest type of horse to shoe is one owned by a girl," he says. "It is her baby and she'd rather see you get hurt than her horse."

More Costly Water

DETROIT (AP) — A 39 per cent increase in water rates for Detroit and its suburbs that will mean an $8 annual increase for the average customer has been approved by Detroit City Council. The rate increase was approved Tuesday, 6-3, and will raise the cost of city water purchased by 95 suburban communities. The increase is immediate. Bert Burgoyne, an attorney for a group of suburban communities, said there was a "strong likelihood" of legal action if the 39 per cent increase was approved by city council.

Van Buren Jail Overcrowded, Sheriff Says

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Van Buren Sheriff Richard E. Stump warned Tuesday that he may be forced to reassign deputies from patrol work to county jail duties to handle serious overcrowding there. "I have an overcrowded jail and a limited amount of manpower," he told a meeting of the Van Buren board of commissioners. "I'll put you on notice today that the situation is going to be taken care of."

Stump said that this month the jail population has fluctuated from 65 to 77 prisoners in a facility that was designed for a maximum of 57. "The public is crying for punishment for people convicted of crimes and consequently the judges are giving longer sentences," the sheriff said.

Stump said he felt "boxed in the middle" between a mandate to take all prisoners committed by the courts and directives from the state Department of Corrections to limit jail population. "You take a jail with 57 beds and jam 80 people into it and you've got an explosive situation," he said.

Stump told commissioners that they "might as well forget about" active patrols because he plans to alter work schedules to place additional men in the jail for the extra supervision needed. Stump also outlined a number of proposals for dealing with the situation. He said a third floor could be added to the jail, or a new maximum security facility built, or a portion of the older part of the jail demolished and replaced with a new building.

But the plan he considered to be the most viable, Stump said, was some sort of minimum security facility which would require only a small amount of supervision. He said such a camp might be built on a shared east basis with Berrien and Cass counties, and could be designed for day parole and work release programs for prisoners not considered dangerous.

Last year, the number of inmates received at the jail climbed from 1,870 to 2,107, Stump said. The total number of days served rose from 19,541 to 23,181.

At one point, Stump and Finance Chairman Gerald Rendel engaged in a brief heated exchange after Rendel said the board could do nothing to build a new jail if it had no money. Stump replied that it was the board's responsibility, and not his, to find a solution.

Board chairman Walter Sticks indicated it may be necessary to go for a bond issue to finance additional room for inmates. "We cannot do the things we are mandated to do within the framework of the money we have," he said. "I think the minimum security facility is the answer. It's the cheapest way out and it would require the least manpower." But, as Stump noted, "Even if we start today we're at least three years away from having anything we can use."

Oselka Seeks Full Commission Term

Berrien County Commissioner Rolland Oselka, of New Buffalo, is the second county commissioner to file nominating petitions with the county clerk on the Republican ticket for the Aug. 3 primary.

Oselka, 34, was appointed to the county board in February to fill a vacancy created when Carl Gaudtke resigned to become drain commissioner. A former New Buffalo mayor, Oselka was first elected to the city council in 1972.

Commissioner Kenneth Wendzel, of Bainbridge

township, was the first to file nominating petitions, and Commissioner Bill Joseph, of Benton Harbor, has announced he will seek re-election, but has not yet filed petitions. Deadline for filing at the county clerk's office is June 1.

Oselka, who operates Snug Harbor inn in New Buffalo, is seeking his first full term as commissioner representing District 10, which includes New Buffalo township and city, Three Oaks and Weesaw townships, and the southern part of Chikaming township.

Van Buren Raises Jail Food Allowance

Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — An increase in the amount budgeted for meals for prisoners at the Van Buren county jail was approved by county commissioners yesterday over the objections of two board members who said they want a more thorough accounting of how the money is spent.

The board voted 7-2 to raise the per meal allowance from $0.85 cents retroactive to Jan. 1. Commissioners Ronald DeCook and Gerald Rendel voted against the increase, and said they will not be happy until they find out exactly how much of last year's meal allowance was actually spent for food and to pay the salaries of cooks.

Rendel said after the meeting that $38,000 was budgeted for food last year, but $55,360 was spent.

"I didn't feel we had adequate information," said DeCook. DeCook said when he and Rendel inquired as to how much of the allowance went for food "we were told (by other commissioners) that it's none of our business or that we were invading someone's privacy."

According to Commissioner Donald Hanson, the meal allowance is set up to include compensating Sheriff Stump's wife, Mary, for purchasing food and administering the kitchen. He said he did not know how much she received above cost last year.

He listed among the reasons for the increase, which would amount to about $3,000 this year, as rising food costs and increases in social security contributions for two cooks. Hanson said no increase had been made since 1973. He said one full-time cook was paid $6,844 plus social security of $401 last year, and a part-time cook $2,496 and $142 in social security, which came out of the allowance.

The commissioner added that of seven similar sized jails surveyed, Van Buren had the lowest meal allowance.

"I don't know of anyone we could go to do it any cheaper," he said.

Walter Sticks, board chairman, said that as long as the meals were being provided at the lowest rate, he did not really care how much profit Stump and his wife made.

Rendel said he was not disturbed by the meal increase, but rather by not knowing how much was spent for food. He said prisoner board has been budgeted for $48,000 this year, and that if the same number of meals are served as in 1975 the account would be some $11,000 in the red.

According to figures supplied by Stump there were 69,780 meals served at the jail last year, compared to 54,303 in 1974.

Reached at home last night, Stump said that if after being sheriff for 14 years, if any of the members of the board had any doubts about his integrity, all they would have had to do was sue the meal increase down.

He added that the meal allowance at the jail is the lowest in the state, and that earlier board members seemed to be satisfied with figures he supplied to a committee which handles jail affairs.

Stump said he did not comment at the meeting because he believed Sticks' statement that as long as the cost was kept low, it didn't matter what the profit margin was, summarized his feelings. He also said he did not care to get into a verbal battle with Rendel.

Voting for the increase were Hanson, Sticks, Boyd Estes, Edwin Twichell, James Wellington, George Fritz, and Mrs. Shirley Jackson.

In other areas, commissioners approved a list prepared by the county manpower board assigning priorities to various CETA jobs in the county. Roger Hoxie, county manpower coordinator, said that when most CETA funds expire June 30, it is expected that only 18 to 40 of 100 county CETA employees will be retained.

He said the list assigns retention priorities to police officers, ambulance attendants, and personnel working for agencies that have an effect on the whole county.

Commissioners approved by a 6 to 3 margin a proposal that will put programs for the aging and substance abuse under a tri-county Human Resources commission. Twichell said the joint program with Cass and Berrien counties will survey and review services and disperse grants. Hanson, Wellington, and Fritz, all of whom voted against the measure, said they feared programs were being regionalized at the expense of local control.

The board referred to the building and grounds committee the problem of overcrowding at the joint county health and social services building. A number of alternatives, including leasing the building to the state Department of Social Services and moving the health department to other quarters, were discussed during a lengthy conversation.

A. Robert Earl, county cooperative extension service director, also detailed recent

DONALD HANSON
Stepping down

crop damage caused by frost. He said a hearing will be held at 9 a.m. May 20 at his office for growers and processors which could lead to low-interest federal loans.

Pine Grove Seeks Township Clerk

GOBLES — The resignation of Henry VanEenwen as Pine Grove township clerk was accepted by the township board last night with the stipulation that he remain on as clerk until a new clerk can be appointed at the June 8 meeting.

VanEenwen was appointed clerk last December replacing Mort Westcott, who resigned after serving as township clerk for 16 years. VanEenwen said the duties of clerk were too time consuming for him, but he would remain on until the June meeting.

Supervisor Marshall Howrigan stated anyone wishing to be appointed clerk should send him a letter stating their qualifications and a new clerk will be appointed at the June 8 meeting.

However, anyone running for clerk as an official candidate in the August primary, must file nominating petitions with the township by June 1 to be placed on the ballot. Hence, anyone appointed at the June 8 meeting would only serve until the November general election, unless elected at that time.

In other areas, the board approved purchasing two tons of chloride for dust control on township roads. The chloride is available, free, to any township resident and can be picked up at the Kendall Mill.

The board approved purchase of 25 township zoning booklets from Westwood Printing Company, Kalamazoo. The booklets will be available to township residents for $10 each. Cost of the books in the township was over $9 each.

Van Buren Veteran Won't Run

PAW PAW — Donald Hanson, an eight-year veteran on the Van Buren county board of commissioners, announced yesterday he will not seek re-election in the fall.

The Hamilton township Republican said he had enjoyed his service on the board but wanted to devote more time to his family. Hanson is employed as a pattern maker at Star-Pattern, Benton Harbor, and also farms 50 acres of asparagus.

Last month, Commissioner Ronald DeCook (D-Grand Junction) announced he would not seek re-election to the board in order to run for 45th district state representative.

None of the other members of the nine-member board have formally announced whether they will seek re-election. Hanson, 37, is currently chairman of the board's administrative affairs committee, and over the last eight years served four terms as board chairman.

Hanson represents District 8, which includes Decatur village, Hamilton and Porter townships, and parts of Keeler, Decatur, Lawrence, and Antwerp townships.

Arrested

BLOOMINGDALE — Van Buren sheriff's deputies reported they arrested a man here and recovered a car about an hour after it had been reported stolen from South Haven yesterday afternoon. Deputies said Thomas R. Brown, 56, no permanent address, was lodged in the Van Buren county jail on charges of auto theft, carrying a concealed weapon, and having no valid operator's license.

The arrest came about 5 p.m. after deputies said they spotted a car outside the Village Market here matching the description of a vehicle reported stolen from Aaron Mikhbrandt, 1053 Monroe, South Haven. Deputies said they confiscated a knife with a six-inch blade during the investigation.

Allegan To Vote August 3 On Bridge Levy Renewal

ALLEGAN — The Allegan county board of commissioners voted 11 to 1 yesterday to put the renewal of a one-mill bridge rebuilding property tax levy on the Aug. 3 primary election ballot. The proposed millage, to run for five years, would yearly provide between $300,000 and $400,000 to be administered by the county road commission for bridge replacement or repair throughout the county.

County voters in the past have on two occasions approved one-mill levies for five years for bridge work. Louis TerAvest of Allegan cast the only dissenting vote against putting the levy on the ballot.

He had earlier tried unsuccessfully to get the board to permit townships to use their portion of the funds for roadwork as well as bridge construction. Cities can use their funds from the levy for roadwork, TerAvest said, and it is only fair that township have the same privilege.

Allegan township which TerAvest represents has no bridges. According to a county road commission report, more than 85 bridges have been replaced under the program in the past nine years and 10 more are scheduled for 1976.

After this year's work, there will remain 53 bridges in need of replacement or repair, the report said. In other action, commissioners approved the appointment of a special committee to begin work on the county board's 1977 budget.

The five-man committee is made up of representatives from both the finance and county services committees.

Those are the only two standing county board committees and there has been criticism that members of the county services committee should be in on budget development. Appointed by Jerry Lohman, county board chairman, were Commissioners John Vogelzang (Holland), Walter Bray Jr. (Hamilton) and Anthony Wykstra (Martin), all finance committee members, and Ralph Senes (Oshtemo) and James Rolfe (Allegan), members of the county services committee.

The board also set a special meeting for 7:30 p.m., May 25, for a public hearing on how it proposes to spend federal revenue sharing funds in 1977. The board will also consider other county business during the special meeting, commissioners said.

Ground-Breaking May 19 For Cass Medical Facility

CASSOPOLIS — Ground-breaking for Cass county's long-awaited construction of a medical care facility will be Wednesday, May 19, the Cass county board of commissioners announced yesterday.

The ceremony is to get underway at 9 a.m. at the construction site east of the present facility located south of here on Hospital road.

County voters in 1974 approved a $2,575,000 bond issue to pay for construction of a 76-bed facility for the aged and infirm.

It is to replace a 60-bed center built in 1932 and which has been under state health department mandate to make substantial improvements or shut down.

The present facility was spotlighted in a 16-page report presented to the county board yesterday criticizing some costs as being excessive and noting that the building was in need of a concentrated maintenance program.

The study was requested by the board in March after it said it could not afford to pay a $35,000 deficit the facility projected for 1978.

A Grand Rapids firm, the Vedore company, was contracted to perform the study at a cost of $2,400.

The study said one of the four people handling administrative duties was not needed and it said the central supply clerk's job could be eliminated.

It recommended a wide variety of cost-cutting and energy-saving measures be implemented such as fixing leaking faucets, replacing 100 watt bulbs with smaller ones, and installing insulation on coolers.

Many of the problems noted in the report apply only to the present building and will in larger apply when the facility moves into its new building.

Among the other comparisons

and recommendations:

— Administrative costs are about 60 cents per patient per day higher than they should be and $2 higher than a private nursing home.

— Gross operating costs are $29.90 per patient per day compared to $29.18, an average for all other similar operations.

— Wages and salaries were found to be consistent with other rural facilities.

— There are no guidelines for expenditures in the dietary department, and per diem laundry costs were about 50 cents per patient day higher than they should be.

— There were exposed electrical connections, leaking pipes and wasted energy in the heating system. These safety hazards should be repaired immediately, the report said.

In other action yesterday, the board voted to put on the November general election ballot a three-tenths of a mill property tax levy proposal that would help finance operations of the Cass county Council on Aging.

The one-year levy would raise about $75,000, commissioners said.

The board also appointed Commissioners Rexford Clark (Dowagiac), Donald Martin (Howard township) and Charles Sarabya (Dowagiac) to a committee to study the feasibility of an administrative assistant to the county board chairman.

John G. Verlington Concrete of Benton Harbor was low bidder for a contract to raise six houses near the courthouse. His bid was $4,385.

The cleared area will be used for courthouse parking.

Milliken's Confident In Jerry

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken said today his confidence that President Ford will win in Michigan next week was not shaken by Ford's defeat Tuesday by Ronald Reagan in the Nebraska presidential primary.

"The returns only reinforce my belief that Ronald Reagan's uphill candidacy must be shown for what it is — and the best way to do that is for the people of Michigan to express their support for their President next Tuesday," said Milliken, who is campaigning for Ford.

Milliken also said he remains confident Ford will win the GOP nomination next August and the presidency in November.

Ford supporters are urging Michigan Republicans to support their "favorite son" candidate. The Ford camp fears a large crossover by former supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace could give Reagan a dramatic victory in Ford's home state.

Oselka, 34, was appointed to the county board in February to fill a vacancy created when Carl Gnodtke resigned to become drain commissioner. A former New Buffalo mayor, Oselka was first elected to the city council in 1972.

Commissioner Kenneth Wendzel, of Bainbridge

township, was the first to file nominating petitions, and Commissioner Bill Joseph, of Benton Harbor, has announced he will seek re-election, but has not yet filed petitions. Deadline for filing at the county clerk's office is June 1.

Oselka, who operates Snug Harbor marina in New Buffalo, is seeking his first full term as commissioner representing District 10, which includes New Buffalo township and city, Three Oaks and Weesaw townships, and the southern part of Chikaming township.

Van Buren Raises Jail Food Allowance

Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — An increase in the amount budgeted for meals for prisoners at the Van Buren county jail was approved by county commissioners yesterday over the objections of two board members who said they want a more thorough accounting of how the money is spent.

The board voted 7-2 to raise the per meal allowance from 80 to 85 cents retroactive to Jan. 1. Commissioners Ronald DeCook and Gerald Rendel voted against the increase, and said they will not be happy until they find out exactly how much of last year's meal allowance was actually spent for food and to pay the salaries of cooks.

Rendel said after the meeting that $38,000 was budgeted for food last year, but $55,380 was spent.

"I didn't feel we had adequate information," said DeCook.

DeCook said when he and Rendel inquired as to how much of the allowance went for food "we were told (by other commissioners) that it's none of our business or that we were invading someone's privacy."

According to Commissioner Donald Hanson, the meal allowance is set up to include compensating Sheriff Stump's wife, Mary, for purchasing food and administering the kitchen. He said he did not know how much she received above cost last year.

He listed among the reasons for the increase, which would amount to about $3,500 this year, as rising food costs and increases in social security contributions for two cooks. Hanson said no increase had been made since 1973. He said one fulltime cook was paid $6,864 plus social security of $401 last year, and a part-time cook $2,496 and $142 in social security, which came out of the allowance.

The commissioner added that of seven similar sized jails surveyed, Van Buren had the lowest meal allowance.

"I don't know of anyone we could get to do it any cheaper," he said.

Walter Stickels, board chairman, said that as long as the meals were being provided at the lowest rate, he did not really care how much profit Stump and his wife made.

Rendel said he was not disturbed by the meal increase, but rather by not knowing how much was spent for food. He said prisoner board has been budgeted for $48,000 this year, and that if the same number of meals are served as in 1975 the account would be some $11,000 in the red.

According to figures supplied by Stump there were 69,780 meals served at the jail last year, compared to 54,303 in 1974.

Reached at home last night, Stump said that if after being sheriff for 14 years, if any of the members of the board had any doubts about his integrity, all they would have had to do was vote the meal increase down.

He added that the meal allowance at the jail is the lowest in the state, and that earlier board members seemed to be satisfied with figures he supplied to a committee which handles jail affairs.

Stump said he did not comment at the meeting because he believed Stickels' statement that as long as the cost was kept low, it didn't matter what the profit margin was, summarized his feelings. He also said he did not care to get into a verbal battle with Rendel.

Voting for the increase were Hanson, Stickels, Boyd Estes, Edwin Twitchell, James Wellington, George Fritz, and Mrs. Shirley Jackson.

In other areas, commissioners approved a list prepared by the county manpower board assigning priorities to various CETA jobs in the county. Roger Hoxie, county manpower coordinator, said that when most CETA funds expire June 30, it is expected that only 18 to 40 of 106 county CETA employees will be retained.

He said the list assigns retention priorities to police officers, ambulance attendants, and personnel working for agencies that have an effect on the whole county.

Commissioners approved by a 6 to 3 margin a proposal that will put programs for the aging and substance abuse under a tri-county Human Resources commission. Twitchell said the joint program with Cass and Berrien counties will survey and review services and disperse grants. Hanson, Wellington, and Fritz, all of whom voted against the measure, said they feared programs were being regionalized at the expense of local control.

The board referred to the building and grounds committee the problem of overcrowding at the joint county health and social services building. A number of alternatives, including leasing the building to the state Department of Social Services and moving the health department to other quarters, were discussed during a lengthy conversation.

A. Robert Earl, county cooperative extension service director, also detailed recent crop damage caused by frost. He said a hearing will be held at 9 a.m. May 20 at his office for growers and processors which could lead to low-interest federal loans.

Pine Grove Seeks Township Clerk

GOBLES — The resignation of Henry VanEeuwen as Pine Grove township clerk was accepted by the township board last night with the stipulation that he remain on as clerk until a new clerk can be appointed at the June 8 meeting.

VanEeuwen was appointed clerk last December replacing Mort Westcott, who resigned after serving as township clerk for 16 years. VanEeuwen said the duties of clerk were too time consuming for him, but he would remain on until the June meeting.

Supervisor Marshall Howrigan stated anyone wishing to be appointed clerk should send him a letter stating their qualifications and a new clerk will be appointed at the June 8 meeting.

However, anyone running for clerk as an official candidate in the August primary, must file nominating petitions with the township by June 1 to be placed on the ballot. Hence, anyone appointed at the June 8 meeting would only serve until the November general election, unless elected at that time.

In other areas, the board approved purchasing two tons of chloride for dust control on township roads. The chloride is available, free, to any township resident and can be picked up at the Kendall Mill.

The board approved purchase of 25 township zoning booklets from Westwood Printing company, Kalamazoo. The booklets will be available to township residents for $10 each. Cost of the books to the township was over $9 each.

Van Buren Veteran Won't Run

PAW PAW — Donald Hanson, an eight-year veteran on the Van Buren county board of commissioners, announced yesterday he will not seek re-election in the fall.

The Hamilton township Republican said he had enjoyed his service on the board but wanted to devote more time to his family. Hanson is employed as a pattern maker at Star Pattern, Benton Harbor, and also farms 50 acres of asparagus.

Last month, Commissioner Ronald DeCook (D-Grand Junction) announced he would not seek re-election to the board in order to run for 45th district state representative.

None of the other members of the nine-member board have formally announced whether they will seek re-election. Hanson, 37, is currently chairman of the board's administrative affairs committee, and over the last eight years served four terms as board chairman.

Hanson represents District 8, which includes Decatur village, Hamilton and Porter townships, and parts of Keeler, Decatur, Lawrence, and Antwerp townships.

Arrested

BLOOMINGDALE — Van Buren sheriff's deputies reported they arrested a man here and recovered a car about an hour after it had been reported stolen from South Haven yesterday afternoon. Deputies said Thomas R. Brown, 56, no permanent address, was lodged in the Van Buren county jail on charges of auto theft, carrying a concealed weapon, and having no valid operator's license.

The arrest came about 5 p.m. after deputies said they spotted a car outside the Village Market here matching the description of a vehicle reported stolen from Aaron Milbrandt, 1063 Monroe, South Haven. Deputies said they confiscated a knife with a six-inch blade during the investigation.

Allegan To Vote August 3 On Bridge Levy Renewal

ALLEGAN — The Allegan county board of commissioners voted 11 to 1 yesterday to put the renewal of a one-mill bridge rebuilding property tax levy on the Aug. 3 primary election ballot. The proposed millage, to run for five years, would yearly provide between $300,000 and $400,000 to be administered by the county road commission for bridge replacement or repair throughout the county.

County voters in the past have on two occasions approved one-mill levies for five years for bridge work. Louis TerAvest of Allegan cast the only dissenting vote against putting the levy on the ballot.

He had earlier tried unsuccessfully to get the board to permit townships to use their portion of the funds for roadwork as well as bridge construction. Cities can use their funds from the levy for roadwork, TerAvest said, and it is only fair that township have the same privilege.

Allegan township which TerAvest represents has no bridges. According to a county road commission report, more than 85 bridges have been replaced under the program in the past nine years and 10 more are scheduled for 1976.

After this year's work, there will remain 53 bridges in need of replacement or repair, the report said. In other action, commissioners approved the appointment of a special committee to begin work on the county board's 1977 budget.

The five-man committee is made up of representatives from both the finance and county services committees.

Those are the only two standing county board committees and there has been criticism that members of the county services committee should be in on budget development. Appointed by Jerry Lohman, county board chairman, were Commissioners John Vogelzang (Holland), Walter Bray Jr. (Hamilton) and Anthony Wykstra (Martin), all finance committee members, and Ralph Senses (Otsego) and James Rolfe (Allegan), members of the county services committee.

The board also set a special meeting for 7:30 p.m., May 25, for a public hearing on how it proposes to spend federal revenue sharing funds in 1977. The board will also consider other county business during the special meeting, commissioners said.

Ground-Breaking May 19 For Cass Medical Facility

CASSOPOLIS — Ground-breaking for Cass county's long-awaited construction of a medical care facility will be Wednesday, May 19, the Cass county board of commissioners announced yesterday.

The ceremony is to get underway at 9 a.m. at the construction site east of the present facility located south of here on Hospital road.

County voters in 1974 approved a $2,375,000 bond issue to pay for construction of a 76-bed facility for the aged and infirm.

It is to replace a 60-bed center built in 1932 and which has been under state health department mandate to make substantial improvements or shut down.

The present facility was spotlighted in a 16-page report presented to the county board yesterday criticizing some costs as being excessive and noting that the building was in need of a concentrated maintenance program.

The study was requested by the board in March after it said it could not afford to pay a $35,000 deficit the facility projected for 1976.

A Grand Rapids firm, the Vedere company, was contracted to perform the study at a cost of $2,400.

The study said one of the four people handling administrative duties was not needed and it said the central supply clerk's job could be eliminated.

It recommended a wide variety of cost-cutting and energy-saving measures be implemented such as fixing leaking faucets, replacing 100 watt bulbs with smaller ones, and installing insulation on coolers.

Many of the problems noted in the report apply only to the present building and will no longer apply when the facility moves into its new building.

Among the other comparisons

and recommendations:

— Administrative costs are about 60 cents per patient per day higher than they should be and $2 higher than a private nursing home.

— Gross operating costs are $29.96 per patient per day compared to $29.18, an average for all other similar operations.

— Wages and salaries were found to be consistent with other rural facilities.

— There are no guidelines for expenditures in the dietary department, and per diem laundry costs were about 50 cents per patient day higher than they should be.

— There were exposed electrical connections, leaking pipes and wasted energy in the heating system. These safety hazards should be repaired immediately, the report said.

In other action yesterday, the board voted to put on the November general election ballot a three-tenths of a mill property tax levy proposal that would help finance operations of the Cass county Council on Aging.

The one-year levy would raise about $75,000, commissioners said.

The board also appointed Commissioners Rexford Clark (Dowagiac), Donald Marlin (Howard township) and Charles Sarabyn (Dowagiac) to a committee to study the feasibility of an administrative assistant to the county board chairman.

John G. Yerington Concrete of Benton Harbor was low bidder for a contract to raze six houses near the courthouse. His bid was $4,365.

The cleared area will be used for courthouse parking.

Milliken's Confident In Jerry

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken said today his confidence that President Ford will win in Michigan next week was not shaken by Ford's defeat Tuesday by Ronald Reagan in the Nebraska presidential primary.

"The returns only reinforce my belief that Ronald Reagan's celluloid candidacy must be shown for what it is — and the best way to do that is for the people of Michigan to express their support for their President next Tuesday," said Milliken, who is campaigning for Ford.

Milliken also said he remains confident Ford will win the GOP nomination next August and the presidency in November.

Ford supporters are urging Michigan Republicans to support their "favorite son" candidate. The Ford camp fears a large crossover by former supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace could give Reagan a dramatic victory in Ford's home state.

Oronoko Schedules Hearing On Zoning

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The Oronoko township board last night scheduled a May 24 public hearing on the township's proposed zoning ordinance and map.

Alex Miskiewicz, township clerk, said if there are no serious objections to the proposals at the hearing, they will be recommended for adoption at the board's June meeting. The hearing is to begin at 8 p.m. in the township hall.

The proposed ordinance and map were prepared by the township planning commission.

In other areas, the board passed an ordinance prohibiting nuisances caused by dogs. The ordinance is aimed at controlling loud barking, destruction of property by dogs and uncontrolled vicious dogs.

Dog owners can be fined a maximum of $100 or sentenced to a maximum of 90 days in jail if convicted.

The board passed another ordinance regulating behavior in township parks and playgrounds. The new law prohibits drinking alcoholic beverages and littering and bans fires except in fireplaces.

The board voted to have Supervisor Robert Feather sign contracts with the St. Joseph engineering firm of Wightman and Associates for preparation of studies on township water and sewer needs.

The total cost for the water study was estimated at $1,000 and for the sewer portion, $1,200.

The studies will be undertaken in conjunction with similar studies in Berrien township, parts of Pipestone township and the villages of Berrien Springs and Eau Claire. The entire area has been designated a regional area for such a study.

The board referred to the planning commission a request from Roy Farrah for permission to construct a 100-foot high radio antenna tower in the vicinity of Lemon Creek and Lauer roads.

The board recommended the planners hold a public hearing on Farrah's request.

The antenna is to serve a base radio station to be located at the National Grape cooperative for communicating with harvester operators, according to Miskiewicz.

The Wightman engineering firm also won township approval to prepare a new road map of the township at a cost of $400. Miskiewicz said the new map is needed because some subdivisions are not shown on existing maps.

The board reappointed David Ladd and Ernie Hildebrandt to the planning commission for three year terms.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Stocks Settle Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices settled back today amid some evident disappointment over the market's mixed showing on Tuesday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off nearly 2 points in the early going, and losers took a 5-3 lead over gainers in the overall tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said some selling had been prompted by the market's inability to move past its previous high for the year in two attempts during Tuesday's session.

The Dow, which hit a high of 1,011.02 on April 21, reached the 1,010 level early Tuesday and again at mid-afternoon. But each time it dropped back again.

Today's early prices included Transco Cos., up 3/4 at 11 1/2 in a 176,600-share block trade; NCR, off 3/4 at 29; Kaufman & Broad, down 1/4 at 9 1/2; and Raytheon, up 1/2 at 54 1/2.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average slipped .87 to 1,006.61.

Gainers held a 7-6 edge on losers among NYSE-listed issues, but the exchange's composite index was off .06 at 54.84.

Big board volume climbed to 23.5 million shares, the heaviest total in nearly three weeks.

Gannett Co. Predicting Good Year

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Stockholders of Gannett Co. Inc. were told Tuesday that the newspaper chain expects good financial results this year and next, with 1976 earnings likely to be up more than 20 per cent.

Allen H. Neuhauser, president and chief executive who expressed the optimism at the annual meeting, said that, in view of the excellent near-term financial outlook, Gannett was turning priority attention to building a broader base to "insure future growth and success."

He said Gannett, which owns 53 daily newspapers, expects to launch more Sunday newspapers this year. It now publishes 28.

He also said the company plans to acquire additional newspapers, open a nationwide advertising sales agency July 1 with offices in New York, Atlanta, Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco, and strengthen the Gannett News Service.

Paul Miller, Gannett board chairman, urged shareholders to speak up "in their own way" against government regulatory and spending excesses.

"You can make your views known to your area political leaders and representatives," he said. "Telephone them. Go see them. Write a letter to the editor."

Miller said that President Ford's orders to try to eliminate 10 per cent of the 5,150 federal tax forms by July 1 was good news. And he said tax relief for investors has been proposed in the Congress.

"It isn't likely to be considered this year, Miller said, but 'the legislation is in the hopper.'"

Booklet Catalogues Industrial Sites

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

A booklet indicating many of Berrien county's potential industrial sites was previewed to the Berrien county planning commission yesterday and will be sent to local municipalities to assist in pinpointing prime industrial land.

The inventory of industrial sites, which took about one year to compile by the county's planning department, will be one of three volumes designed to entice new industry to Berrien county, according to Planning Director Charles Eckenstahler.

The first volume is one element of the county's Overall Economic Development plan and was compiled to show interested manufacturing firms where they might locate, what types of services are available and other information commonly sought by industries.

Eckenstahler told planners future volumes will concentrate on an analysis of industrial locations and building sites.

The data in the inventory is cataloged to provide a central source of information on prime industrial sites. Eckenstahler stressed the inventory is still considered preliminary, and local governmental units will be given an opportunity to supply further information. The booklet was compiled by asking for input from each local unit in the county.

The preliminary inventory shows two areas suitable for industrial development in each of the City of Benton Harbor, St. Joseph township, and Niles township, and one each in the Townships of Buchanan, Chikaming, Lake, Lincoln, and New Buffalo.

In another matter, county planners concurred with a recommendation by the Benton township planning commission that the township's commercial zoning ordinance be amended to permit the developer of Pipestone Mall to reduce the number of required parking spaces.

The recommendation will be forwarded to the township's board of trustees for consideration, since the final action is up to the board.

The developer, Meyer C. Weiner Co., of Oak Brook, Ill., requested the amendment to change the requirement from one parking space for every 100 square feet of store space to one parking space for each 200 square feet of store space.

Coroner's Jury Rules

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A jury in a coroner's inquest has found a Saginaw police officer did not break the law in shooting a man outside a Saginaw bar last month. But Saginaw County Prosecutor E. Brady Denton has yet to decide whether Patrolman Frank Tams, 22, will face charges in the April 12 slaying of John Limon, 29. After a four-day trial, the jury deliberated just over an hour before announcing the verdict to District Court Judge Joseph L. Scorsone. Tams, who has been on the Saginaw force for 2 1/2 years, and his partner testified that Limon had pointed a revolver at them. Tams said he shot at Limon was pointing a gun at him to prevent Limon from shooting him.

Faces Bond Hearing

DETROIT (AP) — A man who authorities said called the Secret Service and threatened the life of Democratic presidential candidate Morris Udall faces a bond hearing today. The U.S. Attorney's office said Richard H. Hildebrand, 50, of Detroit, was arrested at his home after he twice called Secret Service agents and made the threats. Hildebrand gave agents his name and address, the attorney's office said. Asst. U.S. Atty. Brian McCormick said the government will ask that Hildebrand be given psychiatric tests. Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of one year in prison.

Federal Grant For Rails

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.8 million federal grant has been made to Michigan for operation of 16 rail lines under the Railroad Reorganization Act, according to federal officials. The money will go to operate trains over little-used railroad lines that are not included in ConRail. The money is part of a subsidy program aimed at insuring rail service to communities that are on less traveled lines. The lines are unprofitable and would otherwise face abandonment by railroads. The subsidy formula calls for two years of complete federal funding and three years of funding in which costs of the subsidies are split between the state and federal government.

Existing Homes Outsell New Ones

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Many thousands of homebuyers in the past few years have chosen existing homes in preference to brand-new units, a review of housing statistics suggests.

Last year the ratio of existing home sales to new rose to nearly 3.7 to 1, after maintaining a national average for many years of 2.5 to 1. Some of the increase is attributed to a low homebuilding rate, but not all.

The attractions, housing and lending executives say, are price, size, location and quality. Existing home prices remain below those for new, and some existing units are larger and more detailed than new homes.

Moreover, existing homes often are within easier commuting distance to large cities than many homes built in the past few years.

Some buyers, it is believed, feel that a housing era may have passed and therefore have attached to existing homes an appreciation usually accorded items of older, antique value.

An estimate by Advance Mortgage Corp., the nation's second largest mortgage bank and subsidiary of Citicorp., puts at 3.1 million the number of existing homes sold in 1975. It said the figure is a record.

Philip C. Smaby, president of the National Association of Realtors, confirms the trend. Through 1975, he said, existing home sales remained strong, even though interest rates were relatively high.

Smaby estimates that existing homes often sell for $5,000 less than comparable new homes, whose prices have been forced up by rising costs of land, labor, money and materials.

Nevertheless, many realtors say, a strong desire still exists among Americans for the "old-fashioned" unit on its own lot, because it affords a feeling of freedom and independence.

Smaby and others believe that in order to accommodate the desires of homebuyers, while still keeping costs within affordable limits, builders must cut dimensions and some extras that Americans come to expect.

Advance Mortgage notes that existing home sales have increased 60 per cent since 1968, the first year for which realtors maintained a national index of the existing home market.

Sales this year are running 30 per cent ahead of last year's record pace, it notes, and adds: "existing home selling may be as close to a recession-proof business as we have in the country."

George R. Bender, senior vice president in charge of residential loans at the Detroit-based bank, observes that in some markets buyers put their names on waiting lists, and that sales agreements are made out in duplicate and triplicate in case the first or second potential buyers fail to qualify.

In some instances, he said, buyers put down deposits before even seeing the home. And in some prime residential areas, homes sell for more than the asking price.

Nevertheless, the company's statistics show that average prices on existing stocks remain about 18 per cent below prices for new houses, even though prices of both new and used homes have risen more than 30 per cent in three years. With the new home industry recovery from a recession that was far deeper than that for the real test of which is more attractive, the new or older home, will probably occur this year.

Merri Lynch, the nation's biggest securities firm, estimates that from a rate of less than one million at one point in 1975, new home starts will rise to between 1.5 million and 1.6 million units this year.

Still, it adds, that would leave the supply about 585,000 units short of demand, and thus provide one reason why sales of existing homes are expected to remain very strong this year.

The other reason, many builders, realtors and lenders believe, is that many Americans today are, for many reasons, strongly attracted to the existing home.

STILL SPYING

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Security Agency still eavesdrops on the international messages of many American citizens, although it no longer gets copies of all international telegrams, a Senate intelligence committee staff report revealed.

VW PLANT FORECAST: Leonard Woodcock, left, president of United Auto Workers of America, chats with West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt during visit this week in Bonn. ## Group Seeks Approval For New State Bank

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

BERRIEN SPRINGS — A group of Berrien Springs men has filed with the state Financial Institutions Bureau to form a new state bank here.

The group has named the bank, Heritage bank, and plans on locating it at University plaza.

Incorporators include three Andrews university alumni including L. Eugene Merkel Jr., of Wyoming, Mich., a Berrien Springs CPA, chairman of the organizing group. Also Wilson L. Trickett, AU professor of business administration and current chairman of special projects of AU alumni; and Loyal C. Oliver, retired businessman and land developer. Both Trickett and Oliver reside in Berrien Springs.

Others listed as incorporators include:

John D. Freeman, Berrien Springs, owner of Freeman Studios, a Berrien Springs advertising firm;

Owen F. Moore, Berrien Springs, local real estate investor and developer;

William R. Nelson, Berrien Springs, owner of the Cum Laude Motel, Berrien Springs;

Leon R. Slikkers, Holland, owner of S-2 Yacht Inc., a boat manufacturing firm in Holland, Mich.;

Leonard R. Smith, Berrien Springs, owner of Leonard Smith Construction company, Berrien Springs, and partner in Harbor City Building Systems Inc., Benton Harbor.

Trickett said the bank will be constructed on land adjacent to the northeast of Apple Valley Market at the University Plaza. He said the land has been saved by Andrews university as a possible site for a professional building and bank.

Trickett said the only connection AU has with the proposed new bank, is the fact that three of the bank's incorporators are Andrews alumni.

Trickett said the bank is being built to serve the entire Berrien Springs area community as well as Andrews personnel and students.

He said Heritage Bank is a new bank and new name, formed by the group.

Blood Test Required For Trek

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has signed an emergency rule requiring a blood test for all horses, ponies and mules that will ride with the National Wagon Train in Michigan as part of the Bicentennial celebration.

The so-called Coggins test is designed to see whether an animal has equine infectious anemia, an incurable disease also called EIA or swamp fever.

Dr. Duane Deming, assistant state veterinarian, said the state laboratories at East Lansing are "in pretty good shape" to handle the blood test analysis quickly so there will be no delay in the wagon train movement towards Valley Forge, Pa., where the Bicentennial program will be held in early July.

He said the blood tests were important because, "If just one animal gets sick at Valley Forge, then the finger will point back to Michigan, rightly or wrongly, and we just do not want that to happen."

VW Says Columbus Is Not Ruled Out

WOLFSBURG, West Germany (AP) — Volkswagen denied on Tuesday that Columbus, Ohio, had been ruled out as a possible site of an assembly plant in the United States, and again refused to discuss how many or which cities were being considered.

A spokesman repeated that a final decision will be announced in about six weeks, and called a report that Columbus was out of the running for the plant to assemble Rabbit models of the VW "a genuine case of false interpretation."

He said Volkswagen never made a statement that only two plant sites were still being considered.

Columbus has been mentioned along with two other cities as possible sites for the 5,000-job U.S. plant.

It is generally believed that a government-owned former tank plant at Brook Park, near Cleveland, Ohio, and an unfinished Chrysler plant at New Stanton, near Pittsburgh, Pa., are more likely candidates.

United Auto Workers president Leonard Woodcock, now visiting West Germany for an automotive congress, told The Associated Press on Monday it was his understanding after Sunday night talks with VW chairman Toni Schmuecker, that Brook Park and New Stanton were equally favored. Asked to confirm that this meant Columbus was out, Woodcock replied "I can't."

Meanwhile, Volkswagen reported this week it is again making a profit on the sales of its cars around the world after losing money for two straight years.

VW reported a profit of $53.6 million the first quarter of 1976, against a loss of $124 million in the same period in 1975.

According to the annual report, Volkswagen still had a loss last year of $62.8 million, but that was an 81 per cent improvement from the $322.8 million deficit run up in 1974.

Ford Credit Co. Offers Notes And Debentures

Ford Credit also announced that Standard & Poor, the credit rating service, has changed its rating of Ford Credit's outstanding senior notes and debentures from A to A plus.

AREA POLICE ROUNDUP

Troopers Report Grabbing Juvenile, Pistol And Car

A Benton Harbor boy was lodged at the Berrien county juvenile home early today after state police of the Benton Harbor post said they stopped a 1975 Cadillac and confiscated a loaded .32 caliber revolver.

Troopers said the boy, 16, was driving the car on I-94 in St. Joseph township when stopped shortly before 2 a.m. Troopers reported the car and gun were registered to the boy's father who told troopers he was unaware the boy was driving the car.

The youth was to be petitioned to Berrien juvenile court on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and unlawfully driving away an auto. Troopers said the boy was also ticketed for having no operator's license.

A Berrien Springs man told Berrien sheriff's deputies Tuesday a house he is constructing on US-33, Berrien township, was vandalized. Phillip Riess, route 2, Berrien Springs, said paint and varnish were smeared on walls in the garage, living room and kitchen and paint was chipped off walls throughout the house. No damage estimate was reported.

Juveniles Accused Of Bike Thefts

St. Joseph and Benton Harbor police apprehended two juvenile boys Tuesday resulting in the recovery of three bicycles and two baseball gloves allegedly stolen from two St. Joseph residents.

St. Joseph Patrolman Dennis Soucek said about 10:45 p.m., he stopped four boys on bicycles on Napier avenue near the St. Joseph river bridge after receiving a report of four suspicious youths in the area. He said they attempted to flee during questioning and he apprehended one, but the others escaped.

Benton Harbor Patrolman James Hartman a short time later apprehended a boy near the intersection of Woodward and Parker avenues, Fairplain. Soucek said a third boy was brought to the police station by his mother.

The boys, two 14 and one 15, all of Benton township, were turned over to the custody of their parents pending petitioning to juvenile court on charges of larceny from a building. Soucek reported one bicycle was recovered in an apprehension and two others were turned in by a mother, police said.

NEW CATHOLIC CARDINALS

Third World Gains Clout

By VICTOR L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has given an historic facelift to the Sacred College of Cardinals, reflecting his steady efforts to extend greater recognition and say to Roman Catholics in the Third World.

When 19 prelates, including Archbishop William Baum of Washington, are elevated to the purple in a secret consistory on May 24, Europeans will lose their majority in the exclusive body that elects popes.

It was only 16 years ago that Pope John XXIII named the first black African cardinal, Laurean Cardinal Rugambwa of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.

Now there are seven black African cardinals, including the first ever from Nigeria, Uganda and Senegal named by Pope Paul last month.

Ten of the 19 new cardinals come from Asia, Africa and Latin America, giving the Third World 43 representatives among the 118 cardinals who are under 80 years of age and thus eligible to vote for a pope in a conclave.

The Roman Catholic Church is ahead of other international bodies, including the United Nations," said Vatican official, a European. "The Third World may have the votes in the U.N. General Assembly, but not the votes in the Security Council where the power rests."

Greater representation does not necessarily mean that the Third World countries will decide the election of the next pope. It is believed they would have difficulty getting together as a solid bloc.

The betting is still heavily on the next pontiff being an Italian, despite Italy's slipping strength in the Sacred College.

But Vatican observers agree that Pope Paul has changed the face of the Sacred College, rejuvenating and internationalizing an institution once dominated by Italians, many of them elderly.

Pope Paul has been pushing the church's missionary work in the face of what he has admitted to be a declining feeling for religion in the world. He named the new cardinals from six continents — four from Africa, five from North and South America, two from Asia, seven from Europe and one from Oceania.

The new lineup gives Europeans 58 members eligible to vote for a pope — or less than a majority for the first time since cardinals began electing popes in the 12th century.

Italy still has the largest single group — 38 — but eight are too old to vote in a conclave, under a 1970 decree of Pope Paul.

The United States is next with 12, although one, Francis Cardinal McIntyre, retired archbishop of Los Angeles, is over 80.

Given the distribution of Roman Catholics in the world, the new lineup in the sacred college seemed inevitable, but the change was gradual.

"We have been moving toward a reality," said a priest involved in missionary work at the Vatican.

According to Vatican statistics, some 366 million, or more than half, of the world's 695 million Roman Catholics live in Asia, Africa or Latin America.

And by the end of the century, they are expected to greatly outnumber Catholics in the West.

Beyond the selection of cardinals, the Vatican under Pope Paul has been embarked on an attempt to localize the church in the Third World, removing the vestiges of European colonial rule.

In Africa, the pontiff has been appointing native prelates to head black African dioceses. When Portugal pulled out of Angola last year, the Portuguese bishop relinquished his post to a native black African.

The new cardinal from Senegal, Hyacinthe Thiandoum, was appointed the first-ever black bishop of Dakar in 1962, shortly after the African country achieved its independence from France.

In another turn, a majority of the new cardinals have pastoral duties as opposed to working in the Curia, the Vatican's central administrative body.

José L. Sin, the archbishop of Manila, who at 47 will be the youngest member of the Sacred College, in the past has battled with the martial law regime of president Ferdinand Marcos.

By contrast, the new Hungarian primate, László Lakai, has maintained good relations with Communist Hungarian authorities, according to sources in Budapest. He has contributed to the improvement of relations between the Holy See and Hungary, strained for many years when the late József Cardinal Mindszenty, a staunch anti-Communist, was Hungarian primate.

Now See Here! BY BERT BACHARACH

A BRITISH clairvoyant claims the color of one's eyes is a clue to his character. Gray — strong determination; hazel — loyal; blue — often cold emotionally; blue-gray — obstinate; brown — energetic, affectionate and shrewd; and green — artistic, jealous and possessive.

Graphology Note: When words start out clearly but end up with a serpentine, it's a sign of a person who can talk for hours and tell you nothing.

Many Taureans (April 20-May 20) are deeply emotional, but they will never show it if they can help it.

Doodles which are just straight lines, one under the other, show self-control. Vertical lines, one next to each other, show self-confidence.

Mother Goose Updated: "Little Bo-Peep has lost her sheep and

BEAUTY HINT: Girls who want to keep smooth pretty necks should do the turtle exercise — just extend and retract your neck many times as a turtle does.

Overworked Expression: "It's only money."

Famous' Last Words: "The girl I marry will have to reconcile herself to the fact that there'll be only one boss in the family — and that'll be me!"

May is Home Improvement Month. (Get a house-lift!).

Cornell University nutritionists say if you have trouble sleeping, reach for a small snack instead of a sedative, because it's natural to want to sleep after eating.

Exercise Tip from Terry (Century West Club) Robinson: To tone arms and bosom, slung with feet astride, then swing arms overhead and clasp hands. Reverse swing and clap hands behind hips.

Recommended Diet: "No!"

Tip from Juey: Heurthertan: "Remember to wash your face with an upward motion. Washing downward might eventually lead to a sagging chin."

KITCHEN-SNOOPING: To give a baked potato extra zest, rub the skin with a lemon rind before baking (Chasen's, S.F.).

For a tasty and different salad, add finely-chopped apples and sliced tangerines to the mixed greens (A reader).

A blend of one cup of brown sugar and quarter cup of dry mustard brushed onto a ham will provide a delicious crusty glaze after baking (Stratton's, Forest Hills).
